Another Pioneer of Polk Laid To His Final Rest

Dallas—Samuel H. Tetherow, one of Polk county's oldest pioneers passed away at his home in Dallas January 21. Funeral services were held Friday with burial in the Monmouth cemetery.

Mr. Tetherow was born in Pike county, Mo., March 6, 1836. He crossed the plains to Oregon with his father, Solomon Tetherow in 1845. They spent the winter of 1845-46 where Dallas now stands. The next spring his father took up a donation land claim on the Luckiamute river six miles southwest of Monmouth.

Samuel was the last of seven children. He served as a soldier during the Indian war of 1855-56, being a member of Captain Ben Hayden's company. Only one member of that company now survives.—David Hedges of Independence.

Mr. Tetherow had been a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church for many years. From 1900 to 1904 he was mayor of Falls City which town was for many years was his home.

Mr. Tetherow's first wife died 39 years ago. Five years later he married Mrs. I. E. Holman, who survives him. The following sons also survive their father: C. M. Tetherow, of Dallas, King Tetherow of Winlock, Wash.; W. K. Tetherow of Northport, Wash. and S. B. Tetherow of the Dalles. Fred J. Holman, county as-essor and Frank Holman of Dallas, are step sons and Mrs. Walter Gilbert of this city, is a step-daughter.—Itemizer.

TWO WEEKS VISIT TO COOS COUNTY

Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Hefley returned Tuesday from a two weeks trip to Coos county. They visited with their daughter, Mrs. W. J. deBoer and family at Gravel Ford, and with friends en route. They found the fact that Coos county is over a hundred miles south of here reflected in the advanced state of vegetation. The myrtle trees were about ready to bloom. They found the roads good although at certain places on the Coast mountain road they have to watch for slides. At one place a huge boulder rolled down and crushed a boy who was walking on the road. The Hefleys had a very enjoyable time on their trip.
