Treasury Department's Plan to Award Hand Grenades
Blocked

The War Department has cancelled its contract to supply the Treasury Department with 15,000,000 hand grenades which were to be converted into savings banks to stimulate the sales of War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates, according to a telegram received by C. A. Farnsworth, associate director of the War Loan Organization in the Twelfth Federal Reserve District, from Washington. Banks and Trust Companies of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District had ordered nearly 100,000 grenades before news of the cancellation was received.

The telegram to Farnsworth read:
"As the War Department has determined that the distribution of hand grenades as souvenirs should be discontinued, and has cancelled its arrangement for supplying grenades to the Treasury Department to be manufactured into grenade savings banks, the Treasury is unable to continue the distribution of the banks."

In order, however, to recognize the efforts of the children in working and saving during the vacation time, each one who would be entitled to a bank will receive a certificate of achievement from the Treasury in appreciation of his industry in saving and buying government securities."

The hand grenades were known as Mills bombs No. 11 and were ready for shipment to American forces in France when the armistice was signed. "I am deeply disappointed as I know the people who looked forward to receiving one of these war souvenirs will be," said Mr. Farnsworth. "However, I feel sure that thrifty, patriotic folks who are investing regularly in War Savings Stamps will continue to help the government."

The Story of a Turret Captain Promotion in the Navy comes quickly to those who qualify for higher ratings. In March 1899 A. P. Nielson enlisted in the Navy as an Apprentice Seaman, 3rd class.
In April 1907 he was rated Chief Turret Captain. His pay today is $165.76 per month.

A man's life — among men!

Reel them off—"Rio", Gibraltar; Ceylon, Yokohama—all the great ports of the world—are they only places on the map to you—or are they ports where you've gone sailing in from the high seas with every eye along the shore turned admirably on your big ship—your ship! Every ocean has a United States ship sailing for some port worth seeing.

If you've any call in you for a full life—join, and color all your years ahead with memories of things worth seeing—with knowledge worth having—with an inexhaustible fund of sea tales and adventures picked up ashore and aboard that will make you a welcome man in any company.

Work?—sure, and a man's work it is, among men.
Play?—well, rather, with a bunch of men who know how to play.
These comrades of yours carry in their ears the sounds of great world cities, of booming guns, of swashing seas—sounds you will share with them and that will never die away.
And when you come home, you'll face life ashore with level eyes—for Uncle Sam trains in self-reliance as well as self-respect.
The Navy builds straight men—no mollycoddles.

Enlist for two years. Excellent opportunities for advancement.
Four weeks holidays with pay each year. Shore leave to see land sights at ports visited. Men always learning. Good food and first uniform outfit free. Pay begins the day you enlist. Get full information from your nearest recruiting station. If you do not know where the nearest recruiting station is, ask your Postmaster. He knows.

Biliousness

WHEN you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting. This inflames the stomach and causes nausea, vomiting and a terrible headache. Take Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever. There is nothing better.
