R. L. Hornbuckle has sold his ranch to a gentleman from Kelso Washington.

Sam Wilson of Portland has rented Mr. Cole's residence and will make Buena Vista his future home.

Several deals in real estate have taken place here in the past few months.

J. O. Hunnicutt and wife of American bottom were Buena Vista visitors Sunday.

E. M. Young of Independence was transacting business here one day this week.

The little launch Louise, of Independence is here towing logs for C. Fisk.

The thermometer in the egg market has dropped another degree.

If you don't care to succeed in life yourself, clear the track for those who have the ambition to succeed.

Don't find fault with your neighbors just because he has done something not quiet to your liking. Perhaps he is settling an old account.

Harry Davidson has successfully passed the examinations for steamboat captain.

The tragic death of R. P. Hall removes from our midst one of Buena Vista's most noble and highly respected citizens.

Mr. Hall was a faithful follower of the teachings of our Lord and Saviour. In him was found the highest, noblest qualities of mankind, we cannot think of him without becoming more loving, charitable and true.

We cannot think of him to often, for our thoughts become a part of us, and we grow to be like that which we love. His greatest deeds were acts of simple kindness tempered with merciful justice, his greatest utterances were simple truths told in simple words.

He glorified the humbleness of humanity so that we can realize its divinity. He did it by his loyalty to state and church. May the Lord bless and cherish those who are mourning the loss of a husband, father and noble citizen, in their hour of distress.

MONMOUTH

J. W. White, Polk county's Page warden wife fence man, was doing business in town Thursday.

Claude Boothby was up from Portland visiting the folks at home during the past week.

Mitchell Butler of Dallas was shaking hands with his old friends here Friday and Saturday.

Miss Rosa Smith was up from Portland Sunday visiting her parents. She is teaching in one of the public schools of that city.

Mrs. Gardener returned from Portland Sunday evening where she had been on an extended visit with her children.

Mrs. Eva Butler returned Saturday evening from Baker City where she had been on an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. R. W. Coulter. She was accompanied home by Mrs. Coulter for an extended visit. There is no place like our own genial climate after all.

It is needless to say Monmouth and the educational world at large were shocked at the way the legislature treated the normal school question.

Mrs. Adah Smith delivered a fine lecture at the Christian church Sunday evening to a large and appreciative audience.

The Independence Commercial Club was partly in attendance at a citizens mass meeting at college chapel Sunday evening in which over $1,000 was raised for continuing our Normal School for the remainder of the present school year. This amount will be paid by $2 citizens of Monmouth. There is more being subscribed as the time goes on by others in the community. The student body will contribute $1,400, and Independence have said they will do their part in furnishing the necessary amount to continue the school.

The names of the legislators who turned down the normal schools of Oregon will be watched by the teachers and people of higher education over the entire state and sister states as well. That there will be nothing good said of them it is safe to say. There was never anything said of graft in connection with O. S. N. S. unless by irresponsible persons who are not compelled to send children to school. But thank God, we have a law compelling parents to school their children. These same old politicians, who have made themselves opulent by scheming and tyranny, would now shrink their taxes and enter into combine to bribe the representatives to sweep the normals from the state.

LUCKIAMUTE

E. Chamberlain of Corvallis spent Saturday with E. E. Hillbrand.

Charles K. Spalding and company made their last log drive on the Luckiamute for this season last Thursday.

To Be Given Absolutely Free The Oregon Magazine Hit of 1909

Jap Libby, Engineer, who did the work of four engines and crews

Portland had tired me out and the kind bartender of the St. Charles Hotel let me sleep on the billiard table, for which I was later discharged from the Good Templar's Lodge in Silverton

Al Coolidge and Jake McClaine, prominent bankers and business men of Silverton in Davenport's younger days

Beginning in the January issue of HUMAN LIFE, the Magazine About People, and running through the twelve months of 1909 will be published a story of his boyhood by Homer Davenport, cartoonist, traveler, humorist, lecturer and man of many stories. The scene of Mr. Davenport's boyhood and young manhood is laid in Oregon and covers many of the people that are well known there today.

