

ARE YOU GOING TO BUILD?

Let us quote you a price on all of your
LUMBER AND MILL WORK

We will be pleased to send our salesman to call on you, upon request by mail or telephone.

DALLAS LUMBER & LOGGING CO.
Dallas, - - - Oregon

NEWS FROM OTHER TOWNS

AMERICAN BOTTOM

Miss Deena Miller, of Independence, visited with her sister, Mrs. A. Sloper, the last of last week.

Our phone line has been out of commission the most of the week, and we have all been inconvenienced to a great extent.

Mrs. A. McLaughlin of Corvallis, visited with her brother, Lester Durrell and family, last week.

Mrs. Arch Sloper was an Independence visitor on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Bloch took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Percival on Sunday.

The veterinary was out to John Compton's again on Monday.

Linn Lester and wife are at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kizer, this week. Mr. Lester is helping Mr. Kizer with his farming.

Mr. Clarence Burroughs was an Independence visitor on Wednesday.

Mrs. Kizer took her little son, Fred, to see the doctor on Monday, there are lots of sore throats around now.

ANTIOCH

Miss Addie Clinton did some shopping in Monmouth last Friday.

School Superintendent Harry Seymour, visited the Sunny Slope school one day last week.

Dave Olin put in some concrete sidewalk for R. M. Smith of Monmouth, the first of last week.

Mrs. Chandler, of Airle, was a guest of her sister, Mrs. Lizzie Olin and family, Thursday and Friday.

Miss Clara Pechin, our school teacher, spent Saturday visiting with her sisters at Monmouth.

Mrs. John Riggle and daughter, Mary Harth, of Independence, visited her daughter, Mrs. Edward Wunder and family last Friday.

Henry Lehman, of near Oak Point, was seen in this vicinity last Sunday. Tom Marks, wife and family, of Reckrell, were guests of Mrs. Marks parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Walker, last Sunday.

A. J. Shipley was a business visitor to Monmouth last Saturday.

Miss Fannie Calman is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lehman of near Oak Point.

W. C. T. U. Holds Meeting

The W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. Morgan who reported the different donations to be as follows: Mrs. Dewey Hill—$1.00; Mrs. Homer Hill—$.50; Mrs. Merwin—$.25; Mrs. Dr. Allen—$.25. Mrs. Floyd Williams and Mrs. Ed. Owen gave clothing.

These donations have been given to the Boys' and Girls' Aid of Portland through Miss Newman, their agent. This is one of the departments of the W.C.T.U. work. The ladies are now planning for a union service the last Sunday in December, the program of which will be announced later.

Our next meeting will be held at the home of Lew Whiteaker on the second Wednesday in December.

Well Drilling

We are equipped with the latest machinery for well drilling and can do first class work on short notice. Wells drilled for irrigation and pumping plants installed. 20-p-24.

Sloper Brothers.

Lost His Thanksgiving Dinner

Although the colored population of Independence is represented by the minus sign, yet the evidences tend to prove that there is some one here with a colored tendency toward the lawful appropriating of fowls.

On Monday morning as Charlie McCaulay was crossing one of the Hill fields he found a sack. Upon investigation Charlie discovered the fact that there were two chickens in the sack. The birds, so said Charlie, were thoroughbred Plymouth Rocks and had not been dead very long. One of them was a "rooster" and the other was a fine, young hen, both were fat and in just the condition to make someone a good Thanksgiving dinner.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Next Lord's day morning our subject will be "The Great Defender of the Faith," and the evening subject will be "The Syrian who did not want to wash in the Jordan River." Come and hear these themes. You are wanted, invited, and will be welcome. Can all understand the way of Salvation alike? Unhesitatingly, we answer "yes." Then why don't all? Is the fault with Christ? No, it is with poor, prejudiced man, and no where else. Come to the Christ Truth.

H. CAMPBELL CLARK, Minister.

Notice of Stockholders' Meeting
Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Independence & Monmouth Railway Company will be held at the Independence National Bank in Independence, Oregon, on the 30th day of December, 1911, at the hour of 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of electing officers for said company for the ensuing year and for the transaction of other business that may properly come before said meeting.

D. W. SEARS, Secretary.
Dated November 17, 1911. 25-31.

A THANKSGIVING SURPRISE (Continued from page 2.)

SHE WRAPPED HERSELF UP AND MANAGED TO LIGHT THE KITCHEN FIRE.

panes overlooking the chicken yard. She could hear the wall of the baby and the coughs of the older ones.

"I just can't do it," she muttered and at last returned to the house, ill at ease and chilled to the bone.

She piled wood into the stove till the kitchen was stifling, but she could not get warm. Her teeth chattered in a chill, and in spite of hot lemonade and Jamaica ginger Miss Abby had to go to bed in the middle of the afternoon with hot flatirons at her feet and a mustard plaster on her chest.

She fell into a doze, broken by visions of the hungry little faces next door. She wished she had at least taken them over some vegetables. "I will—long about night," she muttered and fell into a strange, wretched sleep.

When she awoke it was night and very cold. Pains stabbed her chest sharply, and her head throbbed dizzily. Then she seemed delicious and heard the babbling of hungry children. Then she went completely out of her head.

She came at last to herself, weak and feeble. The bedroom was very cold, but the fever was gone and the stabbing pains. She wrapped herself up and managed to light the kitchen fire, creeping back to bed till things warmed up. The door of the Bean house slammed, and she heard a child cough. When the warmth from the kitchen filled her room she rose and went out to get some breakfast. She had never felt so weak in her life. She put on the coffee pot.

