

A Good Piano Is an Investment Not an Expense

When a person buys a Piano that person is making an investment that carries a higher earning rate than for any other single thing that could be bought for the home. The music rests the brain, helps the body to relax, melts away the memory of annoyances that arose during the day, keeps the spirit and makes one more fit to do bigger and better things. It provides hundreds of little mental vacations during the year—and we all admit that vacations are good investments.

Every good idea has clicked in the minds of successful people, as they listened to the inspiring music of the Piano. These ideas often have been turned into cash.

When company calls and conversation lags the Piano has proved a ready source of entertainment—it is paying back part of the purchase price.

A good Piano will last a lifetime. The upkeep is negligible. Dependable Pianos come in a wide range of prices. We have a Piano to fit every purse and gladly accept convenient payment terms. You say you can't afford a piano—nonsense—in this age we have the best Piano which anybody can play. Remember buying a Piano is not an expense but is an investment which will pay for itself many times over.

During the past week there has been no change in the gasoline situation. All of the local dealers with the exception of the Sayles Motor company are being subjected to the Standard Oil company's policy of curtailment, which is about 30 per cent of the normal requirements. This has resulted in "no gas" signs on the filling stations the greater part of the time. The Sayles company is being supplied by the Union Oil company and is getting all that is desired of the regulation 56 per cent test. Naturally the customers of the Standard are not pleased over existing conditions and an effort is being made by the Independence garage to have things changed. Mr. Skinner announces that within a few days the customers of his place are going to be provided with plenty of gas.

Fine Values in Women's

New Spring Coats and Suits

We want you to take this statement in the broadest sense, because here indeed are unusually good values in women's coats. The kind of values that make you realize that you are getting full 100% satisfaction for every dollar spent. Not alone are the materials of superior quality but the workmanship emphasized the care in the making. Styles are of the latest moment, thereby assuring you the longest possible service. Quite often we are told by diligent customers that ours is the most interesting stock of coats they have seen this season. "Your moderately priced coats are simply wonderful. They show more and better styles than we have seen anywhere."

For instance here are coats with new manner of ripple flare, new belts and new collars. Colors include the striking beautiful high and subdued shades introduced for this spring.
