Entertain Alumni

The President of the Alumni Association of the Oregon Normal, Miss Muriel Paul of McMinnville, and her committee, are making every effort to have a large attendance of graduates and ex-students present this Commencement, especially for Alumni Day on June 10.

This committee has asked the Civic club and the Commercial club to stand back of them in making all these guests welcome and comfortable. A committee has been appointed by the Civic club to solicit available rooms for use during these few days. This committee, composed of Mrs. Gentle, Mrs. Cletus Butler, Mrs. Heffley and Mrs. Chambers, will call upon householders to list rooms for entertainment, so that guests will not have to go over to Independence, as some did have to do last year.

It has been intimated out in the state, that Monmouth is too small a place to have a larger school or to entertain a large number of guests. But there is evidenced a desire to prove that Monmouth is a hospitable town and will heartily welcome back the Old Grads.

It is hoped that available rooms may be placed at the disposal of this committee. Other committees will greet arrivals and take them to headquarters at the Normal, where guests will be assigned and escorted to various homes.

For the first time since the dog license law went into effect the Polk county dog fund is exhausted and future claims for indemnity for stock killed by dogs will have to wait unless a number of delinquent dog owners pay up, said the county clerk recently. It is estimated there are about 500 dogs unaccounted for in the way of 1924 licenses. There were 1028 dog licenses issued in 1923 but so far but 660 have paid up this season.

The platoon will give an exhibition of infantry drill and will change from one formation to another with the speed and precision which has helped to bring O. A. C. her rating as a distinguished school in the R. O. T. C.

After the drill work will come a number of stunts and then a spectacular sham battle. The sham battle will be followed by a tremendous pyrotechnic display marking the end of the tournament and of military classes for this year.