Mr. Davenport, for pure and native humor, is the superior of any we have ever met since the days of Artemus Ward. Those who follow Mr. Davenport through this year's issues of HUMAN LIFE will remember 1909 as the year of laughs.

Mr. Davenport's articles will be illustrated by himself, and the pictures he has drawn, representative of his many delightful—that is, delightful to read about—adventures, will constitute not the least part of the fun.

If you want to read this story from the beginning, if you want to see Mr. Davenport's pictures of himself from early boyhood to manhood, his father, his family, and all of his Oregon friends, as only Mr. Davenport can draw them, be sure your name is entered as a subscriber to HUMAN LIFE—the best magazine, for the money, ever published.

Mr. Davenport starts his story at a very early age when his father tells him that they are to move from their farm in Salem, Oregon, to Silverton, Oregon. This is a burg of some three hundred people. Mr. Davenport, in his story, states that he feels that the city is calling them and that his opportunities for studying art in the Latin Quarter of Silverton will be exceptionally good.

The story will carry Mr. Davenport up to his San Francisco days, when he made his first big hit as a cartoonist.

Silverton Trombone Band. "We always played as we drove out of town and with much effort the driver held the team"

Send us your subscription to HUMAN LIFE. We can start you with the January 1909 issue, this is the number in which Mr. Davenport's story commences, and we would call your attention to our wonderful offer at the bottom of this advertisement.

HUMAN LIFE is absolutely original. There is no other magazine dealing with people exclusively. It is filled from cover to cover with stories and pictures of people and will keep the entire family posted as to the actions and doings of all the prominent people of the entire world.

It has the greatest writer in this country of vigorous, virile, pungent, forceful, quaint English, as its editor-in-chief, Alfred Henry Lewis, the caustic contributor to the Saturday Evening Post, Cosmopolitan, Success and many other representative periodicals; the author of "The President," "The Best," "Wolfville," "Andrew Jackson," and other books of story and adventure, every one scintillating with strenuous life. (Mr. Lewis' fingers are upon the public pulse; he knows what the public wants, and he gives them running-over measure. HUMAN LIFE is up-to-date in its fresh, original matter from the best authors and the best artists, and filled to overflowing with human interest.

You will find the great and the almost great, the famous and sometimes infamous, described in HUMAN LIFE, with a knowledge of their little, humanities that is engrossing.

Every man and woman in Oregon should read HUMAN LIFE, the Magazine About People, during 1909—do not fail to read the following most liberal subscription offer and act at once. This offer is not good after May 1st, 1909.

Among the well known writers of the day who contribute to HUMAN LIFE are Charles Edward Russell, Vance Thompson, Upton Sinclair, David Graham Phillips, Elbert Hubbard, Frank Whitlock, David Belasco, Clara Morris, Ada Patterson, Laura Jean Libby, Nanon Tobey and many others.

HUMAN LIFE is unique in that its principal aim is to tell truthful, fascinating, live, up-to-date human tales about real human people—rich people—poor people—good people—bad people—people who have accomplished things—people who are trying to accomplish things—people you want to know about—people that everybody wants to know about.

HUMAN LIFE gives you that intimate knowledge of what such people have done—are doing—what they say—how and where they live and lots of first-hand information that you cannot find elsewhere.

HUMAN LIFE is a great big magazine, printed on fine paper with colored covers and well illustrated, a magazine well worth $1.00 a year and we can strongly recommend HUMAN LIFE to our readers.

A year's subscription to a magazine of superior quality. This will cost you absolutely nothing. If you are not a subscriber of the Enterprise, subscribe now and get the magazine free with a year's subscription to the Enterprise. All subscribers of the Enterprise can secure the magazine free by paying one year in advance on their paper.
