Object to Strong Medicines

Many people object to taking the strong medicines usually prescribed by physicians for rheumatism. There is no need of internal treatment in any case of muscular or chronic rheumatism, and more than nine out of every ten cases of the disease are of one or the other of these varieties.

When there is no fever and little (if any) swelling, you may know that it is only necessary to apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely to get quick relief. Try it. For sale by P. M. Kirkland.

GLEE CLUB MUCH ENJOYED

club captured the audience from the start. They were compelled to give encore after encore to satisfy their captives. Occasionally they had one of their number, Mr. Perry Rigelman, step out alone and give some very humorous and taking readings. "No. 5 Collect Street" alone was worth the price of admission. The young man also showed the ladies how to sew. After it was thought that he had displayed his powers sufficiently it was decided to send out Mr. Luke Rader who gave the local young people excellent lessons in laughing. It is presumed that Mr. Rader, by virtue of his very genial nature has laughed so much in his life that he has certainly fully mastered all the complicated intricacies connected therewith. The male quartette was also sent forth. With voices blending into one excellent harmony they held the fort for a season. But it was ordained for the glee club to return. After giving a number of selections which were highly appreciated they gave a few grand old college songs closing with "Oh Take Me Back," one that could not fail to moisten the eyes of all who have ever spent any time in college. Right here the boys had their grips so tightened upon the people that none could escape. After capturing the people by battle No. 1 they soothed the sorrows of all their captives by a very laughable farce.

Soon it was time to say farewell and the glee club returned via the steamer Independence to Salem. They won the hearts of the city and are truly welcomed back.

Bring Valuable Horse

A heavy imported French draft horse, the property of W. S. Cooper and J. L. Hanna, is being shown at the Independence Feed Barn. Messrs Cooper and Hanna will organize a breeding association to take the horse over for breeding purposes in the vicinity of this city. The horse is a steel gray weighing 2100 pounds. This fine horse has never failed to take down prizes at all horse shows everywhere he has been shown, from Chicago west. It is a fine opportunity for horse enthusiasts to get the services of a valuable stallion of this breeding. The horse is seven years old and was imported to this country by McLaughlin Bros.
