G. T. Boothby had members of his family as guests at dinner Sunday to celebrate his birthday; at least that was what his wife intended but she got the date wrong and so he will have the opportunity to celebrate again on the proper date which is September 27.

Another of our prominent citizens was showered with birthday greetings this week. P. H. Johnson went home from his store Tuesday evening to find a number of his friends assembled to surprise him. Cards and music were the entertainment of the evening. The prize for the highest score for ladies was won by Mrs. Orval Butler and Mr. Wolverton received the highest score for men. Mrs. Bell was accorded the consolation prize for lowest score. Delicious refreshments were served, the important feature being the large birthday cake decorated with 24 birthday candles. As Tuesday was also the birthday of Mrs. F. E. Murdock she was given the honor of assisting Mr. Johnson in blowing out the candles and cutting the cake. At a late hour the guests departed wishing Mr. Johnson many more happy birthdays. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Wolverton,

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Butler, Dr. and Mrs. Bowersox, Mr. and Mrs. Boothby, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Murdock, Mesdames Stine, Pell, Graham and Cornelius, also the hostesses, Mrs. Johnson and Misses Mabel and Velma Johnson.

At the regular session of the Ladies Aid of the Christian Church last Thursday the president, Mrs. Shore, was welcomed after a long absence. Mrs. Wolverton, Mrs. Neal, Mrs. J. L. Murdock and Mrs. Chambers acted as hostesses and served refreshments.

Local News

Mrs. F. E. Murdock and Miss Jessie Webber accompanied Mr. Murdock to Salem Wednesday afternoon.

Jack Leask had an encounter with yellow jackets and came out second best the other day. He is feeling better now and can see out of both eyes.

Grand Senior Warden H. K. Sickafosse of Monmouth visited lodge in the Harrisburg encampment Tuesday night, Harrisburg being the home of Grand Chief Patriarch Wadsworth for whom the visit was made.

Mrs. Irene Smith was pleasantly surprised when her children and their families came to spend Sunday with her and her son Roy M. Smith. This is the first time the entire family were ever at home at the same time. The party was composed of Mr. and Mrs. S. Goodnight and daughters, Lillian and Irene of Vancouver, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Smith and Jack Hargrove of Corvallis, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Noble of Heppner, Rosa E. Smith of Portland, also Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gould of California, who are cousins of Mr. Goodnight.

Harvey Dickenson of Independence has joined the ranks of prune growers and has a five acre tract north of Dallas, the harvesting of which is now engaging his attention.

There were quite a number of Monmouth people among the crowd at the community sale in the Elkins school yard yesterday. At noon the business men of this city donated ice cream to the generous lunch which the Elkins committee had provided.

Both the Rickreall-Holmes Gap section and Monmouth-Benton county line section of the West Side highway are to benefit from the allotment of Federal funds to Oregon which in 1923 amounts to $788,443.

Prof. Gentle has been enjoying his vacation by raising a chin beard. Mr. Gentle says his experiences in the cultivation of this sort of a crop are comical as well as entertaining and he gets as much pleasure out of it as he would in a trip to the sea shore. If the Norm promoters are onto their job they will get a photograph of Prof. Gentle's whiskers for that classical annual. The Gentle boys have enjoyed their vacation by painting the home residence and outbuildings and have also built a home for two hundred chickens.

The deal for the Peter Kurre house to W. J. Mellinger of St. Helens has fallen through and Mr. Mellinger, who arrived here this week with his goods, is living in the "Uncle Bob" Williams house on Clay street until Rev. Rossell and family vacate the house they occupy when it will be taken by the St. Helens people.

A modern lowering device has been added to the equipment of the A. L. Keeney undertaking establishment in Independence. It is made so that a slight pressure of the director's foot causes the casket to slowly descend into the grave.

Restoration of the rates of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company in effect prior to February 28, 1921, by confessing judgment in the case brought in the Multnomah county circuit court by Robert G. Duncan, John F. Risley and Dora Shreve, to have the order of the old commission authorizing an increase in the charges set aside, was attempted through a resolution introduced by T. M. Kerrigan, recall member of the commission at an executive session of the body held in Salem. The resolution as submitted by Mr. Kerrigan apparently was intended as a short cut to the reduction of telephone rates in Oregon, and if approved, probably will have the effect of throwing the entire telephone rate controversy in the courts for final determination.

Increases amounting to half a cent on 30-40s and a quarter-cent on all other sizes of prunes were announced by the Oregon Growers' Co-operative association of Salem. Demand for Oregon prunes and a wider distribution than ever before was given by officials of the association as the reason for the advance.
