Cuticura Soap

Clears the Skin and Keeps it Clear
The Remedy.

Louise spent part of the summer with a nervous aunt, whom the doctor told to rest and relax several times daily. After Louise's return home she heard her mother complain of a nervous headache. She said, "Mamma, I can tell you how to get rid of nerves 'n'vrything. Relapse and keep at it."

X-Rayed a Mummy.

An English scientist has taken an X-ray picture of the hand of an Egyptian princess of the second dynasty (about 4500 B. C.), taken through the wrappings of her mummified remains, showing all the bones with great clearness, and a ring on the third finger.

In Northern Chile.

Northern Chile depends almost wholly upon two industries, nitrate and copper mining. Of these, the former is most important, both from the standpoint of extensive operation and the direct economic effect upon the population as a whole.

Cuticura for Pimples Faces.

To remove pimples and blackheads smear them with Cuticura Ointment.
Wash off in five minutes with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Once clear keep your skin clear by using them for daily toilet purposes. Don't fail to include Cuticura Talcum.—Adv.

Speaking of Names.

We learn that a young woman of Detroit rejoices in or deprecates the name of Eura Case, but speaking of singular monikers it would be pretty hard to beat that of a negro youngster in Alabama, Reguspatoff (Reg. U. S. Pat.
Off.) Johnson.—Boston Transcript.

Painting on Spider's Web.

Painting on spider web is done in Norway and the pictures are framed like any other drawing. The webs employed which are of a very dense weave are found only in few localities difficult of access, and the supply of them is limited.

Specific at Hand.

John was visiting his grandmother, who has a candy store. On being told he would be sick from eating so much candy, he replied: "Oh, that's all right. Mother has pills to make me well."

Honor in Left-Hand Greeting.

The giving of the left hand in greeting is a compliment in France, and is reserved for relatives, or those held in high esteem by the giver.

The Text.

"Mabel is engaged to a young man she met on her vacation." "That so?
When is the wedding to be?" "She doesn't know that. She's got to wait and see whether or not he's going to write to her. It may be that he'll just forget about it, you know."

Daylight is the Time.

Lying awake nights will not crack a single one of life's hard butternuts.
You have to keep pounding as long as daylight lasts.

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

WHAT CHILDREN READ

PEOPLE would not worry so much about what they call the "modern child," if they only stopped to think that fathers and mothers, uncles and aunts, of every generation had their doubts as to the new generation.

In fact, Adam and Eve were, in all probability, the only proud parents in all history who never said, "Children did not do such things when we were young."

The very latest discovery that has been made about the little boys and girls of America is that their taste in reading is quite different from that of their elders at the same age.

It appears that they are finding rather dull some of the things that appealed to the youngsters of former days, and are demanding more excitement than is good for them.

It is well, in thinking about such a subject, always to remember that older people have a weakness for considering any such change in taste as for the worse.

That is the compliment that maturity pays to itself.

The great trouble is that we don't remember what we really cared for when we were small.

Many of the things that we were supposed to enjoy we didn't really like until we grew up. Others that were forced on us for our good were spoiled for us forever.

Children have no sense of subtlety, or irony. This is natural.

They read "Alice in Wonderland," or "Gulliver's Travels," or "The Arabian Nights," for the straight story, not for any secondary meaning that is beyond them.

A clever American woman suggests that the children, especially in a big family, should be encouraged to write stories of wild adventure for each other.

This is not so impossible or far-fetched as it seems.

A good example came to light recently in the case of the children of Theodore Roosevelt.

That many-sided man was a child among his sons and daughters until the very last.

His letters to them, full of action as they are, and illustrated by himself, will last longer than anything else in the way of history or travels that he ever wrote.

From him and his youngsters, the woods and waters around Oyster Bay were delightfully mysterious, where anything might happen.

For children the world is still, and always will be, full of a number of things. The main thing is not to try to turn them into little men and women.

"What's in a Name?"
By MILDRED MARSHALL Facts about your name, its history, meaning, whence it was derived, significance your lucky day and lucky jewel.

ERNESTINE.

ERNESTINE has an origin of lofty dignity. She is one of the "Eagle" names. Like many of the feminine names connected with mythology, the eagle occupied a position of great respect and even adoration among the ancients, and his name, with various suffixes and prefixes, furnished many of the cognomens then in vogue.

