"I'll Tell the World" says the Good Judge

The man who doesn't chew this class of tobacco is not getting real satisfaction out of his chewing.

A small chew. It holds its rich taste. You don't have to take so many fresh chews. Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Eli Fluke has rented his store room adjoining the McIntosh store, to a party who will handle automobile accessories.

Dr. and Mrs. O. D. Butler and son Dr. Maurice and wife attended the Butler-Sperling wedding in Portland Wednesday evening.

F. B. Kealan is home under the care of his better half. He has a severe cold contracted while skrimshing around the country selling autos.

A marriage license was issued the first of the week by the County clerk to Armine Yuong and Lillian Kightlinger. Mr. Yuong is a son of E. M. Young, and a world war veteran.

An inquisitive reader of the Enterprise wants to know if we embrace woman's suffrage. Sure! Embrace anything that contains a woman!

George Sloper and family returned Monday from a short stay in Portland where they sought medical attention for their daughter Loy, who is ill.

James Oberson has purchased the household goods of Charles Whitney and will move into the property now occupied by the latter, known as the H. Rowe residence, on Seventh street.

J. A. Reynolds sold his oak timber to Frank E. Dickson, receiving $1.00 a cord for the timber standing. Mr. Dickson expects to ship the output to Portland this fall, as we learn he has already disposed of same.

J. S. Bohman has sold his planing mill to Halliday & Juston, of Bremerton, Washington. Mr. Halliday formerly worked in this city and those who know him say he is one of the best mechanics on the Pacific Coast. They will erect a new building on the site of the present one, as the old planing mill is antiquated, and should they undertake to remodel it, the cost would be as much as a new building. The planing mill has been used as a blacksmith shop by James Hillard, who will seek another location. Halliday & Juston will put in a modern machine shop and equip it with the latest machinery obtainable. No job will be too large or too small for them to handle as both gentlemen are competent to execute it to the entire satisfaction of the customer.

American Expeditionary forces championships and records of inter-allied games recently issued, contains a photograph and mention of C. N. McLeod, first lieutenant, 11th marines. McLeod, whose father and mother live here, was one of the eight army officers who received the gold medal in the officers' rifle competition. His score was 532 out of a possible 600. The first ward in this class went to Major P. D. Foster, 108th artillery, 1st battery, who made the score of 545. This score was made at the A. E. F. rifle, pistol and musketry competition held May 5 to 17, 1919, at the d'envours range, Belgian camp, near La Mans. In this competition, 3500 officers and men participated. It was regarded as the army's greatest shoot and the competitors were selected after vigorous tests in which more than 500,000 took part.

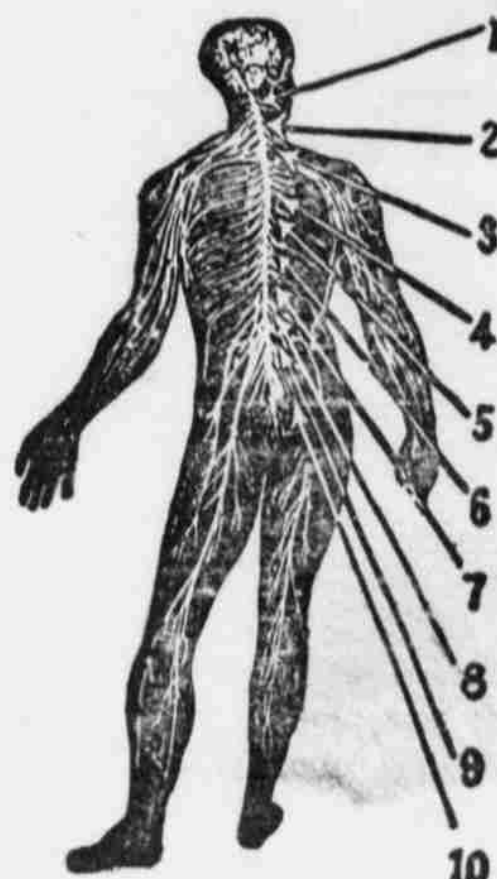

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sperling on West Park street, Portland, was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday evening January 25, when Miss Leona Sperling became the bride of Marion F. Butler. The ceremony took place at eight o'clock. Dr. H. Charles Dunsmore officiating. Immediate relatives and a few intimate friends were present. The parlors of the attractive home were lighted by rose shaded lamps and decorated with baskets of pink carnations, ferns and chrysanthemums. Mrs. Mabel Johnson played the wedding march. The bride was beautiful in a braded blue crepe de chine gown and carried a shower bouquet, of freesias and orchids. After the ceremony, Mrs. Maurice Butler sweetly sang a group of songs. An elegant buffet supper was served, in the prettily appointed dining room. Independence has long been the home of both the bride and groom, who have hosts of friends whose good wishes attend them. Marion is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Butler and Leona the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sperling. After a trip to the Sound cities and Vancouver B. C., the young couple will reside in Portland, where the groom has employment.
