The Grip Bacillus.

You may choke me off with quinine,
You may frighten me with squills,
You may try to overcome me
With your tonics and your pills;
But I'm stronger than your doctors,
Though for miles extends their fame;
I'm a little "grip" bacillus—
And I get there just the same.

Miss Cora Fisher and Miss Myrtle Miller, formerly of this city, are arranging to go into the millinery business at Sheridan. Miss Miller recently visited Southern Oregon, but could not find a suitable location. They will move to Sheridan this week.

Rev. O. B. Whitmore lectured in Gaston Tuesday evening, subject "That Dog." This is a strikingly original lecture on the temperance question, and has elicited favorable comment from the press throughout the state. Mr. Whitmore also preached at Gaston on Wednesday.

The stockholders of the Polk County District Fair Association held their annual meeting last Saturday afternoon and elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: President, A. Nelson; vice-president, J. W. Kirkland; second vice-president, F. M. Simpson; secretary, D. W. Sears; treasurer, Lewis Kelso.

Rev. O. B. Whitmore's lecture at the Congregational church last Sunday evening was largely attended and highly appreciated by his audience. The subject was "The Gospel, Law and Medicine." The speaker took broad grounds and spoke earnestly in favor of any and all methods that go to meliorate the social and moral condition of the world.

Editor Eckman, of the Yamhill County Reporter, is just now the highest stepper in McMinnville. The cause of his unusual antics is the advent of a 10 pound little girl on the 13th instant. The writer extends his sympathy. He has been similarly affected himself, but the feeling is like a mild form of the "grip" it will wear off in time.

An exchange says: Look out for an irrepressible female who is canvassing our neighboring cities selling pants buttons. She snaps one on the pants of a married man and he is compelled to buy a box in order to explain to his wife where he got that button. In some instances she will clip off two or three buttons and the victim is compelled to buy a box or go around holding up his pants. If you should happen to see a female peddler you had better fight shy, she may prove to be this pants button fiend.

A representative of this paper had the pleasure of visiting the Independence public schools last Friday afternoon. He regrets not having time to visit all the departments. Prof. Hayes was busy with examinations, Miss Goodrich was occupied with the usual routine work; Mrs. Tuck had her pupils to give an exhibition in calisthenics, and in Miss Cochran's department the special feature was rhetoricals, which consisted of dialogues, recitations, declamations etc. The children performed very creditably and good order was observed in all the departments visited. At some future time we hope to visit Mr. Allingham's and Miss Mulkey's and Miss Hall's departments. The Independence schools are in a very flourishing condition.

Mrs. Catlin and Mrs. Kinney have formed a copartnership for the purpose of carrying on a millinery business at the old stand of Catlin & VanMeer on Main street in this city. They are skillful artists in their line and will be glad to receive a liberal share of the public patronage. Mrs. VanMeer, of the late firm of Catlin & VanMeer, has retired from the business.

With two new residences under way and three others that are being materially remodeled, with a business brick just starting from the foundation and other improvements going on we may say that the spring building boom is beginning to make a creditable showing in Independence. What other town in the valley of 1,800 population can make a better showing? Let them all speak up at once if they can—the more the merrier.

"Some interesting information concerning another important Linn county industry was obtained from Mr. Thomas Kay, of Salem, who was in this city on his return from Waterloo, where he has been for a week making preparations for starting the new woolen mill there. This mill was originally started as a hosiery factory, and has recently been idle, but it was purchased by the Thomas Kay Woolen Mill company, and they have converted it into a woolen mill, having expended about $20,000 in new buildings, looms and other machinery, and in about three weeks hence will have it ready for operation. Mr. Kay has a force of twelve men at work adjusting the new machinery and finishing the new building, which is 100 feet long and 40 feet wide. Mr. Kay said it was a three-set mill, being one-third larger than his company's mill in Salem, and will employ to start with about eighty hands.—Albany Herald.

If you want jobwork just a little better than any other shop in the county can do it, leave your orders at the ENTERPRISE office. Their workmen are artists, and know how to avoid offensive combinations so frequently seen in the work of would-be "first-class" printers. Prices are as low as you would have to pay for inferior work.

