John Lawrence Dawson

John Lawrence Dawson, age 36 years, died suddenly at his home in West Independence, Thursday evening, January 8, at 9:30 p. m.

Although suffering with a bad cold, Mr. Dawson had not been confined to his home. Starting down town at 9:15 p. m. he was struck with a severe pain near the heart so returned to his home where he died a few minutes later, before medical attention could reach him. Coroner A. L. Keeney was notified but it was not deemed necessary to hold an inquest as death was due to natural causes.

Mr. Dawson was born in Eakin, Wisconsin, May 19, 1888. He was married to Laurel Fay Davis, November 25, 1914. Coming to Oregon in 1923 they lived in Salem for a short time and moved from there to Independence where they have since made their home.

Besides his wife he is survived by one daughter, Eileen and two sons, John and Claire, and also his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Leonard Dawson, all of Independence.

Funeral services were held from the Keeney Funeral Chapel, Saturday, January 10, 1925 at 2 p. m., Rev. C. A. Nethery, pastor of the Baptist church officiating. Interment was in the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

There was also a roll call in which the women members present exposed their individual formulas for recognizing indications of rain. The men informally discussed marketing conditions and the program sought in the present session of the legislature.

Herald Shop Turns Out First Copyrighted Book

A copy of the first regularly copyrighted book printed in the Herald office has attracted attention in the display window this week. The book, "Evolution: the Mirror of God" by Prof. C. J. S. Bowling, although modest in size has matters of exceptional interest in it, sufficient to make up for any deficiency in bulk. The title of the book suggests its contents. To the many who are satisfied with their own present beliefs it may be of but passing interest. But others, inclined to be critical and who, perhaps, have not faith enough to accept what their senses distrust, it may prove both interesting and helpful. Prof. Bowling shows there is no real conflict between revealed Christianity and science and the explanations are easy for the average mind to grasp. The book is on sale at Morlan's and at the Herald office at 50 cents per copy.

New Power Co. Home

A modern building of hollow tile will replace the structure now covering the plant of the Mountain States Power company just as soon as weather conditions settle sufficiently to insure a chance to remove the covering of the plant without injuring the machinery by exposure, according to E. J. Page, manager of the Dallas, Independence and Monmouth districts.

W. K. Barnell, local manager of the Independence plant, is having plans submitted by Charles Smiley for the erection of the new building. Only the main covering for the pumping plant and the power machinery will be of hollow tile, while additions of lumber will be built on to house the office and serve as an equipment warehouse.—Enterprise.
