D. F. Fisher, government plant pathologist at Wenatchee, Wash., has been directed by the secretary of agriculture to make an investigation of the frozen orchard in the Willamette valley and ascertain if there is not a possibility of saving many trees. A request for the investigation was made by Senator McNary, who has been informed of serious damage to the walnut and prune orchards around Salem by reason of the December cold spell.

Announcement was made at Portland by W. K. Newell, federal food administrator for Oregon, that the price of 18 cents per pound, retail, for cane sugar will be permitted at this time, owing to the prevailing high rate wholesale. Mr. Newell also made public a decision of himself and of United States District Attorney Humphreys that dealers will not be allowed to compel patrons to accept at the higher figure cane sugar of a certain quantity in order to obtain beet sugar at the 13-cent rate.

The rabbit poisoning campaign in the west end of Umatilla county under the direction of the county agricultural agent, Fred Benton, has proved a big success. Colonel J. F. McNaught, county farm bureau project leader, secured the cooperation of 106 ranchers who prepared six tons of alfalfa poisoned with strychnine and scattered it over the snow over a front of nearly 100 miles, to protect 20,000 acres of cultivated land. Counts were made on six representative lots of poison totaling 99 pounds and 1237 dead rabbits were found. Using this as a basis it is safe to say that at least 200,000 rabbits were exterminated in this campaign.