Death of Walter P. Cattron.

Died at his mother's home in Monmouth, Oregon, March 14, 1895, Walter P. Cattron, aged 37 years, 10 months and 21 days.

Walter Cattron was born in North Yamhill the 23rd of April 1857, where he spent the first four years of his life, the family then removing to Monmouth where he was educated. He graduated with the degree of A. B. from the Christian College in 1876 at the age of nineteen. The following year he spent sometime in California and upon returning he taught one session in the Christian College. Although in precarious health he determined to enter upon the study of law in the office of Bean & Thompson at Eugene. There he remained two years a quiet thoughtful student in the profession he always desired to follow. His health so failed him that he was at last obliged to give up the law entirely, going to Eastern Oregon in the hope that a dryer climate would prove beneficial to his delicate lungs. Moscow Idaho became his home where he served as county school superintendent and postmaster of Moscow for several years. His last position was as bookkeeper for a firm in Moscow, which he gave up in January on account of his rapidly declining health. His family and friends becoming convinced that his sickness would prove fatal, they brought him home to Monmouth two weeks ago where his brother was his constant nurse and his sisters his devoted attendants.

A few of his former companions and schoolmates still remain in Monmouth who recall the slight pale youth with his bright eyes and his load of books, who let nothing interfere with his work in the schoolroom. His teachers were proud of him, his classmates honored him, the town people admired him, the world loved him yet death claimed him in the prime of life.

He was a member of the A. O. U. W. and K. of P. orders, the latter attended his funeral in a body. The funeral services were held at his mother's residence, Rev. D. V. Poling, of Albany officiated at the services which were largely attended.

TOLD IN SIDE-HEADS.

Council Proceedings.—The city council convened in regular session March 19, 1895, Mayor Hurley in the chair. Members present, Cook, Clodfelter, Percival, Strong and Walker. Absent: Finch. Minutes of previous meeting read and approved. Finance committee asked further time to report on bills submitted to them—granted. M. O. Potter's account against city referred to finance committee. Petition read asking that G street be opened up and improved. Said petition referred to street committee. Petition read and a resolution introduced asking the council to enforce ordinance No. 16. Moved and seconded that the resolution be adopted. The chair stated the question, when it was discussed at some length pro and con. The motion was then put to a vote and the resolution was lost. On motion the council adjourned.

Pianos and Organs.—The Wiley B. Allen Co. have brought a stock of pianos and organs to Independence, and have them on exhibition at Clodfelter Bros' book store. Mr. Frank Anrys, manager for the company at Salem, will be here for a week, and is prepared to give the most favorable prices and terms on these instruments, which must be sold within that time. The Wiley B. Allen Co. is the oldest and largest music house in the Northwest, and handle the Chickering, Hardman, Fischer, Jewett and other pianos, the Estey and other organs. Please bear in mind that you will be dealing with the company direct and can save agents and small dealers commission. Call and see some of the finest pianos made.

Rambler Agents.—Clodfelter Bros., have secured the agency for Rambler Bicycles in Independence. They are expecting samples soon and will no doubt take many orders as this is the only wheel that will cure the "bicycle fever."

DIED.

PUTNAM.—At the farm home near Eola, Monday night, March 18, 1895, Otis Putnam, aged 24 years.

Deceased was the brother of J. B. Putnam, the state librarian. His death resulted from a runaway accident received last fall which affected his lungs. The funeral will be held at farm at 2 p. m. today and interment will be beside his father there.—Statesman.

BANNISTER.—In Talmage Or., March 18, 1895, at 1 o'clock p. m., Mrs. Mabel B. Bannister, aged 24 years, 10 months and 28 days

The deceased was born in New York, April 20, 1870, and was married to L. R. Bannister at Valley Springs, South Dakota, March 20, 1890. She and her husband came to Oregon in 1892 and they have made Independence their home ever since. Mrs. Bannister was taken seriously ill with the pains of child birth Monday forenoon and in spite of prompt medical attention passed away in a few hours. The funeral was preached by Rev. J. R. Baldwin on Wednesday and the remains were laid to rest in the I. O. O. F. cemetery. The young husband has the sympathy of the community in his affliction.

