

OREGON WOMEN JUST UPHOLD SERVICE FAME

Mrs. Sarah A. Evans, State Chairman, Women's Liberty Loan Committee of Oregon

This is to be the last Liberty Loan year. These words we send to you, still ringing with the joy that was ours when they came to us; not for the sake of work curtailed; not for the sake of a financial burden from the shoulders of the victors, but for their ringing cry of victory, heralding a new day for all the nations of the earth.

Six months ago we urged you to donate your services and your money to the use of the government that victory might be ours. The magnificent response from the women of Oregon, and other states, by their consecrated and generous support played no small part in bringing joy to the world on the eleventh of last November. Our money, lavishly loaned and used, was a dynamic force that prostrated the German barbarians, and stopped the slaughter of our splendid manhood. The magnitude of our preparations, the rock terror to the enemy, for it imposed the obligation America had taken on herself, and her grim determination to see it through to a glorious finish.

SARAH A. EVANS
The victory has been won, but have we canceled all our obligations? Certainly not until we have paid every debt incurred to bring about this victory, and honorably return home every soldier who made it possible.

Our thank-offering for the speedy close of the war, the thousands of lives spared, and the untold suffering thus saved must be the preservation of the financial integrity of America, and a comprehensive readjustment of disturbed conditions. This can only be done by a generous and ready response to this last great call—THE VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN.

Let us rededicate ourselves and our treasure once more to the cause of peace, as did the wise men of old when they heard from the Judean Hills the song of victory:

"Peace on Earth; good will to men."

FARMERS IN BEST FINANCIAL SHAPE OF RECENT YEARS

Smooth Transition of Agriculture to Peace Basis Predicted by Federal Reserve Board

American farmers are in better financial shape than they have been for years, according to a recent report of the Federal Reserve Board at Washington, which also predicts a smooth transition of agriculture and industry from a war to a peace basis. The board's review of economic conditions throughout the country is based on detailed reports made to it by the governors of the twelve federal reserve banks.

"The farmer is said to be in the best financial shape for many years," the review says. "In the South he is able to hold his cotton for better prices and is marketing his output conservatively."

"Excellent crop prospects are reported from the wheat states of the West and from California. On the Pacific Coast the prospects for excellent crops are exceedingly bright."

"Victory year" crops, according to another government report, added $17,000,000,000 to our wealth. The principal contributions were:

- Corn—2,582,814,000 bushels, $3,628,313,000.
- Wheat—917,100,000 bushels, $1,874,623,000.
- Oats—1,538,359,000 bushels, $1,092,423,000.
- Barley—256,375,000 bushels, $235,269,000.
- Rye—89,103,000 bushels, $134,947,000.
- Potatoes—397,676,000 bushels, $475,781,000.
- Hay—75,459,000 tons, $1,522,473,000.
- Tobacco—1,340,019,000 pounds, $374,318,000.
- Apples—173,632,000 barrels, $229,990,000.

As a result of the flourishing condition of the farmer in general the government expects him to take a large block of Victory Liberty Loan Bonds in April.

They famous as the greatest berry district in the United States. The opportunity, not alone to make large profits but to put the Willamette Valley on the map rests entirely with the progressive growers. We are doing our full duty to bring this about. We have already spent over $400,000 in advertising your products; have invested $1,550,000.00 in this business have established an extensive system of selling jellies, jams and preserves throughout the world and now appeal to the growers to furnish the necessary fruits, which is so essential to mutual success.

Let us briefly outline the market conditions as they exist today and the acreage which we are willing to contract.

Strawberries:—We will contract for the 1919 crop at 9 1/2¢ per pound, which is equal to $500.00 an acre at the rate of 300 crates of 18 pounds each of the Wilson variety planted on good soil. The 'Etterbery No. 121' a new and very hardy variety, has yielded as high as 600 crates per acre, but sets of this variety are limited, and while we have some on hand, we are unable to furnish them in large quantities. This is an ideal strawberry on sandy loam ground and we urge you to get started growing them. We will contract 1000 acres of strawberries commencing with 1919 or 1920 and running through the life of the plants.

