WOMEN SEE WAR'S HORRORS

Many Slain in Three-Day Fight at Managua.

Rebels Abandon Assault When Victory Was Theirs for the Taking—Defenders Exhausted.

Managua, Nicaragua—Americans in Managua now know what a sickening tragedy a Central American revolution is. They have passed through a month of turmoil, witnessed a three-day battle, and experienced the horrors of a bombardment. They have seen the people of the city panic stricken, women and children killed, have borne the sufferings of hunger in a town beleaguered, and have had miraculous escapes from exploding shells and bullets. It was no part of Menz's plan to take Managua by assault. General Zeledon, once minister of war under Zelaya, was responsible for that when Menz lay helpless on a sick bed.

The bombardment began on a Monday morning, although Zeledon had been warned that thousands of innocent women and children were in the city. All day the shelling continued, the shells exploding all over the town. By a strange fatality, women and children were the victims.

In one house a mother and her four daughters were wounded. A child sitting on a doorstep was cut in two. A woman, with her babe at her breast, running across the street, was struck by a shell and both were killed. One hundred and thirty-six women and children were killed or wounded. The second evening of the bombardment a shell hit the room where the president and his cabinet were in conference. No one was injured. A shell exploded in the interior court of the house of an American official. Four American officials and three servants were on either side of the court, but none was hit.

Throughout Monday and Tuesday the battle waged, culminating in a sharp attack in the afternoon, when the insurgents broke over the intrenchments. They were not supported in strength and were killed with machetes. Twice again that night attacks were made in force. Each time the government troops were thrust back, but Chamorro saved the day by leading reinforcements, which drove the insurgents back.

All that night the bombardment was kept up. Wednesday the people were absolutely panic stricken. Thousands fled from the town. Another attack by the insurgents that day would have meant success. The government's ammunition was almost gone. But the bolt was shot. Their failure to win after three days' successive assaults with tremendous losses had dispirited the insurgents and they retired in disorder.

POISON IS NEW WAR MENACE

Rebels With Stolen Cyanide Threaten City Water Supply.

Mexico City—Death by poison is a new menace, added by rebellious Indians operating about the City of Oaxaca, where residents fear to take a drink of water. Chemists are making tests for poison in the city's water supply. A group of rebels is declared to have secured 200 pounds of cyanide from Natividad mining camp, in the Ixtlan district, declaring they would poison the drinking water in regions which are not under their control. The rebels said they would first use the cyanide to poison the springs at San Felipe, which supply water for the City of Oaxaca. A small band of rebels was discovered in the neighborhood of the springs and was driven off by federal troops. The rebel loss is given at 11 killed.

From Tianguistengo, State of Mexico, where a battle was fought Wednesday and Thursday, the federals report they found on the field many rifles with the breech blown out, testifying to the efficacy of the nitroglycerin cartridges which government agents tricked the Zapatistas into buying.

Shingle Mills Close.

Seattle, Wash.—Shingle manufacturers of Western Washington played a trump card in the fight now on for control of the market, when they closed about 75 per cent of the mills or an indefinite period. The manufacturers want to demonstrate to the Eastern trade that they have the situation well in hand, and that any attempts to break the price of shingles will be resisted. F. A. Trail, manager of the Red Cedar Shingle Manufacturers' association, states that the output will be reduced 75 per cent.

Airmen Called Brigands.

Geneva, Switzerland—Another stormy scene marked the concluding session of the International Peace congress. The uproar was caused by a speech by Dr. Gobat, in which the president of the International Bureau of Peace characterized the Italian airmen who have been operating in Tripoli during the war as "brigands of the air." The congress decided to meet next year at The Hague and in 1914 at Marienbad.

Combination Made Against Turkey
 London—A convention between Greece, Montenegro, Servia and Bulgaria for joint action against Turkey, according to the Sofia correspondent of the Times, is regarded as a fait accompli.

You May Admire

The clever advertising that draws you to a store, but you won't go again if the promises made are of the pie crust kind.

You Must Admire

however, the store where promises are more than fulfilled—where you buy groceries and crockery better than you expected and at prices lower than you expected to pay. That's the kind of a store this is. The store of Perfection, Promise and Price.
