German Title of Honor.
"Von" before a name in German denotes a privilege title, either inherited or bestowed by a monarch upon his subject for meritorious services. While formerly this prefix was found in military or feudal families only, many commoners, captains of industry, scientists, financiers and artists were so honored by their monarchs. The title is either hereditary or ceases with the death of the distinguished person.

Nero's Golden Palace

The golden house was the palace of Nero in ancient Rome, which occupied the valley between the Palatine and Esquiline, and connected the palaces of the Caesars with the gardens of the Maecenas. It was built after the great fire of 64 A. D., and was so large that it contained a lake where the coliseum and inclosed a lake where the coliseum now stands. ONE SPOT WAS ALL RIGHT

Robert was promised a nickel by his aunt if he kept clean when he went out to play, as company was expected and they wanted him to look his best. The tiny chap, however, got into a coal pile and was a sight to behold. His aunt said such a dirty boy would not get the nickel. Wistfully pulling out the lining of his wet pocket he said: "My pocket is clean, anyhow."

SOME FAMOUS CATS.

Southey declared that a house was not complete unless it contained a child rising three and a cat rising six weeks. He wrote "The Chronicle History of the Cattery of Cat's Eden" for his numerous progeny; and among the famous cats of Greta Hall, Keswick, were those named Lord Nelson, Bona Marietta, Pope Joan, Othello the Moor (as black as coal), Pulcheria and Mme. Bianchi.

ADMITTED HE SAID SOMETHING.

A fine distinction was drawn by a man in the names he had called a neighbor. In a suit before the London-derry assizes one of the defendants denied calling the rector a thickheaded old fool, but admitted calling him a pig-headed humbug.

HISTORY OF FREEDOM OF SPEECH.

The issue of free speech is really modern, and emerged clearly as a defensible proposition only with Milton's Areopagitica, to be followed by the widely divergent reasoning of Jeremy Taylor and Joseph Glanvil, and by Locke's classical first "Letter on Tolerance" (1689), which says almost the last word on the matter so far as religious differences are concerned.—James H. Robinson in Atlantic.

MARBLE CAVES OF OREGON.

Amid the wilds of southwestern Oregon, almost unknown to the world at large, is situated a series of underground chambers and passages remarkable for their size and for their beauty and unusual character of their decorations, says F. E. Tuck in Popular Mechanics Magazine. Within the last few years they have been made a national monument and are now known as Marble Caves of Oregon.

SELECTION OF EGGS FOR HATCHING

Set only good sized eggs uniform in size.
Set only good shaped eggs uniform in shape.
Set only good colored eggs uniform in color.
All this you can do with a little care in selection.
It is worth while, as eggs of good size, color and shape and uniform are a marketable product at higher prices than small eggs varying in color and all shapes.
Eggs weighing less than two ounces should not be used for hatching. The large sized egg hatches a larger chick. This larger chick grows faster than the smaller chick.
This larger chick will be marketable as a broiler sooner.
This larger chick matures younger.
This larger chick begins laying sooner than the smaller chick.
The income is received sooner and they are more profitable.
These facts apply to all breeds. The comparisons are made between small and large chicks in the same breed. Careful selection of eggs for hatching pays. Don't neglect it.—H. W. Sanborn, Colorado Agricultural college.

Canned Goods Will Stand Little Freezing Without Any Appreciable Change

In answer to numerous inquiries as to the injury which freezing does to canned goods, the bureau of chemistry of the United States department of agriculture states that cold, unless it goes below the freezing point, seems to have no bad effect. In regard to the danger of eating canned goods that had been frozen, the bureau of chemistry says:
"Most canned goods will stand a little freezing without appreciable change. Repeated freezing and thawing cause the foods to become flabby and gives a flat taste. Such a change, however, does not alter the wholesomeness or food value of the material, but it may change the texture, appearance, and palatability. The actual damage varies with the different kinds of canned foods and in general is somewhat similar to damage done by freezing the same food in the fresh condition."
"All canned goods whether frozen or not should be inspected for evidence of spoilage, due to leakage or insufficient processing. Such spoilage is indicated by swelling of the cans and by an unpleasant flavor or odor of the contents."

Japanese Razor With Blade as Narrow as a Wire Nail

Ancient Chinese shaving instruments, shaped like a coin and mounted in a stick, and others like a glazier's putty knife, are rubbing edges with modern safety razors in an exhibit in New York. The various styles of razor remind one that the prehistoric Adam must have shaved with the sharp edge of the razor clam. There is a narrow-bladed Japanese razor no wider than a nail.

NOTES OF SCIENCE

According to their inventors bricks made in Europe from furnace slag increase in strength with age.
An inventor has patented a parachute to enable persons to escape from high buildings in case of fire.
The Panama railroad has used ties made of a native hard wood without renewal for more than half a century.
An inch of rain falling on an acre of ground would fill 600 45-gallon barrels and weigh more than 110 tons.
