"DUBS" OUT OF RING FOR GOOD, STATEMENT

Salem—According to "Dubs" Mulkey, favorite of the Salem boxing fans, he ended his professional boxing career last Friday night in the match with Gardeau. Before going into the ring he told friends that win or lose, it was his last fight. Explaining his decision "Dubs" says that he has arrived at the stage where he has either got to follow the boxing game or give it up. He says that he has made a little sum of money at the game and has purchased property in Monmouth by fighting but now with a family he would rather be at home than away half the time beating up on some opponent. Mulkey is not quitting the game

FORD AND FORDSON POWER EXPOSITION

Is something you'll remember for all time. Costing thousands of dollars to cover the state, this is the biggest attraction of its kind ever attempted in the Northwest.

And this great show comes right to your door absolutely free of cost to you. Twenty-six units, and each under its own power, comprise a caravan containing about 100 specialties, devices and pieces of equipment for every industrial purpose—on the farm, the highways, in logging camps, lumber yards, towns and cities—everywhere that automotive power is used.

YOUR LAST CHANCE of seeing this great show is right now! The cost of it is too prohibitive to make the caravan a yearly affair, and it may be several years before a similar show will be brought here again.

COME EARLY! STAY LATE!

Bring your family, bring your friends, bring your lunch, or enjoy the good eats right here in town. And don't forget the big parade—

IT'S YOUR OWN SHOW
