

NEWS PARAGRAPHS FROM OTHER CITIES IN OREGON

Springfield—The city council is readvertising for bids for a $10,000 issue of sewer bonds.

Wallowa—The city council has ordered all soft-drink houses and billiard parlors to remain closed on Sunday.

Madras—The Deschutes & Harney Telephone Company is the name of a new concern that will build a line from Rosland to Silver Lake.

LaGrande—Adolph Newlin is preparing to construct a lake on his tract of land near town, covering four acres, which he will stock with mountain trout.

Oregon City—Suit has been filed in the circuit court here by the directors of school district No. 27 asking for an injunction against the removal of the Maple Lane school from its present location, as voted at a recent special meeting.

Pendleton—Michael J. Ryan, who was recently found guilty of manslaughter after a trial on a charge of murdering Edward Dixon, has been released under a bond of $10,000, furnished by prominent citizens of this county. Portland—Hereafter Portland will have a much longer fruit season than during former years. Cold storage will be generally utilized by both fruit shippers and commission merchants for the saving of supplies that would otherwise be forced upon an overstocked market.

Salem—Replying to a letter of the National Waterways Commission requesting information regarding the laws governing railways in this state, the State Railroad Commission gives water competition credit for being a potent factor in regulating rates of railroads in Oregon.

Jacksonville—The grand jury after a nine-day session has adjourned. A thorough investigation was made touching the sale of liquor to minors in the county. Eleven indictments were returned charging offenses of this kind and one charging the sale of liquor without license.

Portland—Contracts have been signed in this city for the construction of a 4000-foot jetty on the south side of the Siuslaw bar. Expenditure of $100,000, it is believed, will give an eight-foot channel over the bar, which will afford access to many coasting vessels engaged in the carrying trade. Eugene—The 5-mill tax recently levied by the city council of Creswell was not large enough to raise money to meet the expenses of the city for the coming year and a committee from the council went among the business men and secured subscriptions amounting in the aggregate to $200 to help.

Fossil—At the December term of the circuit court for Wheeler county, J. T. Vickers, who was indicted over a year ago on a charge of horse-stealing and who fled the country and was arrested in Nevada about two weeks ago, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to two and one-half years in the penitentiary and to pay the costs.

North Bend—The four weeks' revival here has come to a close. The meeting was held in a large tabernacle erected for the purpose. Three hundred and twenty-five were converted, 125 of them men. The Mayor, George Mandigo, president of the chamber of commerce, and several of the most prominent business men of the place are among the converts.

Portland—With the temperature of the water standing at 48 degrees, 13 men undertook to swim 1200 feet in the Willamette river Christmas morning and five succeeded, while eight fell by the wayside and were pulled into boats. There were no casualties, but the swimmers turned the color of a boiled lobster, and toward the end they became stiff and their strokes were mechanical. There was not one cramp among the 13.

Portland—Reports of a rich discovery of copper ore at the mouth of the Rogue river in Curry county have been brought to Portland by Isaac A. Muncy, a member of the legislature for that county and a miner of many years' experience in Oregon. Mr. Muncy has placed 50 pounds of the ore on exhibition. It carries a large percentage of native copper, and is said to run high in gold, platinum and iridium. A specimen sample from the croppings on the ledge, upon which only the location work has been performed, runs $150,000 to the ton.

Klamath Falls—The dam which crosses the Lost river outlet of Clear lake, the purpose of which is to make that lake the storage reservoir of the Upper Klamath project, has been completed, and water is accumulating to be carried through distributing canals to irrigate the valleys along the course of Lost river in Oregon, and probably also to irrigate from the south end of the lake a considerable acreage in California. The dam is 35 feet high and 2500 feet long and will increase the area of Clear lake to about 25,000 acres, as a storage reservoir.
