Sturm of Lebanon called the convention to order. The meeting was one of the largest held in a number of years and the visitors were well pleased with their reception given them here.

The home of Attorney and Mrs. B. F. Swope was entered by a burglar during Sunday night and after going through all the rooms of the house, succeeded in getting away with only about $1.50 belonging to their daughter Beattie. The intruder entered Mr. and Mrs. Swope's sleeping room and went through his clothing, and later Miss Beattie was awakened by a noise and went to investigate. Upon entering the sitting room she observed a shadow, and immediately pushed the electric light button, and their stood in one corner in the room a man crouched low to the floor. She gave the alarm and Mr. Swope came rushing to the room but the burglar had made his getaway through a window. Nearly every drawer in the house was ransacked and Mr. Swope is much surprised that the intruder paraded about without awaking one of the family sooner.

Most any man can be an editor, during hop picking, says a town knocker. So we turned the job over to a graduate of a country school while ye todior made the rounds of the town with the city marshall to look for the remains of a woman said to have been murdered near the S. P. depot. During our absence the lady in charge of the local news wrote such stuff as this, which escaped the proof reader:— Mrs. Jones of Cactus Creek let a can opener slip last week and cut herself in the pantry. A mischievous lad of Picketown threw a stone and cut Mr. Pike in the alley last week. Jos Doe climbed on the roof of his house last week looking for a leak and fell, striking himself on the back porch. While Harold Green was escorting Miss Violet Wise from the church social last Saturday night a savage dog attacked them and bit Mr. Green on the public square. Isaiah Trimmer of Running Creek was playing with a cat Friday, when it scratched him on the veranda. Mr. Frank, while harnessing a broncho last Saturday, was kicked just south of his corn crib.

Mrs. H. A. Childs and daughter Dorothy and Carman Henry were Albany visitors Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Ester Stephens of Prinville, and Miss Gustine Mills of Seattle, Washington, were here for a weekend visit with Miss Mills. The meeting of these ladies proved a most happy one, as it was the first time in fifteen years that they have been or met together.

Early this morning the store and butcher shop on the Wigrich ranche was entirely destroyed by fire together with all its contents. The store was managed and owned by Rose & Plant and as we go to press, we are unable to learn the extent of the loss.

They were joined there by Dr. Dunsmore and before leaving called on W. B. Brown and wife, former residents of this city. The Multnomah Lodge at Oregon City is one of the oldest Masonic lodges in the state.

An elderly gentleman by the name of Lewis Faulkner residing at Corvallis, and employed at the D. McCarthy hop ranch, was run over by an auto in East Independence Wednesday afternoon and quite badly injured. He was taken to his home and there taken to the hospital. The accident was unavoidable we are informed.

A wedding of interest is that of Marjorie I. Woods and William Bevens, the groom being a graduate of the Capital Business College and well known in Salem. Concerning the wedding which took place last Sunday the Evening Telegram says:—

"Miss Marjorie I. Woods became the bride of William Bevens at a pretty ceremony Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lola Brock on Sandy boulevard, Rev. D. Lester Fields, pastor Rose City Park Methodist church officiated. The bride wore a smart gown of goergette crepe with bretelles of ribbon. After the ceremony the company motored to the Crown Point chalet, on the Columbia river highway where a five course dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Bevens will be at home at 675 East Seventy first street North.

"Those present at the ceremony were Dr. Guy A. Woods, brother of the bride, and family; Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Woods, parents of the bride, Mrs. Lela Brock, and Miss Ethel Woods, sisters of the bride; William Brown and family and Rev. and Mrs. D. Lester Fields.
