A BILL THAT SAVES MONEY

Creates No New Offices

Puts All County Offices on Same Basis By Making Terms of Equal Length

Efficiency, more capable public officials, and reduction of expenses are the three most important elements to be considered when an amendment to our constitution is before us for initiation.

The initiative measure Nos. 308 and 309 for the amendment of the constitution of the State of Oregon in the matter of increasing the term of office of certain county officials—that is, county clerk, coroner, sheriff, surveyor and treasurer, if ratified by the vote of the people in the election November, 1920, will undoubtedly result in a more capable and efficient type of official will give the taxpayers less expense and will result in greater efficiency in the work of these various officials.

The undersigned recommend this amendment for the increasing of the term of office of county officials for ratification by the voters of this state for the above reasons, and because of the following further advantages which will accrue to the taxpayers of this state if this amendment is passed and becomes a part of the Constitution of the State of Oregon. Capable men will much more readily run for office when they are assured of a four-year term in case they are elected, inasmuch as a two-year term merely means that by the end of the first year when they are beginning to get acquainted with the duties of their office they must start a campaign for re-election, which involves considerable expense on their part in addition to the worry and attention, and lessens their efficiency in office. A four-year term is desirable and worth considering to such candidates who would not consider a shorter term.

The passage of such an amendment would also lessen the expense of election and will classify public service under the same practical tenure as private business wherein competent heads of departments are rated by their ability and efficiency.

ENDORSEMENTS

This amendment is endorsed by Ben W. Olcott, Governor of Oregon by Geo. M. Brown, Attorney-General, who endorses it in the following words: "I endorse constitutional amendment fixing term of certain county officials, and especially as it relates to the clerk and sheriff. I do so for the reason that it is in the interest of well trained public officials." Also by Sam A. Kuser, Secretary of State "I am heartily in favor of proposed amendment extending the terms of county clerks and treasurers to four years. The term of office at present is hardly of sufficient duration to enable an official to acquaint himself with the duties thereof before he must seek re-election. A longer term, to my mind, tends toward the more efficient performance of the duties of the office by those whom the people select therefor."

This amendment is also endorsed by Conrad P. Olson, Eugene Brookings, and many others.

Chester Gray, a member of the executive committee of the National Farm Bureau Federation and Robert Mansfield, temporary president of the Oregon Federation, will be in Monmouth on the afternoon of November 10 to go over some of the wider phases of farm bureau work.

WHY

Photograph Gives Us Such Faithful Reproduction

Few people know why it is possible to reproduce the vocal or instrumental art of a great artist with the faithfulness of the modern phonograph. In the first place, it should be remembered that sound waves gradually diminish in volume if released in a large space of air, just as the ripples caused by tossing a pebble into a still pool gradually become smaller.

The "record" consists of one long groove having indentations of varying sizes in it to represent the sound waves to be reproduced. These small indentations are either in the bottom or sides of the groove. At the beginning and end of the groove there are no indentations, as it is desirable to have a space for the stylus to run in until it can be removed from the record, if finishing playing, and when starting the record it is desirable to place the stylus in the groove before any of the indentations are reached.

MYSTERY SHIPS ARE GIVEN PEACE-TIME DUTY

Two years ago, in June, 1918, two giant ships or towers were begun by the British in their war against the Huns. Their purpose was never divulged; all workmen connected in any way with the construction were sworn to absolute secrecy. Today these giant towers are being sunk off the coast of England to take the place of the lightships which heretofore have patrolled the coast.
