HALLUCINATIONS AND HUNCHES

According to the calendar this is January. Otherwise we might think it April.

The situation at Salem reminds us of that fable of Aesop's in which the wind and sun contended to see which could first make the traveler take off his cloak. The wind made him but the sun warmed him up so he was glad to take it off. Many things the legislature might do to ease the treasury it naturally will not do for fear of having it asserted such act was forced by Pierce with his celebrated tax levy cut.

In order to get the full measure of attention, Ormiston should accompany Aimee on that lecture tour of the East.

A man in Minneapolis is about to drink 85 cups of coffee on a wager. If the coffee is as strong as the kind "Dad" Sickafosse makes, that man is in for a thrill that will last him the remainder of his life.

The law to make the speed limit 35 miles an hour has passed the first lap in the state legislature, which merely means that a greater average of travelers than heretofore will be traveling within the speed limits.

SHERIFF'S REPORT

Collected up to January 1, 1927—$526,994.57

This delinquency was just a little larger than last year.

Contributing to minor delinquency 9
Burglary ..... 8
Rape ..... 1
Violating Motor Vehicle laws ..... 10
Highway robbery ..... 3
Forgery ..... 2
Assault and battery ..... 8
Larceny ..... 6
Other misdemeanors and arrests for outside officers ..... 14

Total ..... 103

Services of various papers increased 15% over the year 1925. Investigation of auto wrecks is a new feature of sheriff work and has increased greatly over preceding years, most of them being made at nights and holidays.

432 temporary license tags were issued during 1926. In the face of the work growing more year by year the sheriff has not increased his help for the past two years.

REBEKAHS RECALL OLD TIMES WITH AN EVENING IN COSTUME

After the regular meeting of the Rebekahs Thursday evening, January 6, the ladies and a few men dressed themselves in antique and period costumes. Bustles and hoops were in evidence.

Among the unique costumes were: Mrs. J. O. Andrus who wore a black silk dress belonging to Mrs. Silcott, made in 1886. It had puffed sleeves and was worn with a bustle.

Mrs. Carl Pollan was dainty in a cream wedding dress which was over thirty years old.

Mrs. Whiteaker was dressed in a black taffeta suit, 50 years old. It had a real lace collar, a loose jacket and pleated skirt.

Mrs. Edwards was dignified in a suit with a full flare skirt. She wore a high black hat, trimmed with real ostrich plumes. Among the oldest things was a cape and cap belonging to her grandmother, worn by Mrs. Herren. The cape was made by Mrs.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

THE SOUL HAS ITS WEATHERS

Sometimes all is bright and serene, and other times it is dark and cloudy. Sometimes it is clear weather and sometimes stormy.

As in the case of the winds of which we know not whence they come nor whither they go, but take their blowing as an act of God beyond our control, so our moods and tempers seem to arise we know not how.

The best we can do is to maintain our poise as much as possible and turn toward our ideals when the winds of pessimism and doubt are upon us, and remain as equable as we can.

We speak of getting out of bed in the morning with the wrong foot foremost. It is another way of saying that we are in the grip of a mood that is beyond our control.

How many acts of our fellows that seem to us malicious are simply due to the prevalence of some uncontrollable mood in them?

There are some people, thanks be, that are always bright and cheery. One who has this sunny disposition is to be congratulated, and even more to be felicitated are those about him.

If one can be a point of sunshine in this storm tossed world he has certainly added much to human well being.

The alternation of moods, however, is common to all of us. We should all expect some dark days and resist their influence as much as possible. We can do very much with our will.

Our judgment should tell us the danger of letting ourselves go when "the wind is from the east". We should wait until the times change and not give way to dark humors. It can be accomplished if we are but fixed in our determination to encourage cheerful moods and discourage untoward feelings.

We cannot control our feelings, it is true, but by a set purpose we can make them strengthen us.

A. J. Richardson of Independence, but formerly of Buena Vista, sixty years ago. Mrs. Deitrick's dress was seventy years old; also her grandmother's.

Mrs. Egelston's dress belongs to Mrs. Hickman and was 45 years old and would probably have measured seven yards around the bottom.