Miss Abby sat eating her toast with her feet in the oven. Mrs. Bean knocked and entered.

"Land sakes! Air you sick?" "Sick! I ain't feelin' very spry," said Miss Abby sharply. "I went to bed yestiddy afternoon, I felt so sick!"

"We ain't seen you out this mornin', an' as it's Thursday an' Thanksgiving we s'posed you had had news that called you away in the night. The children's been feedin' the hens an' the turkey—the ones that ain't whoopin'."

"What you talkin' about?" snapped Miss Abby. "This is Thanksgiving, ain't it? I'm too sick to recollect it."

"I come to see if I could do somethin' fer you all. You look mighty peaked," said Mrs. Bean. Miss Abby shook her head, and the woman was almost to the door when Miss Abby recalled her.

"Is your man at home?" she began abruptly, while Mrs. Bean stared.

"Well, then, would he be the big turkey for me?" "Why, sure, he would! You all air weak, an' that turkey looks mighty hefty."

"And can you come over and help me cook him?" Miss Abby went on. "I shall need help with the rest of the dinner, too, if I don't feel any sprier'n I do now. You can bring the baby and leave the others with him till dinner's ready. Then I want you should fetch them all over and let them eat all the turkey they can hold. I don't feel's if I could get away with more than ten pounds myself," she concluded grimly.

The woman stood still staring, too astonished to express her gratitude even had she known how.

"Well," commanded Miss Abby, "if we don't get on the move dinner won't be ready before midnight."

"Yes'm," agreed the woman, letting herself out of the door. She sped across the yard more quickly than Miss Abby had ever yet seen her move.

"It'll take me a week to clean up after them, and it's encouraging that shiftless man," grumbled Miss Abby.

Then she heard from the Bean house a yell of joy that utterly demolished her New England conscience for the time being and sent a warm glow to the uttermost depths of her human heart. And she set to work on a dinner that was a record breaker in the Bean experiences.

No Suffragettes in Plymouth.
Governor Bradford of Massachusetts specified that, "besides waterfowl, there was a great store of wild turkeys" for their first Thanksgiving feast, 1621, by which it is plain that our ancestors inaugurated the custom of the turkey on Thanksgiving day.

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

But chefs were not numerous in Plymouth. The first feast, at which there were fifty-five white men and ninety Indians, was prepared by "four women, one servant and a few maid-kings." Poor women! How they must have sighed for their day of emancipation!

YOU ARE SO OFTEN JUDGED

By YOUR APPEARANCE that every man should be most particular about his Clothes, especially when being well dressed costs so little as it does with us. We can fit you from top to toe at a cost so small it will surprise you. In you get every thing that's the best. We guarantee every Suit or Overcoat we sell to be strictly All Wool and Hand Tailored. At these prices

BISHOPS READY MADE .. TAILORED CLOTHES ..

$12.50 to $30.00

you get the finest Clothing made for the money.

IN HATS we have all the new "fuzzy" styles
$3.00 $4.00 $5.00

"Just Wright" SHOES for style & service are the best, $4.00 to $6.00.

Salem Woolen Mills Store

LARGEST MEN'S CLOTHING STORE IN THE VALLEY
SALEM, R. P. BISHOP, Manager OREGON

named defendant:
IN THE NAME OF THE STATE OF OREGON
You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above named entitled court and suit on or before Six weeks from date of the first publication of this summons and you are further notified, that if you fail so to appear and answer the plaintiff will apply to the court for relief therein demanded, to-wit:

matrimony now existing between you and the plaintiff, that she be awarded the custody of the two minor children, namely, William Franklin Snyder and Geneva Isabella Snyder, that she be authorized to resume her maiden name of "Judith Steele," for her costs and disbursements in this suit and for such other and further relief as to equity appeareth just.
This summons is published once a week for a period of six successive and consecutive weeks in the Independence Enterprise, beginning with the issue of Nov. 17th, 1911 and ending with the issue of December, 29th, 1911, under and in pursuance of the directions contained in an order of publication of summons made herein by Hon. Ed. F. Coad, County Judge of Polk County, State of Oregon, made and dated at Chambers at Dallas, Polk County, Oregon, Nov. 11th, 1911; Date of first publication Nov. 17th, 1911 and date of last publication Dec. 29th, 1911.
B. F. Swobe,
Attorney for Plaintiff.

GREAT DISCOUNTS OFFERED

THE GREAT CLEARING SALE AT OUR STORE IS A THING OF THE PAST, AND IT WAS A SUCCESS IN EVERY RESPECT, BUT THERE ARE A FEW PIECES LEFT IN STOCK THAT MUST BE DISPOSED OF AT A SACRIFICE TO US. NOTE THE FOLLOWING:

Baby Buggies 25 per cent off.
Printed wall paper 20 per cent off.
Bamboo goods 50 per cent off.
Many other things accordingly.
Investigate these reductions and the goods.

BICE & CALBREATH

INDEPENDENCE

OREGON

BUY

LUMBER

FROM

THE CHAS. K. SPAULDING LOGGING CO.

Both Phones

Independence, Oregon

DEPARTMENT NO 2
In the Circuit Court of the state of Oregon for Polk County.
Judith Snyder, Plaintiff, vs.
Benjamin F. Snyder, Defendant.
To Benjamin F. Snyder, the above