State Treasurer Metchan has forwarded to the Monmouth Normal school $12,000 of the late appropriation. The money was deposited in the Polk County bank one day this week.

Mr. Buzzell, of South Dakota, arrived here Monday. He is the father of Mrs. D. R. Bannister, recently deceased, and had been notified of his daughter's precarious health. It was a sad affliction to him to find that his daughter had died only a few hours before his arrival.

The Capital Journal says: "The after deck of the Elmore was covered with gravel thrown up by her wheel while crossing Luckiamute bar, one mile above Buena Vista, Sunday evening, one of the stones weighing ten pounds. At the present stage of water this bar is the only difficult place for boats to cross between here and Portland.

There is increasing evidence that Oregon will have a large Eastern immigration this season. Hitherto the Puget Sound country has attracted the greater number of immigrants, but it is now becoming recognized in the states east of the Rockies that the Willamette valley affords better opportunities for successful investments than any other part of the Pacific coast. This valley has climate, soil and a thousand undeveloped resources in its favor.

Speaking of the recent legislature the Statesman says: A charter for the town of Dayton, Yamhill county, went through carrying a provision allowing women to vote, simply because the bill was a lengthy one and was never read, while a short amendment to the McMinnville charter for that purpose only was declared unconstitutional in the house and killed. No telling what endless litigation may be caused by the Dayton proviso.

Eleven Eugene teams loaded freight at the Oregon Pacific depot, Corvallis, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and left for home, says the Times. Two of the teams were four horse and the balance were two-horse. All told they hauled away 44,500 pounds of freight, an average of over two tons to the wagon. One of the four-horse teams hauled 6,000 and the other 5,000. Several of the two-horse teams hauled two tons each. Twenty-two tons of the freight was sugar from San Francisco. A carload of nails is still at the O. P. depot bound for Eugene. The importance of this item is magnified by the fact that the route traversed by the teams parallels a railroad.

It is a notorious fact that in almost every community there are a number of children who do not attend the public schools. This is especially true of all towns of 500 inhabitants and upward. The taxpayers of the state contribute their means to the support of these schools, and the state insists upon such taxation because it recognizes that education is the enemy of vice, and the shield of society. Parents do a great wrong to society and a greater injury to their children when they fail to improve the opportunities of education offered by the public schools. No child should be allowed to fall short of a good public school education. It is a crime to neglect the moral and intellectual training of children. The opportunities are offered without money and without price and all self respecting parents will take advantage of them.

Today's Statesman says: Mrs. Britt, of Dallas, unnderwent a severe surgical operation in this city yesterday. It was successfully performed and at last accounts was resting easy.

The wholesome rain showers of the past few days are very opportune as they will raise the river to a good boating stage and also enable the farmers to finish their spring plowing in good season.

Henry Grube, of Astoria, was accidently shot and instantly killed yesterday by a friend named Leopold Ganzenburger, while scuffling over a revolver. Grube was shot through the right side of the heart and expired instantly.

Miss Bessie Butler gave Misses Cora Fisher and Myrtle Miller a farewell party at the residence of her sister, Mrs. E. W. Cooper, last evening. Quite a number of mutual friends were present and a pleasant social time was enjoyed by all.

All competent teachers understand that the ethical culture of their pupils is of greater importance than purely intellectual instruction. It is practically useless to cultivate the intellect and neglect the moral faculties. Such an education warps the character of an individual, and while it may develop an intellectual giant it also creates a moral pigmy. This class of people do more harm than good in the world.

The delivery by the O. P. from Pioneer quarry of 10,000 tons of rock for the government work at Yaquina has been completed. In a short time another contract is to be let for the delivery of 20,000 tons to be dumped into the jetties at the entrance to the Yaquina harbor. The Oregon Pacific will probably be a bidder for the job, and the rock may be brought from the Cascades. The rock to be delivered will make 1,800 carloads.—Statesman.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
