C. G. Long, proprietor of the city meat market will re-open his shop in a few days. There is an interesting story connected with the work of remodeling the building that at once classes Mr. Long as a strategist of first proportions. The ordinance of the city which prohibits repairs on wooden structures within the fire limits of the city conflicted with making improvements on Mr. Long's building. He was not to be outclassed in the work of refitting and repairing the damages which it sustained at the time of the fire a few weeks ago.

and in order to get around the ordinance it is said that all the work of repairs were carefully framed at the mill before the lumber was taken from the yards and rafted to the building during the recent high water. Mr. Long thus made the needed repairs to his building and the city dads were none the wiser until they were told of the work by some disinterested party.

Directions to Prepare Simple, Yet Remarkable Home Mixture

A well-known authority on Rheumatism gives the following valuable, though simple and harmless, prescription, which anyone can easily prepare at home:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Mix by shaking well in a bottle and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost, and being of vegetable extraction, are harmless to take.

This pleasant mixture, is said to overcome almost any case of Rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminished with each dose, until permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach. While there are many so called Rheumatism remedies, patent medicines etc. some of which give relief, few really give permanent results, and the above will no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.

Inquiry at the drug stores of this neighborhood elicits the information that these drugs are harmless and can be bought separately, or the druggists here will mix the prescription for our readers if asked to.

Many readers of the "Enterprise" have come to us in the past for not only their wall coverings but furniture, carpets, etc., for which we are very grateful, and when they come back over and over again we are led to believe there is a reason for their so doing. We are imbued with the idea that if we have faith in our goods, faith in our prices and faith in our customers they will have faith in us.

We are now showing 1909 patterns just fresh from the factory. New combination schemes and colorings. Some of the best effects come in duplex ingrainings which will not fade.

We trust that you will make it a point to study our goods and our methods.
