

NEWS FROM OTHER TOWNS

MONMOUTH

The house and lot on Main street, belonging to Thos. Small, have been sold, through the Western Realty Co. to Mr. Steinburg, of Jefferson. Mr. Steinburg is coming to the normal school town to educate his four daughters, two of whom are ready to enter the school. Mr. and Mrs. Small will soon move to Portland, where they resided before coming here.

Miss Mable Manerude is visiting with Misses Mable and Hazel Lorraine at their home, just north of Monmouth. Miss Manerude is a resident of Eugene.

Miss Marguerite Egan, of Salem, and Mr. Joe Rothchild, of Portland, were week end visitors at the Lorraine home.

Every one is busy in and around Monmouth. A report from each portion of the surrounding country is to the effect that crop conditions are excellent and that a bountiful harvest is at hand. Most of the oats and vetch is already cut. Some of it is being put into barns while a good portion of it is waiting to be baled.

Monmouth has a new and complete clothing and dry goods store, which has been doing a large business all this week. Mr. Portwood, who has bought one half interest in Muscott's grocery store, has been working consistently the last few weeks enlarging the store room and putting in a new and complete line of dry goods and clothing. The stock includes everything in shoes, boots, gloves, ladies' fancy and summer dress goods, as well as notions. Mr. Portwood, who is in charge of this department, is a man who is well and favorably known in the community and the prices and service are bound to be right.

Mr. Will and John Bogynska, two well known Monmouth boys, have been working for the past week getting their eight horse power baler in shape for the summer run. They will start baling about Friday at the farm of Mr. Heffley and after they have completed a few jobs in that locality, will start out through the Sugar country.

Mr. Cornelius will leave for Portland and the east, about the last of this week. He is working at stocks and bonds and for this he is going.

THIS WEEK'S BIT OF VERSE WITH LOVE—FROM MOTHER

There's a letter on the bottom of the pile,
Its envelope a faded yellow brown.
It has traveled to the city many a mile,
And the post mark names a little unknown town.
But the hurried man of business pushes
As all the others by
And on the scrawly characters he turns
A glistening eye.
He forgets the cares of commerce
And his anxious schemes for gain.
The while he reads what mother writes
From up in Maine.
There are quirks and scratchey quavers
Of the pen
Where it struggled in the fingers
Old and bent.
There are places that he has to read
Again
And ponder on to find what mother meant.
There are letters on his table that
Enclose some bouncing checks,
There are letters giving promises of
Profits on his "specs"
But he tosses all the litter by, forgets
The golden rain,
Until he reads what mother writes
From up in Maine.
At last he finds "with love—we all are Well."
And softly lays the homely letter
Down,
And dashes at his headlong tasks
pellmell,
Once more the busy, anxious man
Of town.
But whenever in his duties as the
rushing moments fly
That faded little envelope smiles up
to meet his eye,
He turns again to labor with a stronger,
truer brain.
From thinking what the mother wrote
from up in Maine.
Through all the day he dictates brisk
replies,
To his amanuensis at his side,
The curt a stern demand, and business lies.
The doubting man cajoled, and threat
defied.
And then at dusk when all are gone
he drops his worldly mask,
And takes his pen and lovingly performs
a welcome task:
For never shall the clicking type or
shortened scrawl profane
The message to the dear old home up there in Maine.

This is the Right Place to Come for FURNITURE

- ☛ We are as sure of that as we were ever sure of anything. Our present problem is to convince all those who may need Furniture of this fact.
- ☛ Ten minutes spent in our store will do more convincing than a page of newspaper talk.
- ☛ Glad to have the ladies drop in any time they are down town.
- ☛ Always something new to show them. If it isn't new arrivals in Bedsteads, it's Dining Room Furniture in artistic designs, or it's Couches, or Tables or Chairs.
- ☛ It may be this, that or the other that we wish particularly to have the ladies look at—but it's ALWAYS SOMETHING. Impossible to bother us.
