Babe and Baseball Again

Babe Ruth, symbol of baseball, is out of a sick bed and into swatting clothes again, soon to head our nation's pastime north for opening of the 1923 pennant chase. Col. Houston, N. Y. Yank owner, visited Babe at the New Orleans training camp, as shown here.

HOMEY PHILOSOPHY for 1923

ONCE we saw a play called The Servant in the House. The servant was a crude but indisputable sufferer who was honest and who brought home to the other characters the spirit of the Redeemer.

Once he said to one of the other men: "Did you ever 'ear of 'ell?" and the other man said "Yes." "Then go there," retorted the man of mystery. And thus the skilled writer put over a thought that if he had been honest he would have never forced to suppress. It would never have done in this best of literatures, to allow a man to tell another man to go to hell. Shocking? The holier than thous would have been in arms, and the censors would have got busy, those men who would regulate our lives and teach us that hypocrisy and not plain dealing is the chief aim in life. Heigho.
