Miss Blanche Harmon and Ruth Prather were hostesses to a surprise party at the home of the latter on Halloween eve for Miss Helen Turnbull who will leave soon for Independence. Decorations were in harmony with Halloween. Games were played until the wee hours and dainty refreshments were served. All departed after an evening pleasantly spent, with the only regret to mar the evening being the moving away of Miss Turnbull.

EXTENSIVE REPAIRS TO BE MADE TO OPERA HOUSE

The opera house, the property of W. H. Walker, is to undergo extensive repairs. A new roof is to be put on, the old stage removed and there is to be a general renovation.

This will be done to afford better quarters for K company, which is now using the place as an armory, and also for the convenience of the public generally.

Parker

Miss Altha Daniels spent last Sunday with her parents in Hillsdale.

Postmaster Lacey was in Wellsdale last week visiting his son.

Master John Dickinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dickinson, was operated upon last Friday by Dr. Hanson for adenoids. The youngster is getting along nicely.

The Halloween party given in the basement of the Parker school last Friday night, was a highly successful affair. It was a party for the "kiddies" alone and proved a very enjoyable one. Sweet cider and doughnuts were served.

A farewell party—a surprise—was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Horton and family last Saturday evening. The affair was engineered by Postmaster Lacey and was attended by Parker residents generally. Coffee and cake were served. During their stay in Parker the Hortons took an active part in community affairs, and while their departure is only to Independence, there is universal regret over the change.

GROWERS GET OVER HALF MILLION DOLLARS

Readers of the Enterprise who are members of the Oregon Growers' Co-operative association, as well as those who are not as yet members, will be interested in a statement recently issued, in which it is announced that the sales for the three months of July, August and September amount to more than half a million dollars.

To be exact, the three months' sales amounted to $564,676.21. This amount does not include sales of prunes. Nor does it include any great amount of fall pears nor scarcely any apples.

Distribution was made through 10 different cannery buildings. In the October 7 report, attention is called to the fact that members of the association were saved thousands of dollars during the cherry picking season when a part of the crop was so cracked by rains that canneries could not accept them.

Already the association has shipped more than 600 cars of fresh fruit including berries, plums, early pears, and apples, up to the time of the October 7 statement. It is estimated that before the season closes, the additional sales of apples will amount to more than 600 cars.

Loganberries are becoming one of the big crops of the valley, according to the report. The total sales by the Oregon Growers the past season amounted to $137,230.09.

Plums, which are not regarded seriously as money makers, brought to members of the association this year, $2,142.70, which to a large extent was pick-up money. One variety sold for $3.60 a bushel.

Dried cherries, valued at $13,450, have been sold and shipped by the association, every dollar of which would have been lost on account of the unusual rains during the picking season. The Oregon growers, at the critical time, took these cracked cherries, dried and prepared them for shipment and marketed them for the $13,450.

Both white and black cherries were sold this season by the association for 13 cents a pound, and this is also a matter of record that no other growers' association in the state secured for its members such a favorable price.

The total amount of cherries marketed by the Oregon growers, according to the October 7 statement for the season the sum of $118,500. The Royal Anne easily led with a total of $93,015.97, while the Lambert Bing pool brought in $24,068.83.

With sales already running more than half a million dollars up to October 7 this season, and also taking into consideration favorable prices received, from all reports there is a feeling of satisfaction and confidence among members of the association.
