SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS MEET

The Polk county Sunday school convention held its first session today in the Christian church. The morning hour was occupied principally by the addresses of welcome, responses, appointment of committees, the round table conference, conducted by the state field worker, Rev. C. A. Phipps, on Sunday school management, was exceedingly interesting and helpful. These round table conferences will be a very profitable part of the convention.

In the afternoon Rev. Farnham, pastor of the Evangelical church at Dallas, gave a very helpful talk on Evangelistic work in the Sunday school. The round table conference was on the subject of "The big boy and how to deal with him." Rev. Mr. Phipps handled this question in a very able manner, giving many helpful points in this line of work.

The evening session was largely taken up with an address on the Louisville convention by Rev. Mr. Phipps. This was the regular triennial convention of the International Sunday School Association. To hear Rev. Mr. Phipps tell of the large auditorium filled with 7000 people and the trained chorus of 600 voices under the leadership of E. O. Excell, that unexcelled musical director, certainly ought to inspire all Sunday school workers to a greater zeal in their own work.

The high-water mark of the convention was reached on the day when the new adult organized bible class work was discussed. In the evening 1200 men, members of organized men's bible classes of Louisville, marched to the auditorium singing their class songs, carrying their banners with class mottoes. When they marched in Rev. Mr. Phipps says the women of the audience actually jumped on chairs and shouted for joy at the sight of 1200 men in the Sunday school work. Rev. Mr. Phipps tells about these things in a very effective way and with wonderful effect on his audience. It is well worth taking the time to hear one of these popular addresses.

Today's session will be full of things to help and encourage Sunday school workers.

The evening service will consist of a popular meeting for everybody. Addresses by Mrs. Additon, state superintendent of temperance work, and Rev. C. A. Phipps, on "The young men of the day." A cordial invitation is extended to the people of Independence to attend these meetings in the Christian church.

Capt. George Skinner died at his home in this city Wednesday morning at 2 o'clock from an attack of diabetes, after an illness of a few days only. Capt. He had operated a launch on the Willamette river between Independence and Salem during the last twelve years.

He came to the Pacific coast in 1882 and to Independence in 1890. He was a native of Ohio, having been born in that state in September, 1847.

SELLING OUT AT COST

Entire stock consisting of Harness, Whips, Blankets, all kinds of strap work, all goods used in harness and saddle making, and Leather Goods must be closed out. I am positively going out of business, and will sell the stock at actual cost.

This is an opportunity for farmers to buy their horse goods at actual cost. It will not be their privilege to again have such a chance, perhaps, in a lifetime to buy at such low prices.

This sale will last only until the first of December. My stock of goods must be sold by that time as the shop will be closed on that date. Other business demanding my attention makes it impossible for me to continue the harness shop in Independence.
