 shown in the school building. It is expected that a public meeting will be held in the school building the night previous when prominent educators of the state will be present to deliver addresses.

REVIVAL GROWS WITH INTENSITY

"Is a revival possible in Independence?" was the query in the minds of the citizens four weeks ago. The united efforts of the various churches, led by Evangelist Taylor, have proved that our city is not beyond resurrection. By earnest preaching much genuine enthusiasm and heart to heart appeals by both ministers and laymen in church, auditorium and places of business, the town has received an unsurpassed moral uplift.
 Last Sunday afternoon the spirit of the meeting was so intense that great stout-hearted men trembled and wept. Five prominent citizens accepted Christ. Those who have been accustomed to attending church services said they never saw anything like it for power and heart searching appeals. In the evening six or seven more came forward. On Monday night eight more came and on Tuesday the revival was on in "old fashioned style." It seemed that the evangelist would not get through receiving the hands of those beginning for Christ. Ever since, the spirit and earnestness have been at a white heat and it is difficult to predict what proportion future meetings will assume. That the revival is giving Independence a great moral boost is admitted, even by those who at first were skeptical.
 Rev. Taylor's able handling of the subjects "Chickens Come Home to Roost," "What Will You Do with Jesus Who is Called the Christ," "Ten Reasons Why I Am a Christian," and many other themes, has brought much conviction, and many who hitherto have been reckless are now seriously considering the question of salvation. Seldom have people been more responsive to the truth and anxious to profit by it. Independence is not beyond reach, which is demonstrated by the fact that over one hundred and fifty were converted up to Wednesday.
 There are three very notable features of the meeting. First, the young children who have been converted have led their parents to Christ. Second, the young converts are establishing family altars in their homes; and third, nearly all of the converts are going into the churches.
 The cottage prayer meetings are being largely attended and it is impossible to ascertain the great amount of good that comes from them.
 The churches raised nearly $300.00 last Sunday to defray expenses of the meeting and pay some of the salary of the singer, Prof. F. F. Leonard, who has been of such great help in the revival. On Wednesday evening a special offering was taken for a poor but worthy family which, because of sickness, is in destitution.
 The amount of the collection was about thirty-two dollars.

 of the Methodist church.

CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENTS

Among the Methodists.
 The Sunday school attendance reached ninety-one last Sunday and not all members were present. The librarian has been compelled to send for more literature. The singing led by Prof. McIntosh has been uplifting.
 The piano, cornet and violin have helped immensely. It is gratifying to note the spirit of the students in building up their classes. Let the good work continue. After the Sunday school the pastor received for membership twenty-seven persons.
 Many who intended to come were hindered because of the storm and sickness. They with those who have signified their intention to unite with the Methodist church since will come next Sunday. The first Sabbath after the revival work we will hold a special service for baptism, reception of members and the Sacrament.
 On Thursday, through the kindness and courtesy of the Baptist church, the Methodists used their baptistry to baptize those who preferred immersion. The church feels kindly towards the sister church for the consideration shown. May God bless the Baptist church.
 All who do not attend other Sunday schools are invited to come to the Methodist next Sunday at 9:45. The church service will begin at 10:35 and all will go to union meeting at 11 o'clock.

Catholic Church.

The service of mass will be observed in the opera house in this city Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.
 All Catholics of Independence and vicinity are invited to attend.—Father H. J. McDevitt.

Baptist Church.

Bible school will be held as usual at 10 a. m. and young people's meeting at 6:30 p. m. on Sunday, January 23. There are no other services at the Baptist church, as all are attending the union meetings. On Thursday afternoon a number of converts were baptized. The same ordinance will be administered on some day of next week, to others who may then be ready to receive it.

Headed for Independence.

Surveying crews of the Oregon Electric are working out of Forest Grove establishing lines that parallel the track of the Southern Pacific.
 The lines have been staked out as far as Gaston. The lines run in the center of the main street of that city, according to reports coming from that section. Moreover, it is the general opinion that the line will be extended as far as Corvallis, as the surveyors when at Gaston asked what sort of country they would encounter. When asked "Do you intend to go up to Corvallis, then?" the chief of the crew said "No!" in a rather non-plussed fashion.—Forest Grove News.

Was Early Settler of Oregon.

Mrs. Eliza G. Emmons, familiarly known as "Aunt" Emmons, died in Dallas last Monday evening at the advanced age of ninety-two years.
 The maiden name of Mrs. Emmons was Garwood and in 1835, at the age of eighteen years, she was married to John H. Robb. In 1852 the couple crossed the plains to Oregon and located on a donation claim near Bethel. They did not remain long on the claim, however, but removed to Dallas. In 1861 Mr. Robb died and in 1862 his widow was married to Johannes Emmons, who held several political offices of prominence in Polk county. Mr. Emmons died in Dallas June 16, 1902, at the age of eighty-two years. Mrs. Emmons was the oldest resident of Dallas and her death was due to the infirmities of old age. She leaves two adopted daughters, Mrs. James Cooper of Independence and Mrs. Samuel Coad of Dallas. She was a member of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Catron Dies in Portland.

Mrs. Eugene Catron died in Portland Saturday and her remains were brought to Monmouth Tuesday for burial. She is survived by a husband and three small children.

Mrs. Catron was born in Pendleton, being the daughter of J. W. Shelton, and was married at that place to Eugene Catron.

Mr. Catron's people were pioneers of Oregon. His father was a physician who came to Monmouth in the early 50's and who has been dead many years. His mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Catron, is living in Monmouth at the present time.

Rev. Wood of Monmouth preached the funeral service and the remains were laid to rest in the K. of P. cemetery south of that city.

Grocers' Convention Next Week.

Grocers of the state will gather at Eugene January 26 and 27 for the annual convention of the Oregon Retail Grocers' Association. There is a splendid program of deep interest to the dealers in foodstuffs and the attendance is expected to be the largest in the history of the state association. Problems coming up in the grocery business will be discussed and mutual help gained from the interchange of ideas of the various dealers.

Announcement.

John H. McNary and Charles L.
 McNary announce that on and after February 1, 1910, they will remove from their present quarters and establish their law office at rooms 305, 306, 307 and 308 United States Bank Building, at the corner of State and Commercial Streets, Salem, Ore. 33-5

Buggy Demolished in Runaway.

A lively runaway occurred yesterday afternoon when the horse driven to town by Miss Hazel Lorence took fright and ran away. The horse was left standing hitched to the buggy in the alley at Guy Walker's residence where Miss Lorence was visiting Mrs.

 Walker. Some school children came down the street on roller skates which frightened the horse and the runaway followed as above stated.
 The horse ran through the alley and turned down C street and went foul of a tree on the school grounds. The buggy was badly demolished. E. E.
 Paddock was the hero of the hour.
 Catching the runaway horse he hitched it up to his buggy and sent Miss Lorence on her homeward way rejoicing it is hoped, but sad over the destruction of the rig.

A. Goeddertz, Jr., and wife of Sweet Grass, Montana, were here on a visit to Wm. Dawes and he took a trip down to Astoria and Seaside with them. They had a pleasant trip sight-seeing, only that they were caught in a severe storm Monday evening when they were going from Portland to Astoria on the river.
 Mr. Dawes says that below Portland there is a great quantity of ice in the Columbia river and from two to five inches of snow on the ground.
 At Marshfield there are four large dredgers at work reclaiming the swamps at that place. Mr. Dawes returned to Independence Wednesday night.
