Paving Progress

Hauling of crushed rock on the Pacific Highway is delayed this week for lack of cars of the rock. This comes from a quarry in Marion county and the quarry has had so much work they find it difficult to supply orders. As the local crew has been considerably ahead of the hot stuff crew, they felt privileged to lay off here for the benefit of other places. However, shipments to Monmouth are promised shortly. The asphalt crew working out of Independence has made steady progress this week and are approaching the turn in the road to the south. By next week they should reach Monmouth, and traffic with Independence can be resumed over the old route. In fact considerable travel has been resumed this week, the paving having reached a point where it is possible to go around the actual work and the main highway is available for the rest of the way.
