Oak Point

The Polk County fair of 1922 is only a memory, but a very pleasant one at Oak Point. The Oak Point school took second place on the booth, besides several individual prizes.

Hugh Rogers won first place on hogs. We never knew before how becoming blue ribbons were on Duroc Jerseys.

Mrs. Black won 13 places on exhibits, Mrs. Rogers and Joe Jr. and Earl won 20 places on exhibits. At present writing these represent the highest point winners in this community.

The school very much appreciated the beautiful flowers donated by Mrs. Black for decorating the booth and the assistance rendered by Mrs. Rogers, Mr. Rex and Mr. Bigelow in getting the exhibits to and from the fair.

Mrs. J. A. Wood's sister, Mrs. Roberts, and her daughter of Medford are visiting Mrs. Woods.

Peter Bessett is in Portland with his mother.

John Kays has moved to McMinnville. Mr. Waite has bought the Kays place and moved in. Mr. Trent has moved into the small house on the ranch and will help Mr. Waite on the farm. We extend a hearty welcome to these new neighbors.

Mrs. Collins reports a very pleasant time at the Coos county teacher's institute, where she worked last week. She says Coos county is a wonderful place. She says she is a confirmed booster for Coos.

Hugh Rogers is recovering from a rather serious illness. We missed him at Sunday school last Sunday and are glad to hear that he is better.

Mrs. Ed. Rex is improving. She has been under a doctor's care for some time.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Price a daughter. Mrs. Price is Mr. Rex's sister.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cassidy a son. Mrs. Cassidy is a sister of Mrs. Roy Bigelow.

American Money in Canada.

It is estimated that American investments in Canada for 1920 amounted to $325,000,000—more than half of the prewar Canadian investment. Some of the items of investment during the period under review are: Bonds purchased, $237,000,000; Industrial investment, $50,000,000; western lands purchased, $7,000,000. It is also estimated that $30,000,000 of the $50,000,000 invested in industries went into the pulp and paper business.

LAD'S IOTA TO LIVE IN GLASS HOUSE

Portland—Oregon's world record Jersey cow, Lads Iota, will be housed in a fancy glass bungalow, with dainty furnishings and equipment, during her visit to the Pacific International Livestock exposition at North Portland next month. Mr. and Mrs. S. J. McKee of Independence, owners of the wonderful cow that produced 1048.07 pounds of butterfat, with 18,632 pounds of milk last year, will bring her to Portland a day or so ahead of the Pacific International dates, so that she may grow accustomed to her new residence.—Portland Journal.

Tribe That Devours its Children.

"Since the doctor came here we have seen the most wonderful things happen. First of all he kills the sick people; then he cures them, and after that he wakes them up again." So a native girl wrote of Dr. Albert Schweitzer, author of "On the Edge of the Primeval Forest," who went out in 1913 to the Ogowe lowlands of the French colony of Gaboon, there to maintain for four and a half years a surgical and medical clinic for the negroes.

"Our country devours its own children," was the sage remark of an old chief. A vicious climate, a plentiful lack of proper food, overindulgence in rum and strong tobacco were killing off the natives rapidly when Doctor Schweitzer arrived. One of the worst problems was chronic nicotine poisoning, producing acute constipation and nervous disturbances. The tobacco comes from America in the form of leaves, prized by the natives that it is used as money—a single leaf buying two fine pineapples.

Fine View of Watapout.

It is rarely that an opportunity occurs to make a truly scientific observation of a watapout. Yet an engineer on board an American schooner had what is said to be a unique experience of this kind off the coast of New South Wales. Fourteen complete watapouts formed off the shore where he was at work with a theodolite, and he made careful measurements of them. The largest spout consisted of two cones, connected by a pipe-shaped spout. The top of the upper cone, which was inverted, was 5,014 feet above the sea. Each cone was about 100 feet in diameter at the base, diminishing gradually until it merged into the spout. The length of the cones was about 250 feet each, leaving 4,500 feet for the length of the spout connecting them.

The world war veterans state aid commission, up to September 30, has disbursed $8,042,352.40 in the payment of applications for cash bonus and loans, according to a report prepared by Sam A. Kozar, secretary of state. Cash bonus paid by the commission during the period totaled $4,193,098.61, while the loans aggregated $3,849,253.79. The applications for cash bonus numbered 18,926, while the applications for loans aggregated 1545.

The suit brought by the Warren Brothers company to collect royalty from the state for patented pavements laid by Oscar Huber, state contractor, will be carried to the highest court for final determination, according to a statement made by L. A. Lejeune, assistant attorney-general, who handled the case in the federal court. The action was tried in the United States district court in Portland, with the result that Judge Bean ruled in favor of the plaintiffs. The decision carried a judgment in the amount of approximately $18,000.
