Great Boys' Conference at Corvallis

On December 1st, the Friday following Thanksgiving Day, there will assemble at Corvallis between a hundred and fifty and two hundred of the picked boys of Oregon for a conference to last three days. This conference will be the sixth Annual Boys' Conference held under the auspices of the Oregon-Idaho Y. M. C. A. and is open to any boy over 14 representing any Boys' Bible Study Club or Sunday School Class in the state.

The good people of Corvallis are throwing open their homes to the boys and entertainment will be provided for all bona fide delegates. The Oregon Agricultural College Y. M. C. A. men are planning to assist in entertaining the boys and will give them a banquet in their building on Saturday evening. The College men will also serve as guides taking the boys over the campus and through all the buildings.

Agriculture in the Far East

O. A. C., CORVALLIS, ORE., Nov. 16.—At the November meeting of the Agricultural Club of the Oregon Agricultural College, Dr. J. R. N. Bell, formerly of Independence, described the agriculture of the Far East as he noted it in his recent trip abroad. The program also included a talk by Motchi Kawashima of Tokyo, Japan, on "Seattle Markets;" a discussion of horticulture by Paul Mehl of Chicago, and a musical selection by C. L. George of Portland and Luther McGinnis of Corvallis.

In his address Dr. Bell dwelt particularly on the great opportunities for agricultural development in Russia and Siberia. In 1881 only 260 people applied to go to Siberia, while last year about 6,000,000 applied to the government for supplies for that purpose. Each person is given, by the government, $51.50 in cash and a like amount in supplies.

The Po Valley, Dr. Bell said, is about the same area as the Willamette Valley, but has not the same diversity of farming, the river water is muddy, and every time the river overflows it leaves a deposit of mud which acts as a fertilizer. Intensive agriculture is practiced, every available foot of ground being under cultivation. The fruits raised are of inferior size, however, compared to those of this country.

Oregon Dairyman's Association

The program for the twentieth annual meeting of the Oregon Dairyman's Association, to be held in Portland December 7-8, has been issued and it contains a great deal that will be of much interest to the keepers of cows. Addresses by practical experts and exhibits showing improved methods will be seen. Nothing can be of greater value, not only to those actively engaged in the dairy industry, but to the whole state.

A large attendance at the sessions of the convention is expected. Butter and cheese makers will meet in Portland at about the same time.

Church of Christ Announcements Next Lord's Day we have preaching services twice. Our morning subject will be, "Move Forward" and our evening subject, "The Witness of the Holy Spirit."

There is much rant bosh and erroneous views taught on the latter subject, and we invite your presence to hear the scriptures, alone. Some professed Christians are afraid to hear the gospel because it disproves their belief. Are you one? If not, come. Such a one will never reach their Heavenly Home.

H. Campbell Clark, Minister.
