The proprietors of this paper are always glad to extend favors in the way of publishing church notices and other local news of public interest, but all such matter must be in as early as Tuesday to guarantee publication, especially if it comes from points outside of the city.

W. W. Williams, had the misfortune, while assisting to place a marble monument in position at Soap Creek Cemetery Wednesday, to badly crush the first and second finger on his left hand. Wayne now carries a couple of heavily bandaged fingers, and says it is the worst hurt that he ever had.

Leviel Martin, a well-to-do Rickrell farmer, brought into this office a fine ripe cherry last Saturday. The fruit had a rich pink color, a tart taste and was of ordinary size. He says that it is from a seedling, which has been bearing for several years, and ripens about two weeks before any other variety comes into market. Mr. Martin thinks that careful grafting would develop this cherry into a very rich early variety.

A number of ladies of this city, who designate themselves as the "Peek Sisters," a name derived from the peaked hats they wear, gave an interesting entertainment at Rickrell on Monday evening of this week. Those who took part in the play were: Mesdames T. J. Lee, J. A. Venos, J. E. Kirkland, A. J. Goodman, F. E. Griffith, W. H. Patterson, Claire Irvine, Mrs. Kinney, Misses Daisy Graves and Bertha Fryer. Quite a large audience was present. The entertainment was given for the benefit of the Congregational church of this city. The receipts of the evening amounted to $12.

Pleasant Surprise—The friends of the Novello quartette were given a surprise and a reception at the manse on Monday evening. The occasion was enjoyable and well attended. Numerous gifts of canned fruit, sugar and tea were left in the manse, these appreciated by the recipients, Rev. and Mrs. Crawford.

The Christian Sunday school will render a program at the church Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, consisting of songs, recitations, etc. The event being "Children's day."

Novello at Portland—The Monmouth Novello quartette was one of the drawing cards at the big republican clubs convention held in Portland on the 22nd instant. We learn from persons who were present that the Novello made a fine impression on their Portland audience and were repeatedly encored. The Portland Sun of the 23 instant has this to say of their performance: "The business dallying beyond the time expected, the chairman asked the male quartet from Monmouth, Polk county, to entertain the assembly with a humorous song. The gentlemen responded with alacrity, and suiting their individual dispositions to various plantation melodies, found themselves obliged to return and sing for a third time before the large gathering would permit the delegates to resume their seats. The names of the gentlemen composing this quartet were Professor W. A. Gunn, who sang first tenor; Dr. H. C. Epley, second tenor; S. W. Dougherty, first bass; and J. F. Powell, second bass."

Memorial Services—Appropriate memorial services were held in the opera house last Sunday under the auspices of the G. A. R. post of this city. At the hour of 10:30 a.m. the members of General Gibson post and the W. R. C. met at Vandrun hall, and about 11 a.m. formed in procession on C street and marched in line to the opera house, where a large audience had gathered to witness the services with prayer, followed by an eloquent address by Rev. O. P. Whitmore. The speaker paid a glowing tribute to the nation's heroes who had faced the "iron hand of battle" in defense of the purity of the union. His address was replete with many eloquent thoughts and was listened to with rapt attention. Rev. A. R. Crawford made a few earnest remarks appropriate to the occasion. Commander J. L. Stockton addressed the members of the post with a few earnest words, and invited those who "some were the gray" to come forward and join in the services. It was a pleasant sight to see some half a dozen of our best citizens gallantly respond to the cordial invitation and join with the "boys who wore the blue" in doing honor to the occasion. The very best feeling prevailed and everyone went away realizing that they had spent a most profitable hour.
