ARE YOU GOING TO ASTORIA?

Words Written by Rob Roy Parrish, for the Enterprise.

Are you going to Astoria? To Astoria by the sea?
Go rejoice with them in this their centennial jubilee;
They'll celebrate the great event just because they think it best
To show the world our flag unfurled at Astoria of the West.
Are you going to Astoria, ye our honored Pioneers?
Will you meet and greet some friends you knew in your historic years?
They very greatly wish you there, ah, the world it knows your story!
We are proud of Oregon, and her Star upon "Old Glory!"
They are going from the east, they are going from the west;
Showing glad appreciation of this region "Freedom's best!"
They'll sing the songs our fathers sang, noblest anthems of the free,
With spirit of devotion, at Astoria by the sea!

Chorus.
At Astoria by the sea!
At Astoria by the sea
With a vim that will attest
Willing worth of winsome West,
Be and have a peaceful part
With the joy of happy heart
Joining them in jubilee
At Astoria by the sea!

ANNOUNCEMENT

With this issue the writer severa his connection with the publication of The Independence Enterprise, the plant, subscription list and good will of the paper having been sold to H. F. McInturff, who will take possession July 1st. All bills due on advertising and job printing will be payable to H. E. Browne, and all bills due on subscription will be payable to H. F. McInturff, who will also finish the unexpired terms of subscription. The undersigned will remain here indefinitely as an employee and have charge of the mechanical department, and Dr. N. J. McInturff and his son, H. F. McInturff, will have charge of the editorial department. Dr. McInturff is a capable man and is able to serve the people in this capacity better than the writer can possibly serve you. He has had wide experience in the editorial work, having previously been identified with two different papers, and is a literary man of more than average ability.

We sincerely hope that the people of Independence will see the need of a live paper in the work of developing the resources of this vicinity and will give the Enterprise their unanimous support.

We have no regret in turning the paper over to these capable men. We have endeavored to give the people of Independence a good paper, and our all absorbing desire has been to better the conditions of Independence in every respect, but our efforts have been met with discouragements, possibly chief among which is incapability. No paper can succeed and be a help to a community without patronage. No matter how capable the publisher, his greatest efforts will be of no avail without the earnest co-operation of the business men and citizens at large. And if you expect to maintain a live paper in your community—a paper which will be a credit to the town and a help to your business—you must encourage it.

We have met with many warm friends in Independence, friends who have endeavored to be friends in the true sense of the word, and to you we extend our sincere thanks.

Trusting that the people of Independence will give the Enterprise more encouragement under its new management than it has been given in the past, and that the change has been made for the good of all concerned, I remain,

Fraternally Yours,
Henry E. Browne.

THE CROWNING OF KING GEORGE

Well King George is crowned—his vanity, in part at least, has been satisfied. The busy world has turned its head to see the spectacle and now pushes on to try to earn its daily bread.

The tinsel and show; the glare and dazzle have surely had their full display. Millions of money have been wasted while one third of England's population went to bed hungry on the coronation night and to work next day the same. Had England's king been great enough and England's statesmen far-seeing enough to have used these worse than wasted millions to help the poor, and better the country, the king would not to have needed to feel badly because his subjects did not cheer themselves hoarse on the day of his coronation.

The world grows more and more practical and cares less and less for show. Gradually we are emerging from the long night of ignorance and superstition; also from man-worship and sometime in the long years yet unborn we become civilized, we may in a measure take our intended place in the development of the race.

AN UNFORTUNATE OVERSIGHT

Independence did a great thing the past week—She graduated, from her High school, her first pupil. It seems too bad that mere was not made of it for it was surely an historic event. What if there was only one, did that one not deserve the more because alone he struggled on and made the home run, because he was the forerunner of the hundreds yet to graduate here?

To allow him to graduate without public appreciation and notice was an oversight to say the least.

WISCONSINITES WILL PICNIC

All people who have lived in Wisconsin, or for any period have resided in that state, are requested to bring their lunch baskets and go to the state fair grounds, at Salem, July Fourth, to celebrate the Nation's birthday and to hold the annual Wisconsin picnic.

Former residents of the Badger state met in the office of Judge Dan Webster last night and formulated plans for the forthcoming event. They expect everyone that ever slept on Wisconsin soil to take part. The picnic will be in the nature of a basket affair, and an impromptu program consisting of music, speeches, etc., will be given.

Last year there were between two and three thousand present at the picnic, and it is expected that about five hundred will show up this year. The picnic will commence at 10 in the morning and last until 4 in the afternoon.

Evening service, "How to persuade More People to come to Independence to live." Both of these are living, practical subjects. The latter is one that the Commercial Club is grappling with, and while we do not desire to have the appearance of a booster, we can give a pointer or two worth hearing. —H. Campbell Clark, Minister.

FOR CONSTIPATION.

A Medicine That Does Not Cost Anything Unless It Cures.

The active medicinal ingredients of Rexall Orderlies, which are odorless, tasteless and colorless, is an entirely new discovery. Combined with other extremely valuable ingredients, it forms a perfect bowel regulator, intestinal invigorator and strengthener. Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy and are notable for their agreeableness to the palate and gentleness of action. They do not cause griping or any disagreeable effect or inconvenience.

Unlike other preparations for a like purpose, they do not create a habit, but instead they overcome the cause of habit acquired through the use of ordinary laxatives, cathartics and harsh physic, and permanently remove the cause of constipation or irregular bowel action.

We will refund your money without argument if they do not do as we say they will. Two sizes, 25c and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. For sale by Williams Drug Co.

WATCHES

About Buying a Watch—We like to see people pleased; when they buy a thing it's a pleasure to see them more satisfied the longer they use it. We are watch merchants to be sure, but what is more, we are watch specialists, watch lovers, if you will permit the expression, for a watch is not a piece of mere merchandise to us. It is a living, pulsing thing—an example of the most exquisite handicraft of human ingenuity.
