George B. Foster of Dayton was a visitor at A. Parker's Friday.

Ira Crabtree was here from Albany Sunday to visit with relatives.

The lid was placed on Falls City last week because of flu.

Mr. B. Wise Says: Why Don't You Sleep at Night

"Sleep, O Gentle Sleep—Nature's Soft Nurse, how have I frightened Thee, that thou no more wilt weight my eyelids down, And steep my senses in forgetfulness."

Nature

Has provided sleep, that great balm to hurt minds—sleep that knits together the nerves for another day's arduous duties.

But

Many cannot sleep.

Sleeplessness

Or insomnia, is one of the prominent symptoms of eye strain.

There

Is danger that it will lead to other disorders.

Glasses

Carefully fitted to the needs of the eye, will so often soothe the nerves and make sleep possible to the sleepless.

J. F. McClellan was a week end visitor in Portland.

Dr. Matthis and family arrived yesterday from Salem and are now residents of Monmouth.

Lucian Arant of Portland spent the week end with relatives in Monmouth.

Cecil Price and wife of the Luckiamute country were business visitors in town Monday.

Ranie Burkhead was home from Eugene this week for a brief vacation.

H. Hirschburg is back in Independence after an absence of several weeks in Southern California.

The J. H. Thurston farm near Saver has been sold to Lawrence Compton of Wolf Creek, Montana.

C. M. Lewis, stockman of Lewisville, was here Tuesday on business and shaking hands with friends.

Mrs. James Riddell and Mrs. Ernest Riddell were recent visitors to the Capitol City.

Mrs. G. Sullivan and Miss Ina Fishback were Salem visitors Tuesday.

Miss Williams, former Normal student, now a teacher in Corvallis, was a visitor in this city this past week end.

Elmer Rake and family have moved back from Carlton and are occupying their house on Main street.

Mrs. C. C. Lee spent Saturday in Corvallis. Her daughter, Mrs. Mary Tate was a visitor here Sunday.

Jas. S. Stewart of Portland preaching the gospel of good roads, was a visitor in Monmouth Thursday.

This week is vacation time at the state University in Eugene and all of our young people there are with the home folks.

Mrs. Mary Guy of Dallas died March 22. She was born in Ohio in 1838 and came to Oregon when 9 years of age. Since 1875 she lived in Dallas.

Frank Mulkey, a former resident of Independence, is reported killed in one of the logging camps on Mary's peak. He was "head hooker".

Richard Cayzer of Portland, who was student of the Normal the first of the year, came down from the city to take in the Junior Day pleasantries and while here was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Gilmore.

At a meeting of Pomona Grange held Saturday at Oak Grove the Higher Educational Tax bill was unanimously endorsed as was also the two mill school tax bill. Brush college has recently organized a Grange and its representatives took a part in Pomona Grange for the first time.

Reports from State School Superintendent J. A. Churchill show that there will be a shortage of 500 teachers or more in the State of Oregon if the State Elementary School Bill does not pass, at the May election. This Bill provides for a Two Mill State Tax, to be placed upon all the taxable property of the State of Oregon. Each county will receive back the same amount that it pays in. The money will be apportioned according to the number of teachers instead of the number of pupils. According to this apportionment each one room school in Polk county will receive $316 from the State. Two room school, $632. Three room school, $948, and so on each room allotted $316. This would remove a good deal of inequality existing among rich and poor districts.

Revival Meetings

The revival meetings at the Christian church continue with interest and good attendance. The house has been full to its capacity several times. Several conversions have been reported this week. The meetings will continue over next Sunday. The services for Sunday morning will be in harmony with the Easter spirit, with an Easter sermon and music. The following topics are to be discussed yet: The Devil and his angels.; The Church of Christ and its necessity; The Bride elect; Seeking the old paths; The new birth; Whosoever will, and others.

There will be an Easter program given at the Elkins schoolhouse on Sunday morning. Sunday school will be held at the regular hour, ten o'clock. Following this will be a program of music, pantomime and exercises.

