IN THE NEWS OF THE DAY—When the army sells food at cost. Millions back soldier pay plea. Nation watches Iowa truck express.

Battling Mr. High Cost of Living has developed some interesting and effective action all over the land. These late news pictures show results.

The line of waiting market baskets shows how people of Akron lined up to buy at the sale of Army food which the government has been distributing at cost in cities all over the nation. The big pile of bundles on the steps of the capital at Washington is of the 6,100,000 petitions for six months pay for soldiers, sailors and marines. Homer Sheridan is presenting them to Geo. A. Sanderson, secretary of the sen-

The truck load of poultry shows how the nation is attempting to profit by the example of Iowa's motor express lines. Official recommendation has been made in New York that all army motor trucks be turned to the Postoffice department and put to work carrying perishable foods direct from the country to the city consumer eliminating the profiteer's grab
