

When a Farmer Quits Work

Where does he go?
What does he do?
How does he live? Well, the retired farmers have their own little Paradise, says

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

and there they spend their days basking in the sunshine, watering the lawn, dodging the real-estate highbinders, eating at the cafeterias, boosting the climate. Farmers, stockmen, dairymen—thousands of them pack the old bankroll into the old jitney each year and hike for Paradise.

Freeman Tilden has lately been there for THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN, and, with his humorous spectacles on, he has watched the retired farmers at work and play. He has written several articles which will be run as a series. At the same time there will start another great new series, "Doing His Best with What He's Got"—real stories of farmers who are successful in a small way—and happy in a great way. The first article of each of these series will appear in the issue of THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN that will come to you next week, if you send me, with your name and address, one dollar for a whole year's subscription—$2 big, vitally helpful issues—and send it TODAY.

MISS JOY TURNER Of Salem Oregon will accept violin pupils for the winter each Monday of the week at the training school building.

She is a graduate of the Willamette University School of Music, of Salem and of the Western Chicago Conservatory of Music. Later she entered the New England Conservatory of Music at Boston where she did post graduate work and also served as an instructor in the violin department there. Miss Turner was head of the violin department and piano instructor at Willamette University for five years, resigning that position two years ago in order to devote her time to private teaching.

For further information call Miss Schuette, Music Dept. Oregon Normal.

Magazine prices go up November 10. Time is short. Send your order at once to Mrs. E. R. Ostrom, Magazine Specialist.

As a feature of the lecture given by Dr. Banks last Saturday night a contest was staged among the training school students for a large flag, the flag to go to the room which secured the largest attendance, one vote for each person who attended. In a close race the fifth and sixth grades won and Miss Sen-ska accepted the flag with an appropriate speech.

Byron White and family from American bottoms visited Sunday at A. B. Morlan's.

Mrs. Lizzie Bowman and son Charles drove to Salem Thursday to attend the funeral of Mr. Fugate, a former citizen of Monmouth and a close friend of the Bowman family.

A hunting party composed of Messrs. Philips, Prime, Bresler, Cornwell and Ostrom left Monday morning at 3 a. m. for the Alsea country. The party is headed by Mr. Philips who is not without fame in his own country in the hunting line, and is somewhat familiar with the wilds of the Alsea.

Miss McIntosh writes that when she arrived at a certain hotel on her journey a dining room episode was the popping of corks at a nearby table from bottles that gave forth an odor she had not scented for a long time. "How is this?" she queried. "Why this is Wisconsin" was the reply. It appears that beer in Wisconsin is supposed to contain more than 24 per cent of alcohol to be classed as an intoxicant.

Mrs. J. W. Pember and two small sons and Grandma Pember were visitor in Portland last week-end.

Grangers, don't forget that Pomona meeting Saturday at Oak Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Gilmore motored to Salem Wednesday evening.

A jolly party was given in the Odd Fellows hall last Thursday evening by the Rebekah lodge. The decorations were of a Halloween nature; the dim lights and the ghostly clad figures who served the refreshments were in keeping with the occasion. Several musical numbers were given and a number of lively games were played. The evening closed with dancing.

John Ostrom underwent an operation for the removal of his tonsils at Saturday at the Deaconess hospital.

James Gentle grew some vetch this past season that appeared to be about the best in the country. He took a sample of it to the county fair where the above judgment was confirmed and it was awarded first prize. James also won second prize on orchard grass and third on winter wheat.

Ben Pollan is farming at present for A. N. Halleck and C. C. Lee.

Want To Sell?

We have agencies established throughout the Northwest and California selling property who are going to buy again. If your place is listed with us, a copy of that listing giving a complete description and full particulars is sent to each of our agencies where it is shown to everyone who has sold out—and contemplates buying elsewhere. This means that your property is listed not in one office but many, not in one community but through the Northwest.

Want to Trade?

If your place is listed with us to trade we place a copy of the listing in each of our offices and once a week it is laid along side all the other properties and compared until a matching is made that meets your wants. We can match any reasonable proposition.

WANT TO BUY?

We have a local representative in each town and community where we have an agency who is under contract to give a true and accurate description of each property listed by him and never to make personal recommendations unless he has unquestionable knowledge upon which to base his opinion. By having before him the listings of all our agencies he can by comparison quickly tell whether a property is being offered at a reasonable price or not. Covering the territory and having the real range of properties that we do we never have need to resort to so called salesmanship, but are able to give our clients what they want. It must be clear to anyone that we can save our clients time and traveling expense by giving them the facts about the properties listed with us.
