Pure Breed Records Acquired by Oregon

In a recently compiled report of the medal awards for 1920 issued by the American Jersey Cattle Club, seventy one Jersey cows completed records for the year with a production of over 700 pounds of butter fat within the year on authenticated test.

Of the ten highest records made in the year, five were made by Oregon cows with an average production of 896.38 lbs. of fat.

Heading the list of breeders of medal winners is J. M. Dickson & Son of Shedd with seven to their credit, followed by G. G. Hewitt of Independence with four, Ed Cary of Carlton with three and O. Pickard and E. J. Farnham of Marion with two. In the list of sires represented by medal winning daughters, Valentine's Ashburn Baronet, the Dickson herd sire, ranks first, credited with five, Rinda Lad of S. B., the Hewitt bull, second with four. Poppy St. Mawes of Ashburn, also a Dickson sire, is one of four in fourth place with two gold medal daughters. Golden Glow's Chief ranks fifth with one gold and one silver medal to his credit. Thus an Oregon bull appears in the first five places in the list of producing sires for 1920.

Ten cows, by reason of superior performance, won more than one medal each and of these seven were Oregon Jerseys. Nineteen states are represented in the awards made. Oregon cows with only 1914 registered, representing only 4 1/2 per cent of the Jerseys recorded within the year, won 18 gold, 3 silver and 1 bronze or 31 per cent of all the awards made. Ohio ranked second with 8 gold and 1 bronze; Maine, third with 7 gold and 2 bronze; Massachusetts, fourth with 5 gold and 1 silver and Washington fifth with five gold medals.

This remarkable record of performance places Oregon in the first rank as premier Jersey state of the Union and should act as a stimulus to still greater effort to maintain that enviable position.

Rutherford to the Front

The many friends of Prof. W. R. Rutherford in Oregon will be greatly pleased to learn of his splendid work and advancement in the system of instruction recently instituted in the United States navy. After his graduation from the Oregon Normal he served as principal of several schools of Eastern Oregon and as city superintendent of schools in Tillamook, McMinnville and Eugene. He took a degree at Stanford and was called to accept a position in the instruction work in the navy. Mr. Rutherford has been stationed at Charleston, South Carolina, for the past year. By reason of the rich historical associations connected with this city and his keen appreciation of these, he has found the work most inspiring. The men in the navy are much interested in the school and the officers encourage the work.

Recently tests were made by experts for the work done during the year, the naval schools on board ship and the work done by Mr. Rutherford was graded much above any other similar work done.

His salary was increased by some $900, giving him some $4000 per year. This work is done on board ship and the opportunity to definitely reach the men in a constructive way is greatly appreciated by Mr. Rutherford. He is now in Virginia where he expects to work during the early summer and in New York during the late summer.

Nearly 300 tons of Royal Ann cherries have been shipped to eastern points by the Oregon Growers Cooperative Association. Due to the perishability of this variety of cherry it is not usually shipped to far eastern points in large quantities, but all early reports indicate that the cherries went through in unusually good shape. In addition to these over 300 tons of black cherries have been shipped.

During the inactivity of some of the canneries of the state many of the driers are being used to help care for this year's large loganberry crop. Large driers of the Oregon Cooperative Association at Sheridan and Scotts Mills are running and many of the smaller driers are being used in caring for the berries. In this way all of the crop can be saved and it is expected that the driers will be a big factor in solving the problem this year.

Card of Thanks

I take this means of expressing my appreciation and gratitude for the many acts of kindness shown by Monmouth and Independence people to us in the time of our bereavement.

Frederic L. Perry's company Ye Olde New England Choir, of Boston, since its organization in 1913 has made over one thousand appearances in thirty-seven states. It has toured the south for two successive seasons under the direction of the Federated Bureaus; this summer is its fourth consecutive season under the banner of the Standard Chautauqua System of Lincoln, Nebraska, and is already booked with them for next summer. When "Ye Choir" closes its summer work in September they will drive back east and the latter part of that month commence a month of engagements in the state of Ohio under the Allen Lyceum Bureau.

While Mr. Perry was at home this Spring he produced a very successful minstrel show with a chorus of 100 voices for the employees of Cluett, Peabody & Co., Inc. (one of the largest shirt manufacturing concerns), which from now on will be an annual affair.

He also produced an Old Folks' Concert, with a chorus of 60 voices assisted by his own company, in celebration of the 102nd anniversary of Odd Fellowship, of which Mr. Perry is a member.

Irene Marie Farren, soprano, and Gertrude Greeley, mezzo-contralto, have been members of Mr. Perry's company ever since it has been associated with the Standard Chautauqua and never fail to delight their audiences. During the afternoon program Miss Greeley gives a specialty of a group of Indian songs in costume. Mr. Perry was fortunate this season in securing Francis C. Chantreau, the famous French tenor and composer, who has made a name for himself in this country and abroad in Grand Opera. He has a repertoire of over thirty operas and sings in three languages.

Helen Louise Welch, the fifth member of the company, is not only an excellent accompanist and piano player but also has a very charming personality.

All of the black cherries of the growers in Western Oregon, with the exception of those processed by the Oregon Canning Company at Newberg are being shipped green to all parts of the Northwest. There has been a strong demand for these cherries which have been packed in special 20 pound boxes.

Over 30 tons of loganberries were being received daily by the Oregon Growers Association at Salem at the end of last week and it is expected that the amount would greatly increase during this week.
