WORK ON FARM HOME FOR KIDDIES STARTS SOON

Corvallis—Construction of the first cottages for the children's farm home of the Women's Christian Temperance union on the former Ashbar farm north of Corvallis will begin within 30 days, according to the plans announced by Ada Wallace Unruh, who heads the committee in charge of the financial campaign.

The first two units of the home which eventually will care for 150 homeless and dependent children will be completed, it is hoped, before the end of September. Each of the units will house 20 children and will be put into use as soon as it is completed.

The complete financing arrangements have been put into the hands of a committee of business men, and the entire plan will be worked out by them on a business basis. The ministerial association of Portland has also appointed a special committee to aid the union in establishing the home.

The home is primarily for Protestant orphans and dependent children without means of support. The farm on which it will be built was purchased several months ago for the children's farm at a cost of $49,000. It consists of 245 acres and is three and one-half miles northwest of Corvallis.

It is the intention of the Women's Christian Temperance union to put up the unit cottages as fast as funds can be obtained for their construction. Sufficient funds have already been donated for the first two cottages, but it is pointed out that these will not nearly satisfy the present needs of such a home as is planned, and that construction of more units must necessarily go forward as fast as possible.

In speaking of the home Mrs. Unruh said: "Every possible institutional feature must be eliminated and a group of real homes must be established, where real home life and love may be given unfortunate Protestant children. Children that go out in the world under the serious handicap of having no father must be given a foothold and equipped educationally to become independent. To this end they must have at least the preliminary vocational training which can be obtained at Oregon Agricultural college, and this the members of the faculty, including the president, have promised to provide.

Every child receiving care in our new home will be taught the fundamental law of the land, that they may become good citizens and Americans, and the law of God, as set forth in the Bible, to make them better citizens better men and women. This does not in the least imply that any sectarian doctrine will be taught—just old-fashioned moral training with Bible knowledge.

"The home will, of course, receive and care for every child without regard to creed or color, but as the Catholic church has made such abundant provisions for the children of that faith, it is especially to make the same provision for Protestant children as the Catholics have made for their own."

Grandma Dole celebrated her 76th birthday on July 4th with a birthday party on the shady lawn at the home of her son, E. E. Dole. There was a pleasant afternoon, delicious, cool refreshments, and plenty of fire-crackers on the side, tho' Mrs. Dole has a suspicion that possibly the latter may not have been olely in her honor.

Monmouth

Monmouth's chautauqua was a splendid success this year and the big tent was comfortably filled practically at every performance. During the last three days there was a very heavy attendance, many persons coming from districts adjacent to Monmouth. While most of the programs were good, the Maids of Dundee, six Scotch lassies, and the Maurice Drew players made the biggest hits and drew capacity houses. The vivacious Scotch girls gave two clever programs which included every sort of music from the piano to accordion and saxophone, with dances and readings and vocal solos for variety. They put their program over with vim and vivacity that captivates the audience. There was not a dull moment in "Cappy Ricks," which was given in a masterly way by Maurice Drew and his company Saturday evening.

The lectures were uniformly good. The lecture of Solomon Ramalinga, a native of India, on Saturday afternoon aroused great interest. Sunday Loseff's Russian Orchestral quartet gave two splendid programs. The chautauqua was closed Sunday evening by C. L. Burgdurger, who entertained the soldiers overseas during the war, and he gave one of the best humorous lectures ever heard here.

Financially the chautauqua was a success. The total receipts amounted to $1121.75 which left a margin after all expenses were paid. Howard Morlan acted as local manager and was highly complimented by the Cadmean superintendent for the manner in which it was handled.

So well satisfied were the guarantors that they signed a contract with the Cadmean company for another chautauqua in 1923.

According to the registrar's figures the enrollment at the normal for the summer session has reached 720. Of this number about 40 are men. About half of the students will leave at the close of the first six weeks, July 28. The training schools at Monmouth and Independence will close at this time. The total enrollment for the year is 1120.

J. O. Andrus tendered his resignation as city marshal to the city council at the regular meeting Tuesday evening. He has accepted a position as fireman at the normal, taking the place of Sam Conkey, who died recently. A new marshal has not yet been appointed.

TROUBLES OF OUR OWN MAKING

Simple precautions would avert most of the railroad crossing horrors. Here are a few rules, which if followed, would save many lives:

Never approach railroad tracks that must be crossed at grade, without this thought: "Here is the place where I must play safe!" Have your car under control, then you will be prepared for any emergency. You know the importance of having good brakes on your car. Look them over, from time to time.

Probably nine out of ten times there will not be a train near enough to check your progress over the tracks. Make no effort to go across, until, by careful use of both eyes and ears, you have sized up the situation.

All must agree that a little time spent in trying to protect life and limbs is a good investment. We use up some time hunting bargains in stores. Better plan to hold onto the life you possess. No bargain counter has another to offer you. When your end comes, you will be a long time dead.

Maybe, when you get near the railroad tracks, you see a train com-

2 DAY ROUNDUP AT PACIFIC CITY

A two day round up featuring a number of the best known men and girl riders of the west will be staged by Everett Wilson, well known showman at Pacific City Beach, Tillamook county, Saturday July 15th, and Sunday, July 16th, according to Mr. Wilson. Mr. Wilson himself a contender and veteran of the Pendleton round up is bringing with him in carload lots his large string of trick and wild horses, many of them just off the range. Fifteen or twenty prominent riders, headliners in their profession, will be with him. Prominent among these are Red Pruett and Shorty Hall. Miss Marie Hall and Dorothy Steen, girl fancy and trick riders who have been so well received at the large rodeos of the country, will be on hand in the roping and bucking contests. To make the intermission between shows pass as pleasantly as possible and to lessen the expense of those in attendance a free clam bake and barbecue will be held. Pacific City Beach is located in Tillamook county and is the nearest beach to Portland and centers of population of the Willamette valley. It is reached by auto via McMinnville or by stage running via McMinnville from Portland. It is said this beach combines more in the way of natural attractions than any other beach on the Oregon coast. A beautiful river parallels the ocean beach within 50 feet. Cape Kiawanda, located there, is one of the scenic attractions of the west. Beautiful groves sheltered from the sun and wind offer ideal camping grounds. All kinds of salt and fresh water fishing abound, as well as clams, crabs, rock oysters and muscles. At the present time the chinook salmon are running in large numbers. A visit to Pacific City Beach will repay one regardless of the big show staged there.

ing, and the thought comes into your mind, "I can beat it across!" That thought is a mere whim. Your judgment is not speaking. In such case, wait for your sober second thought. Remember that a fast train can run the quarter mile from the whistling post to the crossing in fifteen seconds. Do you know just exactly how far you can make your car go in one-fourth of a minute? Most of us fail to do our best in an emergency.

Do you admire a man who tries to beat a train over a crossing, when he has his family or friends in the car with him, depending upon him for protection? If such a man were to run his business so carelessly as that, we greatly fear that the balance would show up on the wrong side of his ledger. Most of us are very weary of reading newspaper accounts of death and destruction. Let's be rooters for safety at the crossing!
