

Maurice Browne Players at Chautauqua

Will Present Charles Kenyon's Powerful Drama "Kindling"

Coming as a feature attraction for Chautauqua audiences this year in the South and West is the production of "Kindling," by the Maurice Browne players. This powerful drama written by Charles Kenyon, made a record-breaking success in New York by running two years. It is one of the plays of recent years that seems destined to live. It reaches deep into the hearts of people everywhere and leaves a profound impression. The problem raised is age-old and one that must be faced and solved.

The Maurice Browne players is a company of finished artists, headed by Moroni Olsen and Janet Young and coached by the eminent playwright, Maurice Browne of New York, one of the pioneers of the Little Theater movement in America. With his wife, Ellen Van Volkenburg, he was founder and co-director from 1912 to 1915 of the Chicago Little Theater, which in the words of Clayton Hamilton, "made a name for itself that is known throughout the English-speaking world."

WISE OBSERVATIONS

Mighty few men ever quit trying to make money.

Even in a righteous cause no man should fight unfairly.

It takes only one shady trick to ruin a good reputation.

Here's hoping the switchmen will soon get back to the main track.

Be sure you're right, then stay where you are, is sometimes good advice.

A lot of men have ideals, but they want them always to be convenient.

The counterfeiter is always hoping to find people willing to return good for evil.

The sure way of getting publicity is to do something you don't wish to have known.

The worst handicap every good movement has to suffer is the boiler-plate man.

A man never thinks there's much harm in gossip until somebody begins to whisper something about him.

The reason scandal mongers keep busy is because they can always find people willing to take their wares.

Why Germany is Depressed.
According to returns from 32 trades unions in Germany, covering in the aggregate 4,256,368 members, 110,626 (2.6 per cent) were out of employment at the end of October, 1919, as compared with 2.2 per cent in September of the same year and 0.7 per cent in October, 1918. Unemployment among men increased from 1.7 per cent in September to 2.3 per cent in October chiefly in consequence of the suspension of building operations and the unsuccessful strike of the Berlin metal workers. Among women, unemployment decreased from 4.1 per cent in September to 3.9 per cent in October, principally on account of the improvement in the textile industry.

SISTERS ARE FREE AFTER TEN YEARS

Were Kidnaped From Home and Pinned in Madhouse—Fortune Lost.

Central Islip, N. Y.—Miss Phoebe Brush, sixty-eight years old, and her sister, Ada, fifty-six, heirs to property valued at $1,000,000, who have spent the last ten years in the State Hospital for the Insane here, when they should have remained there only ten days, have been set free by the supreme court. During the period of their imprisonment their estate dwindled until it is now worth only $30,000.

Justice Tompkins ruled that the women were sent to the asylum illegal-

Luck and Lack

Don't trust to luck. Luck is untrustworthy. Systematic, scientific striving for any goal is far more likely to bring you success than any mere faith in your success.

Just as changing a single letter changes "Luck" to "Lack," so will the reverse of a single day change plenty to want. But you can insure yourself against this by building your success on the habit of saving.

Save and Win

Be well dressed. Make friends. Increase your influence in your community. Enjoy the respect of all your associates.

These things do not come to those who trust to luck for them. Systematic saving will win them for you. Systematic saving will accumulate for you a small fortune that can safely and readily be expanded to a large one.

It's the Fixtures that Make the Silo

Compare Our Fixtures with Others

There's a big difference in the "fixtures" you get at the prices asked for different silos.

Compare fixtures when you buy a silo. It is the fixtures that make a silo. Durability, security and stability are determined by the anchorage, the size, quality and number of cables, hoops, lugs and staples. Convenience and ease of getting at your silage for use are determined by the door and ladder construction.

Many silos are priced without hinged doors or ladders.

In other words, you pay as "extras" for necessary conveniences without which your silo is incomplete. Notwithstanding our lower price, we include more and better fixtures than many who ask more for their silos. In some cases we supply more of a given item than others, as in anchorage cable. In others, our fixtures are stronger or better in whatever vital point determines their value. Keep this ad and check our fixtures as described above, with those offered by other silos. Don't pay more and get less, or buy half a silo when you can get a complete one.

The sisters said that they were kidnaped and taken to the asylum.

"We were nursing our invalid mother," said Miss Phoebe, "when four men and several women rushed into our home, picked us up bodily and hustled us into an automobile and then whizzed us away to the madhouse."

At the time of the commitment, it was reported they had been sent to the asylum after Ada had announced she was to wed a clergyman, declaring he had "made eyes" at her during the sermons. The church was guarded when the clergyman later married another woman, "for fear the sisters would appear and create a disturbance."

KIDS LIVE AS MAN AND WIFE

Boy, 16, and Girl, 12, Quit School and Take Up Housekeeping in Abandoned Shack.

Pueblo, Colo.—After a period of some length, during which they played truant from school near here, Joseph Martinez, sixteen years old, and Margaret Rinz, twelve, were found in an abandoned shanty apparently living as man and wife.

An investigation was begun after the parents of the young people had been notified they were not attending school, and a policeman located the youngsters when he saw the girl scrubbing the floor of the old shanty. Martinez and the girl declare they attempted to get a marriage license, but were refused because of their ages. The parents, after finding the couple, agreed to their marriage.
