Kaaba of Mecca; and the great stone of the pyramid of Cholula, in Mexico; owe their sanctity to the belief that they had fallen from heaven.

As to Buying.
Whatever we wish to buy, we ought first to consider not only if the thing be fit for us, but if the manufacture of it be a wholesome and happy one; and if, on the whole, the sum we are going to spend will do as much good spent in this way as it would if spent in any other way.—Ruskin.

RECORD OF A GREAT MEDICINE

Doctors Could Not Help Mrs.
Templeton—Regained
Health through Lydia E.
Pinkham's Compound.

Hooper, Nebraska.—"I am very glad to tell how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped me. For five years I suffered from female troubles so I was scarcely able to do my work. I took doctors' medicines and used local treatments but was not helped. I had such awful bearing down pains and my back was so weak I could hardly walk and could not ride. I often had to sit up nights to sleep and my friends thought I could not live long. At my request my husband got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I commenced to take it. By the time I had taken the seventh bottle my health had returned and I began doing my washing and was a well woman. At one time for three weeks I did all the work for eighteen boarders with no signs of my old trouble returning. Many have taken your medicine after seeing what it did for me. I would not take $1000 and be where I was. You have my permission to use my name if it will aid anyone."—Mrs. SUSIE TEM-PLETON, Hooper, Nebraska.

The Pinkham record is a proud and peerless one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of woman—ills that deal out despair.
It is an established fact that Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?

RHYME OF MODERN MARINER
Being the Story of the Rescue of Captain Blake's Son From Watery Grave.

Captain Blake is a mariner bold, and his ship is the Mary Ann. His crew consists of his wife and child and one able-bodied man. His boat is a barge which lies near Pier B on the Jersey side, and yesterday he left her there at the dock, securely tied. On the deck of the barge his little son, not yet 12 months old, was playing about with a terrier pup called Rag-Tag. His mother was taking a needed nap in the cabin, where all was dark, when her dreams were broken rudely by the dog's staccato bark. When she rushed on deck she saw the pup with his fore feet on the rail and his eager eyes directed toward an object that was afloat. She looked and saw, then almost swooned, but gave a frightened scream when she saw the baby sailing off on an ice floe in the stream.
"Go get him—save my little boy!" she screamed, and in a trice the faithful pup was swimming toward the floating cake of ice. The mother's cry was heard by men upon a vessel near—the steamship Oceana, which was tied up at her pier. An officer named Lindsay looked and saw the baby's plight and soon had manned a boat and gone to save the drifting mite. Before he reached the dancing cake the dog was on it, too. The ice floe bore two passengers, a captain and his crew.

The baby and the terrier were taken in the boat—a tiny pair of mariners, too young to be afloat. And with the child safe in her arms the mother wept for joy, but not a whimper passed the lips of the small sailor boy. But when his father, Captain Blake, returned last night and heard his wife relate the story just as it had occurred, he pursed his lips and whistled long, then gave his head a shake and said: "This surely is a fact from me that you can take. That kid of mine a sailor's life most certainly will choose. He's breaking in to learn the game by taking his first cruise." Then, thinking of the cake of ice which was the baby's boat, he said: "That boy will navigate the biggest ship afloat.
He's got the first requirement, and he can't be called a fool; for whatever else he might have done, he certainly kept cool."—New York Times.

Greater London.
A description of London as a municipality is found in a report which has been sent to the department of commerce and labor by United States Consul General John L. Griffiths, stationed at the British capital.

Instead of having one mayor and several borough heads as New York has, Mr. Griffiths points out that from a governmental point of view London is a very complex organization, consisting of 29 cities and boroughs, all with separate administrations. Each has its own mayor and council, there being, however, an authority whose jurisdiction is co-extensive with what is known as the administrative County of London, called the London county council.

"It may assist to a better conception of the work of the London county council," writes Mr. Griffiths, "to point out that it has jurisdiction over the public school system of Greater London, the fire department, the street car system, asylums, bridges, highways, department of health, parks and building regulations.

"There are 18,800 employees in the tramways department, which has been under the jurisdiction of and operated by the council since January 1, 1899."

