RAISING CATTLE FOR BEEF WHEN YOU GO TO PORTLAND, STOP AT THE

Sattle Should Be Selected From Such Breeds as Shorthorns, Herefords, Angus and Galloway.

(By W. B. RICHARDES Many farmers continue to raise cattle for market for boot purposes from stock that do not possess any blood of the beef breed, and consequently they lack what is known as the beef type. It is impossible to produce beef economically from cattle of the dairy type, or even from cattle that possess any considerable amount of this blood.

To produce an animal of the beef type it is necessary to use the beel and Galloway. Cattle of this breeding put on flesh very much more rap idly and of a better quality.

seed makes a much more economical ticipate in the local exhibition. use of it, insuring a more even and larger germination of the seed, because of its being placed at a uniform depth in moist soil. Where drilled in, the seed should not be sown deeper than an inch and a half, care being taken to set the drill to seed shallowly. Where the shallow seed bed recommended for small seed has been prepared and the ground is firm, the drill wheels should not sink in deeply enough to place the seed below the depth "recommended. Where a grass seeder attachment for the drill is had it is merely necessary to connect the grass seeder box to the grain tubes so that the alfalfa seed will be drilled in in the regular manner. Where there is no grass seeder attachment the alfalfa may be mixed with meal at the rate of one-third part of alfalfa seed to two-thirds corn meal or ground barley, and the mixture put in the grain hopper box and sown like grain at the rate of about one bushel per acre for Western Oregon seeding. This would make about eighteen pounds of seed per acre. Owing to the universal lower germination of alfalfa seed this year (the average germination of all the samples received at the Corvallis seed testing laboratory being about 85 per cent, instead of the mormal 95 per cent), the heavier seeding named is recommended. Where the seed is broadcasted by hand or with a chest seeder not less than twenty pounds of seed should be "used, and this should be harrowed in. As I have mentioned in previous articles, the alfalfa seed should, of course, have been sent in to the seed testing laboratory for examination as to purity and germination before purchase or seeding, to be cer-tain that the seed has sufficient vitality to make a stand and is free from dangerous weed seed, such as dodder.

It is equally important, of course,

that the alfalfa ground should be free

ARE YOU RUPTURED?

Two Sides to a Crime.

It is all part of our tendency to be kind and considerate to lawbreakers; to think of the family of the man who has killed somebody instead of considering the family of his victim; to lay stress on the devotion of the relatives of the man who has looted a bank, rather than to take into account the broken depositors and their sharp sufferings. Hence the general approval of the fantastic extension of the pardoning power, which meets with no ceal, sane disapproval.-New York Evening Sun.

Will Inherit at Sixty-Five. The will of Mrs. Mary Olmstead of Brooklyn, filed in the surrogate's office in Kings county recently, makes a prevision that none of the legatees are to receive their share of the estate until they reach the age of sixtyfive years, except in the case of the two grandchildren, who will receive their share when they become thirtyfive years of age.

To Stop Nosebleed.

One of the commonest complaints among children is bleeding of the nose, and the remedies to be applied are of the simplest. A small wad of white paper inserted under the tongue or under the upper lip is generally all that is needed to stop an ordinary nosebleed, although pads of cotton dipped in ice water and placed at the back of the neck is the standby of many mothers.
