NEWLY WEDS STEAL CAR TO WARD OFF STARVATION

A. B. Byers of Independence left his automobile on a street corner in Salem a week ago and returning for it found it missing. Saturday a young, newly wedded couple were arrested in Portland charged with the theft of the car and that promptly confessed. They gave their names most appropriately as Herbert and Dorothy Hicks and said they were married six months ago. Herbert is 24 and his wife was a Tacoma school girl. Herbert has blue eyes and a harrassed look. After securing a wife he started out to support her by peddling magazines but somehow could not make a go of it. His wife had an ivory set and they lived for a short time from the proceeds of its sale.

Salem they felt might offer prospects for some sort of a living and they went to Salem. But the outlook for simpletons was no better in Salem than elsewhere and on the second morning there the family treasury held only a twenty-five cent piece. In desperation they stole the car.

They drove from place to place in the car and managed to sell a few magazines. Confronted with starvation they approached a dealer and tried to sell the automobile. The license number was identified and the dealer called in the police.

Team Work

Our prosperity and your prosperity are based on the same things. By working together we can accomplish vastly more than by pulling apart.

As an investor you have opportunity to know your public utility company from the inside and to see that it is honestly and efficiently administered; that the ideal of good service must necessarily guide a company that succeeds. At the same time you will share in the earnings that are the just reward of genuine service progressively rendered.

Our Investment Department is specially maintained for your benefit and service. We welcome your interest and will be glad to have you call, or to respond to your inquiries by mail or telephone.

Sees Rural America a Great Community Farm

Mrs. W. C. Martin, of Boque County, Texas, known as "The Community Builder of the South," has visions of rural America as a great community farm and along the same general lines as those employed in community development throughout the South. Cave Springs, Tex., is the best example of community development. In two years it changed from a deserted post office on a mud road to a prosperous village in the center of the rich Sabine Bottoms. Pictures show Mrs. Martin who worked out the ideas at Cave Springs, the Community house built there and the true of bungalows in which all residents now live.

Richard Lloyd Jones Says PRESERVANCE COUNTS MOST

WEALTH inherited is never valued like wealth earned. Victory is great as the battle is hard. There is no short road to real triumph. That which is gained easily is lost easily. "Lazy comes, easy goes."

The plant that grows fast withers rapidly. The tree that grows slowly endures.

Steadfast application will do more than the quick, hard blow of impatience. Dropping water will cut its way through granite.

Mountains were not made in moments; they are the work of ages.

Great deeds are done not by strength but by persistence.

Want a thing hard enough, work for it long enough and you are pretty sure to get it.

A single purpose is the first essential to success. Stick to it. Tenacity is the primary element of greatness.

It is wisdom to build castles in the air; but it is folly to stop there. Go to your foundation; pile stone upon stone until you reach your castle. Then it is yours.

"Stay with it" is the slogan that makes the cowboy master of the bucking broncho.

"Don't give up the ship," was the command to his men that brought Perry victory.

Perpetual pushing puts difficulties out of countenance and makes seeming impossibilities give way.

The weak wait for the opportunity to strike while the iron is hot. The strong make opportunity by striking the iron until it is hot.

Persistence rather than brilliancy is the best in a long race.

The tortoise knows he has to do his utmost all the time to even hope to cope with the hare. The hare, knowing his better speed, often relies upon sprints and delays too long.

Over-confidence foreshadows neglect. Don't go to sleep at the switch. It isn't worth the risk.

The pick and spade persistently applied at a fixed place may penetrate a mountain.

The oceans have been wedded through the Suez and Panama Canals by just plain diggins.

He who attacks an eminence spends his energies in one pursuit.

There is no creature so humble but who, armed with determination, may not gain his point.

By gnawing through a dyke even a rat may down a nation.

No soldier was ever decorated with shoulder straps for marking time.

Brand the word "forward" on your brain. Always obey it. Go ahead and keep going.

Don't worry about what the other fellow can do. He may be better than you, but you stick to your job. You may be the tortoise that wins the race. For—"He that shall endure unto the end the same shall be saved."
