LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Races in Independence the 4th. Of course you are coming.

The treasury department has been urged to coin a half-cent piece. If the petitioners can point to anything that can be bought for a half-cent now-a-days, the treasury will probably give their request some consideration.

Lieutenant Frank B. Keelan of this city and Miss Mable Strahan of Portland, were united in marriage in the Clerk's office at Dallas last Thursday evening. Lieutenant Keelan is a hustling young business man of this city, being the representative of the Overland cars with headquarters in the old Enterprise building. Miss Strahan is a prominent young school teacher who has been teaching in Portland for a number of years.

We presume there never was a newspaper in any locality that gave all the local happenings. It is often that someone comes or goes that the reporter does not see. It happens that the family is missed several times. They get the impression that the editor does not care to mention them. This is a mistake. In most country towns the local work is the hardest work connected with a newspaper. A man may be a good editorial writer, but a flat failure in the local work, and vice versa. Editorial material is obtained by study, by reading newspapers, sometimes using scissors. Persons and local happenings can't be read and clipped from other papers, not by a jugful. It takes physical as well as mental exertion to get out four or six columns of local news in a town of this size. Most people take a local paper to get the local happenings. Don't be afraid to tell the editor or reporter that you have friends visiting you. There are lots of people who are interested in your friends. You owe it as a duty to them to let your friends know of their doings. Perhaps you think the paper shows partiality, but just see if the paper doesn't treat you right if you give it a chance.