In Scotland the word for eagle was "erne" and the name was found in all countries where there were mountains, the homeland of the king of birds.
Arnridd, or Arneidur, was the first of the eagle ladies. She was said to be the daughter of Asblorn, of the Hebrides, who was said to be an Ice-lander named Katell Thymr. This lady had the good fortune to find a quantity of silver sufficient for her ransom beneath the roots of a tree, but she decided to remain the wife of Thymr and goes down in history as one of the famous women of Iceland.

The next step in the evolution of Ernestine was Arthura, and later An-ora, who was the wife of Bernard de St. Valery. Her name was carried into the family of Braose by King John's victim, Maude de St. Valery, who called one of her daughters Annora.

The masculine Ernesto, which preceded Ernestine directly, appeared first in Lombardy in the year 752, through Markgraf of Austria Ernst spread all over Germany after the Reformation, and it was Germany which finally formed the feminine Ernestine.
Though still in great vogue there, it has of late years been contracted to Stine, or Tine, or sometimes Erna.

Bohemia calls her by elaborate Arnostinka, but England and America took her over as Ernestine, and preserves her as such.

The moonstone is Ernestine's talismanic gem. It is said to bring her good fortune and good health and is particularly lucky for lovers who, old legend insists, may read the future in its depths. Sunday is her lucky day and 5 her lucky number. Yellow is said to be her color.

SCHOOL DAYS

Mother's Cook Book

Beauty and joy—the bread and wine and all—We have forewarned; our noisy hearts forget;
We stray and on strange altars cry and chill.
Ah, patient gods, be patient with us yet, And Pan pipe on, pipe on, till we shall rise,
And follow, and be happy, and be wise.

LYRICS OF LIFE

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THE CONTEST.

OLD age complains when Winter reigns.
But youth runs out to play And finds in storms a thing that warms
Its pulses all the way—It is the contest so intense With Winter's angry elements.

SEASONABLE FOODS.

THERE must be something wrong with the people who do not enjoy the luscious muskmelon and the rosy-meat watermelon, yet you find men who even dislike lemon pie, so it is hard to suit all tastes; however, "there is no loss without some gain," for there wouldn't be enough of such good things to satisfy all appetites if everybody wanted the same food at the same time.

Orange Ice in Melon Cups.

This is really the nth power of serving, for each alone is delicious enough.
Wash the small melons, cut in halves and scrape out the seeds and membrane carefully. Chill and fill with orange ice. Boil one cupful of sugar with a pint of water and the grated rind of an orange, add the juice of one lemon and the juice of four oranges, strain and freeze as usual.

Pimento Cheese.

A most delicious cheese may be prepared at home at a small fraction of the cost usually paid for such an article. Take one-fourth of a pound of good, snappy American cheese, put through the meat chopper, also grind with three hard-cooked eggs, three or four canned pimentos. Alternate the egg and peppers through the grinder to save the juice of the pepper, season with salt and cayenne, add mayonnaise dressing to moisten, and put away to chill. Cover with paraffin paper and keep in the ice chest. It never spoil, for it doesn't last long enough.
This is excellent for the sandwich filling for hungry boys and men who carry lunches to school or work.

Fried Chicken With Boiled Rice.

Cut up the chicken for frying, add butter to the hot frying pan, sprinkle the seasoning in flour and roll each piece until well covered. Place in the pan and cook slowly, closely covered, until quite tender, then brown. The chicken will be much more delicious and moist than if fried brown at once.
Heap a mound of well-cooked hot rice in the center of the platter, surround with the chicken and serve with ripe olives.

Twin Mountain Muffins.

Cream one-third of a cupful of butter, add one-fourth of a cupful of sugar, then alternately add three-fourths of a cupful of milk, two cupfuls of sifted flour, sifted with four teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt; add one egg well beaten, mix and bake in gem pans. A cupful of wellfloured blueberries, or dates finely cut, may be added if desired.

Never a Better Time

than today for the girl or woman who wants to do well in business to make a success. The world needs constructive work. It doesn't care who does it, provided the work is good. Women are picked for jobs that not long ago would certainly have gone to men. In Washington, for instance, a girl has been made manager of the lunch room in the Treasury building. This restaurant serves lunches to 1,000 government employees every day. The business detail of running such a place is great, and only a trained woman could undertake it. But Miss Dorothy Chapman is trained, having been graduated in home economics at Cornell university, one of a large class. And these trained women will find the field ready for them.

There are other ways for women who have taken special training in domestic science to make money. One such woman serves box lunches to office workers in one of the big city office buildings. These lunches are put up at different prices, three grades, each containing a balanced ration, excellent food, well-prepared and daintily served in its