Mr. Raymond Attebery of Salem will give a short address.

Blame the Flu

This little poem by Miss Jessie Webber was written some time ago but will serve to call up recollections to the many who were afflicted.

Now's the time of year, so poets say,

To write great poems about the Spring.

To tell the world about the joys of May,

And all that sort of thing.

But now, this year there's got to be a change—

And that is what I'll now tell you

Don't tell me that the Spring is on the plains—

Because I've got the "Flu".

Education

W. H. Book has said: "We must educate the coming generation or take a backward step. We must train them in body, mind and soul. Train them in body, and we have trained animals; train them in body and mind and we have civilized animals; train them in body, mind and soul, and we have Sons of God. Weaken our schools, and you weaken our republic. Place over our children incompetent teachers, and you will weaken our schools. We cannot have the best teachers unless we are willing to pay the price. What shall it profit us if we raise the best hogs, the best corn and have the best farms in the United States if we lose our boys and girls." Mrs. Maek.

Dr. J. O. Matthis, who for the past eighteen months has been practicing medicine here in association with Dr. Clements, will leave in a few days to resume his former work in Monmouth. Dr. Matthis has made a host of friends in Salem and vicinity who will regret his leaving, and this is true not only of his patients, but particularly of the medical profession, with whom his associations and dealings have been most agreeable. For the present Dr. Matthis will continue to look after a part of his practice here, and will be at Dr. Clements' office each Tuesday afternoon for consultation with those who desire to see him.—Capital Journal.

Points the way

The Statement of This Salem Resident will Interest Our Readers

Our neighboring town, Salem points the way in the words of one of its most respected residents:

J. H. Penton, 1405 Lee St., Salem, Ore., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have done me a lot of good in the past and gladly endorse and recommend them. On several occasions, cold settled in my back in the region of my kidneys, causing pain through the lower portion of my back. I know from disorders that my kidneys were to blame. Knowing how highly some of our Salem citizens endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills, I started using them, and found them just the thing to rid me of the pains and disorders. A few of Doan's always relieved me of rheumatic pains so I cannot help but speak highly of this fine kidney remedy."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Penton had. Foster-Milburn Co, Mfrs, Buffalo, N. Y.

This issue of the Herald goes as a sample copy to a number of people not now on its subscription list. The home newspaper not only keeps you posted on occurrences in your neighborhood, gives you the news about persons with whom you are acquainted, forms a link in that cooperative scheme of association with your fellows on which civilization is based, but does it at a price far less than any other service is rendered you. In the home newspaper you want the home news and do not be misled into thinking you can get this home news in newspapers published in some distant town. You do not buy food or clothing for the purpose of helping some pretty girl get a piano or an automobile. If you do you are morally certain to get stung. Why buy your home news that way. There is just one way to get the Herald and that is by paying the subscription price. $1.00 for 6 months or $2.00 per year. Read it over and see if you don't think it is worth the price and then send in your subscription.

"The Century Maid"

Written for the Class of 1921 by Carl E. Moore

Marvelous Maid—this Twentieth Century—
Daughter of Peace, yet a Joan of Arc!
Lavender shades from the dawn of her youth have flown;
Yellow beams are replacing the dark.
Proudly she stands in knowledge of ripened power,
Fully aware she's come to her own.
Marvelous Maid is this Twentieth Century,
Now to glorious womanhood grown.
When the girlhood days are over
When the boy becomes a man,
When the child-play turns to labor
Fitting God's eternal plan,
Then these fresh, keen men and women
Strive for all that's fine and true.
So our Century's begun;
So the Class of Twenty-O,ve
Takes up the work to "See it Through".
Yellow the rose, reflecting the full grown day,
Radiant face lifted up to the light,
Emblem of youth in the flush of maturity,
All aglow, ever joyous and bright;
Fit to adorn this Marvelous Maid of ours,
Matching her shining blue-grey eyes,
Matching the golden success that she must achieve
In the life that before her lies.
