

DEEDS NOT WORDS

Independence People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home.

It's not words, but deeds that prove true merit.

The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills. For Independence kidney sufferers, have made their local reputation.

Proof lies in the testimony of Independence people who have been cured to stay cured.

Mrs. Melissa Govro, Log Cabin St., Independence, Ore., says: "I suffered for years from kidney complaint, the principal symptoms being a retention of the kidney secretions and nervousness. I was also subject to headaches and dizzy spells. I felt weak and run down and hardly knew what to do to find relief, as I had doctored a great deal without being benefited. I finally began using Doan's Kidney Pills and in less than a week I was helped. The contents of four boxes of this remedy made me feel like a different woman, ridding me of the kidney difficulties and strengthening my back. My kidneys are now normal and I feel better in every way."

The above statement was given Sept. 7, 1907 and on Dec. 9, 1909 Mrs. Govro said: "The statement I gave for publication in 1907, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills still holds good."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

A Common Cold

We claim that if catching cold could be avoided some of the most dangerous and fatal diseases would never be heard of. A cold often forms a culture bed for germs of infectious diseases. Consumption, pneumonia, diphtheria and scarlet fever, four of the most dangerous and fatal diseases, are of this class. The culture bed formed by the cold favors the development of the germs of these diseases, that would not otherwise find lodgment. There is little danger, however, of any of these diseases being contracted when a good expectorant cough medicine like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It cleans out these culture beds that favor the development of the germs of these diseases. That is why this remedy has proved so universally successful in preventing pneumonia. It not only cures your cold quickly, but minimizes the risk of contracting these dangerous diseases. For sale by P. M. Kirkland.

Civic Ugliness.

Civic ugliness is not an asset. Startlingly municipal house-keeping attracts neither residents nor investors. Such inexcusable transgression cannot but react, and eventually it will be found that the way of the transgressor is indeed hard. To be known as a beautiful village marks the place as a budding city. A beautiful city soon becomes a mighty city. A beautiful country soon develops into a land of splendid homes, inhabited by a superior class of citizens. Everything eventually yields to the irresistible charms of beauty, whether amidst the noisy strife of artificial city life or among green fields and meadows "brown and sear." The upshot of it all is to keep spic and span not only with our own premises, but to join with our neighbors in a co-operative movement to care for public property in a manner that will commend our community to all visitors as a live, up to date, progressive place in which to permanently reside.

Ask the man who knows, the man who now has a bearing orchard, or the man that probably has some five or six year old trees that has refused $600 or $700 per acre for his orchard, not the man that sits around and waits for something to happen. 37if

Deception in Trade Harmful to Merchant and Should Be Stopped.

Among the steps of progress to be recorded in our young national career are the increased honesty and diminished dishonesty of commercial advertising. The change is perhaps most noticeable in that hybrid and amphibious trade of "dry goods." The public is now quite used to seeing the sale of such wares announced in fairly plain terms, without spurious allurements of euphemism or eulogy, whereas twenty or thirty years ago lying was thought to be a matter of common sense by shopkeepers who advertised. Of course all advertising has a commercial basis, whether it makes known a railway time table or a school course, a brand of whisky or a church service. Meanwhile the pleasing improvement in "dry goods" advertising has reached the remarkable degree of at least one merchant setting forth the relative advantages and disadvantages of two articles offered to the public. This Brutus of business says concerning one kind of raincoat that it is "not absolutely water tight," though "proof against an ordinary shower." The other kind, he tells you, "is water tight," but, since the body's heat and moisture do not escape, this accumulation or secretion "dampens the inside of the coat besides making the wearer uncomfortably hot." Is it not rather a new thing for a trader to pay money to a newspaper for telling the public the defects of things he wants to sell?

For that Terrible Itching. Eczema, tetter and salt rheum keep their victims in perpetual torment.

The application of Chamberlain's Salve will instantly allay this itching, and many cases have been cured by its use. For sale by P. M. Kirkland.

Marlin
12 Gauge Repeating Shotgun

The 12 gauge Marlin repeater is a gun of perfect proportions, and has one-third less parts than any other repeater. It handles quickly, works smoothly and shoots close and hard.

The Marlin solid top prevents powder and gases blowing back; the side ejection of shells allows instant repeat shots; the closed-in breechbolt keeps out all rain, snow and sleet, and the dirt, leaves, twigs and sand that clog up other repeaters.

All 12-gauge Marlin repeaters have double extractors that pull any shell, and the automatic recoil hanging safety lock makes them the safest breech-loading guns built.

Marlin 12 gauge repeaters in three distinct models, many grades and styles, fully described in our 130-page catalog. Free for 3 stamps postage.