Taxes That Never End.
The surprising fact is announced that the London city corporation is still paying land tax for the houses which existed on Old London bridge, houses that disappeared about the year 1755.

It has at last been decided to redeem this ancient tax, which by act of parliament has been levied ever since the old bridge was demolished.
A copy of the old act is in the city archives. The amount of the land tax is about $1,800 a year, and the city will be able to secure a redemption by payment of a lump sum of $55,000 or so.

It may seem strange that rates and taxes have been paid for so many years upon houses which disappeared so long ago, but it is not generally known that it is the custom when houses are demolished to make way for public improvements to include in the parliamentary authorization a clause compelling the authority concerned to make good any loss occasioned to the rates.—New York Sun.

Daffodil Poison.
The poison of the daffodil is the plant's means of defense. How effective it is may be judged by the fact that rabbits, rats and other small pests which devour hyacinths and crocuses with gusto, leave the daffodil severely alone. Nurserymen, too, will tell you that the men employed in gathering Lent lilies suffer from poisoned hands.
After working a little while their hands become sore, and painful gatherings form under the finger nails and wherever the skin is broken. Despite of all this, however, west country housewives brew from the flowers a decoction warranted to cure all human ills—possibly by killing the patient.

Exceedingly dainty breakfast sets include a cloth and small napkins of linen damask bordered with an English chintz flower design in green and red, green and pink or green and yellow and are hemstitched bordered.
Another is of linen crash embroidered in crossstitch and a third of pineapple patterned linen is edged with hand-crocheting. New designs for table cloths include Belgian double damask with borders for square and round tables which begin at the center and widen to the edge; Irish linen with pin dots with scroll borders, clover leaves, shamrocks and lilies, and hemstitched plain linens with flet lace monograms in one corner.

Show towels are of pure heavy Irish linen deeply embroidered in floral pattern along one end of damask with deep borders in flet medallions and of huckaback with hemstitched damask ends and side borders. Guest towels of 15 by 24 inch dimensions match the materials and decorations of the show towels and are always laid out in company with them.

Boots for Tramping.
Such boots as are to be dedicated to tramping should be scrubbed well with English harness soap and then treated to two coats of a good water-proofing oil. This will keep them soft, no matter how often they are soaked.
These little attentions bestowed on well-built shoes will do much toward keeping their wearers well shod and will save many dollars.

When it comes to buying it must be remembered that summer means loose shoes or else discomfort. A ready-made shoe should be bought either a trifle wider than the size usually worn or else a half size longer. This will be found a great saving on the stockings, too.

features their booklet tells us about, and it looks as if the 19th year of the Chautauqua would be the best yet Extensive improvements are being made in the beautiful Gladstone Park, the directors evidently expecting a record breaking crowd. Even the P.

The World's Greatest Slave.
Aesop probably is one of the most noted slaves that ever lived. The fables and stories he told have delighted mankind for twenty-five hundred years, and there is no telling how much longer the world will continue to enjoy them. Aesop was so deformed that for a long time his Greek master could not sell him. Finally he was sold, and the master found "in so wise that he was set free.

Advocates Leaves of Soap.
A chemical friend of the Scientist American suggests that a campaign be started against the common cake of soap. About 50 years ago there was sold a form of soap for travelers, consisting of a booklet, about two inches by four inches, in which small leaves of soap paper saturated with soap were bound. Each leaf contained enough soap for one washing of the hands. It is suggested that one might profitably dispense, through a penny-in-the-slot machine, a paper towel in which is folded a sheet of soap paper, for convenient use in public lavatories.

Industry Coming Into Its Own.
Guayule was for years overlooked or despised; its rubber content was considered of little or no value, and when at last acknowledged this was said to be inferior to other rubber because it did not come from the tropics. Yet in spite of all guayule has become an important source of rubber supply, millions of dollars have been invested in the industry, factories have been erected close to the guayule fields and towns have grown up for the operatives and field laborers.

as the extinguisher said to the can-everyone take care of themselves, as the donkey observed when dancing among the chickens." Sam Vale died