Raspberries:—We will contract the yield from 1000 acres of raspberries of the Cuthbert variety for 3 or 5 years. To growers who have raspberries in bearing we will pay 9 1/2¢ cents per pound which is equal to $500.00 to $600.00 gross per acre.—beats raising hay or grain. Don't it?

Loganberries:—When we speak of LOJU, America's famous beverage, and PHEZ America's famous Pure Juice of the Loganberry, then we think of loganberry jellies, jams and preserves for which there is a constantly increasing demand. We can use the product of 1000 acres for five years at prices which will net $150.00 per acre, when planted on the right kind of land. This is one of the Willamette Valley's best berries on account of its productiveness and long life. There are several patches 18 years old and still producing bumper crops. We can arrange to furnish you with strong, vigorous plants at $15.00 per 1000 through growers, if your order is placed at once.

Gooseberries and Currants:—These much neglected but splendid berries are again being sought after and growers who have splendid berries are again being sought after and growers who have large or small patches should give them careful attention. There will be a good demand for them this year and for years to come.

Let us again impress upon you the importance of the industry. The Oregon Legislature, which just closed, passed an extensive and comprehensive re-construction program to take care of our returning soldiers, sailors and marines and develop the industrial and commercial wealth of Oregon and the fruit and berry industry is but another link in the chain of wealth and progress to Oregon. We are doing our part and are presenting opportunities which we feel certain will contribute to the well-being and happiness of our people.

We will be pleased to have you write us on the subject. Do it now.

NO MORE DRUM OR TAMBOURINE

Salvation Army Has Discarded the Jangling Tambourine for Later Plan Coming From War.

No more will Salvation Army lassies shake their tambourines coaxing ly the year round for the few stray pennies or liberal cartwheels as the case may be. Because the tambourine rattling and the Christmas plea to "keep the kettle boiling" to the tune of a jangling bell is not entirely effective and perhaps annoying in the public, the old order passeth with the passing of the war and the new order of one big annual drive for funds is the mode of procedure, says an exchange.

By order of Commander Evangeline Booth, head of the organization in the United States, and other leaders, the annual campaign for funds will be conducted separately in the various states and will cover a budget made out by each state. Oregon drive will take place in June.

A greater and more important field has been opened to the Salvation Army by the War and it is the intention of Commander Booth to see that none of the prestige gained on the fields of battle is lost in peace times, say local leaders. The army's new program contemplates maintaining contact not only with returned soldiers and seamen, but with their relatives and friends as well.

"We have decided to relieve the public of the endless begging and solicitation for funds that was necessary in the past, and to go forth in one great effort each year, meantime concentrating upon an expansion of our relief work," is the explanation made by Commander Booth. Commissioner Estil, in charge of Army activities in the West, made tentative plans for the drive when here recently.

LIEUT. TOOZE IN PARIS COLLEGE

Secures Coveted Four Months Course in Law at Sorbonne University in France.

Lieutenant Lamar Tooze, of Salem, well known over Polk county, who is with the 364th Infantry in France, writes from Nogent-le-Bernard to his father, Walter L. Tooze, Sr., that he has been detailed on regular pay to take a course of four months in the law college in Sorbonne University of Paris. Lieutenant Tooze is regimental intelligence officer. At leisure moments while in France he has written a book on the history of the 364th infantry and will have it published in the United States. He went to France with his twin brother, Lieutenant Leslie Tooze, who was killed in action.

"I have been detailed to attend a course in law at Sorbonne University Paris for four months, pay going on at the same time, and I leave for Paris Tuesday," he writes. "That means I won't be with the 91st division when it leaves (probably the last of March), but will get home about the middle of July. It's an opportunity of a lifetime and I don't see how I made it, because there were thousands of applications in the A. E. F. Only 10 from the 364th were selected, including Lieutenant Harry Clark and Major Lester W. Humphreys, of Portland. My French isn't what you would term 'court French,' but I'll stand upon it and if I don't learn law but do learn French, my time will be well invested."

