The services of this church begin with the Bible school at ten o'clock next Sunday morning. We are beginning preparation for the Christmas program so it is important that all members are regular in attendance. This Sunday will be known as "Farnham Day" in the school because a special collection in taken to help support the Rev. V. L. Farnham, missionary to China from Portland.
As a very special treat, Rev. D. R. Kauffman, who returned from missionary work in Liling, China only a few weeks ago, will be present to speak at all the services on this day, beginning with the Bible school. He will preach at 11 o'clock and at 7:30 in the evening.
Bishop M. T. Maze recently made this remark concerning the ability of Rev. Mr. Kauffman as a speaker: "With but one exception, Missionary Kauffman is the most able speaker of all the missionaries from the foreign field."

At 6:30, Intermediate and Senior C. E. Visitors are always welcome to the young people's meetings.

Christmas Festivities

The pupils will begin their preparations for their holiday program early next week. The various committees on room decorations, programs and other activities, have already been appointed so the work will move readily along.

The Seventh Grade to Entertain
The Seventh grade, assisted by their teacher, Miss Enright, will have an "at home" in the near future. This will be part of an interesting project being worked out in the geography class. A more detailed account of the project will appear later.

Under the supervision of Miss Bertha Wilson, R. N. the student teachers have completed the physical examination of the children in all grades. The report are filed in our office and copies sent to the county superintendent. The following data has been compiled:

Number of children inspected	196
Number without defects	63
Number with defects	133
Percent underweight	31
Defective eyesight	18
Defective hearing	7
Mouth breathers	13
Defective teeth	102

Dental Examinations

Pursuant with our policy of preceding years, a dental clinic will be conducted November 30th from 9 to 12. At this time all parents who so desire may have the advice of attending physicians as to the condition of the children's teeth.

In addition to this examination, one for goiter will also be made. It is possible that later, provisions may be made for giving children affected, the corrective iodine chocolate tablets.

Term's Finals

It is now time to think of the conclusion of the term's work. Tests covering the subject matter will be given by the student teachers in charge. This is also the time for giving out the report cards. Students hovering about a close margin of "4" the first six weeks will need to be a little more diligent at this time.

ATHLETICS

Preliminary practice and the organization of basket ball teams, occupy the interests at present. The girls will have two early morning periods under the leadership of Miss Hattan.

TARDINESS

Some of the children attending the eight o'clock classes in the special subjects of mechanical drawing, orchestra, manual training, and domestic art and science are making a splendid record. It is not an unusual sight to see the pupils lined up and ready for work sometimes as early as 7:30 in the morning. There are a few delinquencies due perhaps to the fact that recitations are not regularly held every morning, or that "It's nicer to lie abed"??

Other Departmental Activities

Miss Perry's room is quite enthusiastic over the Pilgrim story built up in a sand table project. Speaking of tardiness, how is this for a record? The following pupils have neither been absent nor tardy for a whole month.

First Grade—

Ernestine Teeter, Ruth Tilton, James Chatzauk, Charles Corcoran, Harold Hamar, Maurice Smith, Junior Stem, Philip Stem, Orval Swenson, Eugene Wickham.

Second Grade—

Constance Jones, Martha Blair, Lois Fleischman, Bobbie Bingham, George Murdock, Billie Orr, Mervin Rimstidt, Glenn Smith, Kenneth Mulkey.

THIRD AND FOURTH GRADES

Miss Barnett of the 3rd and 4th grades, reports that she is caring for an unusually large family: 47 children, and 7 student teachers. The children of this department are especially interested in stories and poems, and look forward to the story hour with much pleasure.

Reginald Returns

Teachers and students were glad to welcome Reginald Reese back after an enforced absence due to an infected hand.

We have poems and stories which we are holding for our next issue. We wish you all great cause for happiness and gratitude at this season.

Nu Epsilon Lambda Stages Second Smoker Tuesday Eve

(From the Lamron)

The second smoker held in the gym last Tuesday night scored a knockout. From sixty to seventy "Sons of Oregon Normal" were present. Coffee and doughnuts, preceded by wrestling and boxing, were the main attractions of the program.

The first three bouts were wrestling. Time was faithfully kept by Mr. Dodds: Chestnut officiated and Graham and Reuf acted as seconds.

Hefley won over Gill in the first match. Although Gill scored the first down, Hefley took the next two. The second bout was between Sells and Lafener. Lafener won by taking the first two downs.

The third match was between Scott Williams and Huston, the latter winning the first two downs.

Chestnut evidently made a mistake in his program, for the next match was between a boxer and a wrestler. Wilson boxed and Bierman wrestled. Wilson was not allowed to hit when down, therefore as soon as Bierman had him on the mat, all "Windy" could do was to prolong the time before Bierman should have had him on his back. Bierman got the first two downs. Although a mistake is hard to forgive, the sidelines enjoyed this mixed match to its fullest extent.

The next match was boxing between Kahse (Moch) and Stewart. Chestnut looks small but he managed to keep his pair from staying in a clinch more than five minutes. He declared the outcome a draw.

Crocher and Rohner next took a down in a sort snappy wrestling bout. This program was interrupted by a pair of stray roosters Ayedelott and Williams, which Reuf and Graham seemed to have raised the night previous. Williams finally crowded over Ayedelott.

Alley and Light then undertook to wrestle each other, but the good naturedness of Chestnut pronounced it a draw. Mc Daniel and Beardsley tried hard to whip each other in three rounds of boxing but it also was wisely called a draw. The pugilistic program was concluded by another draw between Crocher and Lehman, both of whom fought hard for two rounds.

Much credit is due to Mr. Christensen for the success of these get-togethers. Remember he is the one who is back of the Men's club of Oregon Normal. Let's give him three cheers: "for he's a jolly good fellow."

poem by UNCLE JOHN

It seems to me, Thanks-givin' Day is good for people every way.—I wouldn't want to doubt it. . . I'm certain that our blessed Lord forgives our sins an' keeps His word—we couldn't live without it! I've noticed that the thankful man, who does the very best he can to show the Lord he's grateful—is happier a thousand-fold, than one whose gratitude is cold, an' thrives by bein' hateful. I'd rather bless a crust of bread with benedictions sweetly said, than gloat o'er ingrate's splendor. . . I'd thank the Hand that allers feeds, an' suits the blessin' to our needs—an' keeps our conscience tender. . .

If I must dine on rabbit roast, bekase I can't dig up the cost of gobbler, stuffed with dressin'—I'll down my hare-hop with a smile—in firm belief that, after while, we'll reap a richer blessin'. . . I ain't ashamed to kiss the rod that chastens by the hand of God, yet spares my daily livin' . . . and mebbe that is why I'm here, to celebrate another year—in praises and 'Thanks-givin'!

For Uncle John.
