CLAY By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

Undoubtedly it's true, But then one finds so many kinds Of clay-now haven't you? Along the creeks are yellow streaks Of clay that wouldn't do.

I know the mushy sort of slush Would never make a man; Would crumble in the pan. That's not the ditch of clay in which Humanity began,

And in the yard is clay so hard, So shrivelled up and dry, So rough and cold with musty mold And full of alkali

No love nor wit could soften it-You wouldn't even try.

That's solid yet will bend,

That gives and takes-the kind that makes A fellow and a friend, That, once you choose, you never lose,

That holds until the end. So don't begin with clay too thin, Nor start with clay too thick. The plastic kind you'll always find

You may be a bore or you may not with this propensity. Yet if you control it well you are a stimulating person to have about. Nothing is better for a crowd of lazy-minded folk than to have such as you around. You can argue on whether the moon has flowers, or rocks have life, or bables have rights, or women have hearts, or anything but politics and religion and still be popular and amusing. at the bottom is frequently of just as much service as the man at the top.

The mother in the home who is faithful to her duties is as invaluable as the breadwinner outside.

FOOD FOR THE FAMILY

NICE little company sandwich with a cup of cocoa or coffee will be Chicken Salad Rolls.

Mix one cupful of cooked chicken, one cupful of chopped celery and onehalf cupful of chopped green olives with three tablespoonfuls of mayonnaise dressing, seasoning highly with salt and cayenne. Cut small rolls into halves, remove the soft centers, spread with softened butter and fill with the salad; press the halves together or serve open with the tops garnished to suit the taste.

For the Cooky Jar.

Take one cupful of shortening, two cupfuls of sugar, two eggs, one cupful of milk, three and one-half cupfuls of flour, a teaspoonful of flavoring, a little salt and one teaspoonful of baking powder. Mix, chill and roll as thin as possible. Sprinkle the tops with sugar just before going into the oven. For variety cut with a doughnut cutter, sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon and add three halves of almonds, points to the center at equal distances. These are called sand tarts.

Raisin Butter Sandwiches.

Soften butter by working it with a spatula or wooden spoon until creamy, To one-half cupful of butter add onehalf cupful of finely chopped raisins and two tablespoonfuls of finelyminced candied ginger. Mix, and when of the right consistency spread on buttered bread. Serve with afternoon tea.

Porcupine Apples.

Select apples of uniform size and which will cook tender without losing their shape. To half a dozen apples prepare a sirup in which to cook them. When tender decorate with quartered blanched almonds, sticking them into the apple as thick as desired. Pour the sirup around the apples and bake until the nuts are lightly browned. Serve as dessert with cream. The centers may be filled with bright colored jelly and they may be arranged on a platter if desired, with a spoonful of cream whipped stiff on each.

Holland's Thrifty Peasants. It is said that the Dutch peasant is well-to-do. That is indicated by the fact that Holland has more than two and one-half million accounts in savings banks, which means that more than one in every three of the population is laying away money for a rainy day.
