

HE ORGANIZED A NEW GRANGE

Dr. E. V. B. Embree of Dallas, deputy state organizer of the Grange, stopped over in Independence last Friday afternoon on his way home from Olla, Lincoln county, where he organized the pioneer Grange of the county, which will be known as Lincoln Grange, with J. M. Flowers as Master, and S. A. Holmgren secretary. The Grange started off with thirty-two charter members and has a very promising future.

Mr. Embree is very enthusiastic over the future of Lincoln county and predicts that it will be one of the banner counties of the state in a very short time, as the land is very fertile and capable of raising anything that you may plant without irrigation.

Olla is about nine miles south of Yaquina and he says that in order to reach it that he rode on every conceivable conveyance with the exception of an automobile, and what the Saviour rode on into Jerusalem. D. M. Hewitt, one of the substantial farmers of that section, was one of the prime movers in the organization of the Grange.

Fine Oats.

One of the finest specimens of oats ever raised in Polk county was brought in by Frank P. Byers, who resides about a mile and a half west of Independence on the Independence & Monmouth road. The stalk measured six feet and the heads were well filled out. Mr. Byers had only about six acres in the tract and he says that it is the heaviest stand of grain that he has ever raised since he has been in the county. It is on exhibition at the office of Cummins & Davis.

THE GUILTY PARTY

blade and the strength of her arm permitted.

Liz ran out and down the street swift and true as a woodcock flying through a grove of saplings at dusk.

And then followed the big city's biggest shame, handed down from a long ago century of the basest barbarity—the hue and cry. Nowhere but in the big cities does it survive and here most of all, where the ultimate perfection of culture, citizenship and alleged superiority joins bawling in the chase.

They pursued, a shrieking mob of fathers, mothers, lovers and maidens, howling, yelling, calling, whistling, crying for blood.

Knowing her way and hungry for her surcease, she darted down the familiar ways until at last her feet struck the dull solidity of the rotting pier. And then it was but a few more panting steps, and good mother East river took Liz to her bosom, soothing her moodily, but quickly, and settled in five minutes the problem that keeps lights burning o' nights in thousand of pastorate and colleges.

It's mighty funny what kind of dreams one has sometimes. Poets call them visions, but a vision is only a dream in blank verse I dreamed the rest of this story.

I thought I was in the next world and there was a great crowd of us outside the courtroom where the judgments were going on. And every now and then a very beautiful and imposing court officer would come outside the door and call another case in a loud voice.

While I was considering my own wordy sins and wondering whether there would be any use of my trying to prove an alibi by claiming that I lived in New Jersey the bailiff angel came to the door and sang out, "Case No. 99,822,743!"

Up stepped a plain clothes man—there were lots of 'em there, dressed exactly like preachers and hustling us spirits around just as cops do on earth—and by the arm he dragged—whoin, do you think? Why, Liz!

The court officer took her inside and closed the door. I went up to Mr. Fry Cop and inquired about the case.

"A very sad one," says he, laying the points of his manicured fingers together—"an utterly incorrigible girl. I am special terrestrial officer, the Rev. Jones. The case was assigned to me. The girl murdered her fiancé and committed suicide. She had no defense. My report to the court relates the facts in detail, all of which are substantiated by reliable witnesses. The wages of sin is death. Praise the Lord!"

The court officer opened the door and stepped out.

"Poor girl!" said Special Terrestrial Officer the Rev. Jones, with a tear in his eye. "It was one of the saddest cases that I ever met with. Of course she was—"

"Discharged," said the court officer. "Come here, Jonesy. First thing you know you'll be switched to the pot squad. How would you like to be on the missionary force in the south sea islands—hey? Now, you quit making these false arrests or you'll be transferred—see! The guilty party you've got to look for in this case is a red haired, unshaven, untidy man, sitting by the window reading in his stocking feet while his children play in the streets. Get a move on you!"

Now, wasn't that a silly dream?

DANGER IN DELAY

Kidney Diseases Are too Dangerous for Independence People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney trouble is that they get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease follow in merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Cure your kidneys with the certain and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, which has cured people right here in Independence.

Mrs. Melissa Govro, Log Cabin St., Independence, Oregon, says: "I suffered for years from kidney complaint. The secretions from my kidneys were very irregular and caused me great annoyance. I felt languid and tired and had frequent dizzy spells. I ran down in health and used so many medicines without satisfactory results that I did not have much faith in anything. I finally procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. The results were very gratifying and I continued until cured. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to many people suffering from kidney complaint."

THEY LOCATED DESERT LAND

M. W. Mix and Charles Sperling have returned from Harney county where they went to take up desert land, each gentleman securing 320 acres. They arrived in Burns on July 31, and at the time of filing there had been 16,000 acres already taken up. Both of the gentlemen are jubilant over their luck in getting hold of the land, which they say will grow good crops without irrigation, and with water will be equally as good if not better than the Yakima valley or the irrigated district of Umatilla county. As a consequence of the glowing accounts of the opportunities to be grasped in that section there was a great stampede for the promised land. Among those who left this week were: W. W. Perovial, James Hanna, Sam Irvine, D. G. Love, Claude Hubbard, Clint Moore, L. Diamond, W. E. Hodges, Wm. Kurre, Pearl Alexander, C. L. Fitchard and J. M. Jones.
