Two Seven Year Olds

Monday was the seventh anniversary of the births of Alice Euphemia Gilmore and James Pember and the coincidence was observed by a special birthday party staged in the rooms of the First and Second grades in the Monmouth Training School by Miss Smith, the critic teacher. The children of the two grades participated and in addition Dorothy Gilmore and Jack Pember were special guests. The last period of the afternoon was devoted to the event and games of a suitable nature were played and refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake, served, and all the children had the finest sort of a time.

Comforts of Home

There are few of the comforts of town life which the up-to-date farmer does not have. Within the past year T. J. Edwards has had his home fitted with modern plumbing operated by a system that provides electric power for other farm purposes as well as pumping. They thus have electric lights, power for an electric washer and wringer and the latest convenience is a power driven cream separator.

Mrs. Percival spent Thanksgiving with her niece, Mrs. Frantz in Hoskins.

A large boiler for the addition to the heating plant at the Normal arrived this week and transporting it to the campus was something of an engineering feat. C. T. Butler's tracklaying tractor was largely instrumental in the work.
