Farm Mutual Fire Insurance

I have taken the agency for the Farmers' Fire Relief Association of Butteville, Oregon, a farmers' mutual insurance company which accepts no city risks, is incorporated and has been doing business for 28 years. This company has always paid its losses promptly and January first has assets deposited in seven different banks of $49,000.00. To join costs $1 and 25 cents per $100 for dwellings and contents; 30 cents per $100 for barns, school houses and contents. The applicant is then entitled to insurance subject to such assessments as are necessary to cover losses and expenses. A member can withdraw at any time. The company has on its books $7,995,934 insurance and paid out during 1920 losses amounting to $10,840.27. For particulars inquire of G. W. Chesebro agent, Monmouth, Ore.

Drain Tile

The farmer pays taxes on the land that produces little as well as on land that yields good crops. The returns from the two kinds of land are far different. Why not bring your land up to where it will yield dividends by draining it through proper tiling. Through drainage the poorest acres on the farm become the best.

Building Tile

are the most economical material there is. Light, durable and fire proof. Both kinds of tile made in Monmouth. See us for prices.

SHE BURNS MONEY ON CLOTHES

Here are two views of Mrs. Smith Wilkinson, who is acknowledged as the best dressed woman in the world, and who is coming to America shortly to show us what real gowns are. Mrs. Wilkinson started in life as a restaurant keeper in England. She and her husband expanded the business into a chain of restaurants, then into a chain of hotels and they made millions. Her whole life now is spent in buying things to wear, and wearing 'em at a cost of a million a year. Her wardrobe contains hundreds of costly gowns, priceless lace, gorgeous hats, diamond studded shoes and her strings of pearls and rubies are a huge fortune in themselves. Some of her gowns are so complicated in make and material that they take nine months to complete.

HENRY FORD WANTS TO SCRAP OUR GOLD

Henry Ford wants our money readjusted on a basis of productive energy, instead of gold as at present. He announced at Washington, while negotiating with Secretary of War Weeks for the purchase of Muscle Shoals, Ala., as shown here, that the fight for a readjustment of American money was to be his battle this year. Ford insists that he will give the American farmer the cheapest fertilizer they have ever had if the Muscle Shoals project goes through.

ARMS CONFERENCE COMPLETES ITS WORK

Great Gathering Passes Into History Exactly 12 Weeks After Opening.

Washington, D. C.—The work of the Washington conference on limitation of armament and far eastern problems is ended.

Approving several far-reaching treaties and resolutions in rapid-fire order, the conference completed its work in a four-hour plenary session here Saturday—exactly 12 weeks after its opening.

The great international gathering passed definitely into history on Monday when the treaties growing out of the conference were signed in the Continental hall and President Harding disbanded the parley with a farewell address.

With its work characterized by Mr. Harding as "the first deliberate and effective expression of great powers, in the consciousness of peace, of war's utter futility," the great conference went to its niche of history to await the judgments and developments of the future.

In the great assembly hall of the Daughters of the American Revolution, where all its open sessions have been held, the delegates of the nine nations assembled marched in turn to a space at the great green baize table and affixed their signatures to the treaties and agreements which are all parts of the structure built to lift from a war-worn world the burden of excessive naval armaments; to promote the peace of the Pacific; to give a new bill of rights to China, and to remove from the far east, particularly, the clouds of war.

And as each delegation affixed signatures as plenipotentiaries pledging the honor of their respective nations to the good faith of the settlements agreed upon, the great audience expressed the hopes of the world in its loud and prolonged applause.

WHAT THE ARMS PARLEY HAS DONE

Following are the treaties approved by the Washington armament conference during the twelve weeks it has been in session:

Five-power naval limitation pact, providing for scrapping of many capital ships, establishing naval holiday, and fixing tonnage ratio for five great naval powers.

Five-power chemical and submarine treaty, placing ban on gas as a weapon of war and safeguarding merchant vessels from attack by undersea craft.

Four-power Pacific treaty, designed to maintain peace in the Pacific.

Two nine-power Chinese treaties, one reaffirming policy for open door in China and one dealing with customs duties.

Settlement of Shantung issue between Japan and China, and agreement for return of Kiaow Chow and Shantung railway to Chinese.

Settlement of Yap controversy between Japan and America, and settlement of division of Pacific cables.

Formal announcement of a declaration of Japan's famous twenty-one demands on China and formal announcement of Japan's abandonment of the much attacked "group five."

Agreement of Japanese to withdraw from Siberia.

Return by Great Britain of Wei Hai Wei to China.

A preliminary application for permission to cross forest boundary lands with a high transmission power line was filed with Forest Supervisor Ramsdell of the Umpqua forest by J. C. Thompson, assistant treasurer of the California-Oregon Power company. The company is constructing a high-power line between Prospect and Eugene, and to do this will be required to traverse a large amount of government land.