WAR GARDEN DRIVE FOR 1919 IS OPEN

People Urged to Plant Gardens This Year to Help Feed Hungry Europe.

The United States had 5,285,000 war gardens in 1918. It should have ten million victory gardens in 1919, for there are more millions of people than ever to be fed and Uncle Sam must become the Joseph of the modern world, says today's bulletin from the national war garden commission of Washington. This nation has never fallen down on any task it set out to accomplish. It must now win the world war for food, and the home food producers will have a big part in this harvest of victory. Begin by writing to the commission for a free garden book which will be sent to any reader of the Enterprise. Enclose a two cent stamp for postage. Just because the war is over is no reason why the gardeners of this country should think their big job is done. In reality the enormous task of feeding the millions of hungry people released from the Huns, and the other millions in the war stricken countries, is just now beginning. The world shortage of food is appalling. Thus, it is 'up to us,' fellow gardeners, to put more vim than ever into our garden efforts in 1919.

Let us grow the staple crops in larger quantities and thus release more food for foreign shipment. Perhaps we can grow a few extra potatoes or beans for one of our own wounded veterans. So plan now for a larger garden, use every foot available and help drive famine from the world.

ANOTHER OLD SOLDIER CALLED

WAS WITH GENERAL SHERMAN IN HIS FAMOUS MARCH TO THE SEA.

Another pioneer citizen of this vicinity has answered the roll call. James Scafford, one of the early pioneers of this county, died at the Salem Hospital Saturday March 15th, following an operation and other complications. James Butler Scafford at the time of his death, was 77 years old, he being born August 29, 1841, in New York state. In later years when yet a young man he migrated to Ohio, thence to Wisconsin, where he lived until the breaking out of the Civil War, when he volunteered in the Infantry and served three months, later re-enlisting in 1862 and saw service and hard fighting until the surrender of General Lee, being stationed at the time in South Carolina. He was with General Sherman when he made his famous march to the sea and later was taken prisoner and served three months in the Libby prison where an exchange of prisoners was made, he being included. He was in the grand review when the war terminated at Washington, D. C., when President Johnson and cabinet viewed the returning armies. After receiving his discharge he came to Oregon in 1870 and for many years conducted a hotel in this city, and later at Corvallis and was also owner of the St. Charles at Albany. Later he retired from the hotel business and went onto a farm. He was married in 1880 to Miss Ann Gore who died August 17, 1901. To this union were born four children as follows: M. Scafford, O. B. Scafford, W. G. Scafford, and Mrs. Wm. Duffy, and is survived by his present wife, Mrs. Mina Scafford. The funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon, the Grand Army Post having charge, Dr. Dunsmore officiating. Interment was at Odd Fellows cemetery.

PINKY DAININESS IN SUMMERY VOILES

Even summery daintiness cannot get away from a patriotic touch—and with war in the background some months when it will appear in the hot days to come. The Red, White and Blue—has been modified in this white voile—to a pink and sky blue flower design on a field of white and with a pale plain blue waist band of satin. It is all touched off by a hat with sloping brim—made from the same material—and one of the newest models seen in the parades at Palm Beach, Fla.

GET RICH QUICK—GROW BERRIES

TO THE FARMERS IN THE INDEPENDENCE DISTRICT:—

For several months we have been conducting an active campaign among growers for the purpose of securing a very large planting in strawberries, raspberries, loganberries, gooseberries and currants. We pointed out the enormous profits to the producer. The response has been very encouraging. We have booked large orders for tips and plants and our stock is almost exhausted. In another month spring will be here and growers should make preparations to get their ground in shape for planting new acreage.

Our jelly, jam and preserve plant is in full operation, but we must have berries of every variety to keep us occupied all the year round. We persistently pointed out to growers the enormous profits to be derived from small fruits, how it would add value to your land and how it was possible to make the Willamette Val-
