Several little parties were formed Sunday and a day was spent in the woods across the river. There are some lovely retreats within a few miles of Independence, and our citizens should take advantage of them whenever opportunity presents itself.

Miss Marguerite Longacre, formerly of this city, sang "The Penitent," by Vandewaters, last Sunday, at the St. James' English Lutheran church, West Park and Jefferson streets.—Portland Telegram. Miss Longacre is a former Independence teacher and a native of Buena Vista. We frequently hear her spoken of in Eastern periodicals quite highly.

I. Connett, who lives a few miles north of town, brought to this office this week some grass, which he claims is far superior to any other for pasture, etc. He says he has never seen any of the same grass and that it was on his place thirty years ago when he came. He claims for it the best hay and the best pasture he knows. When left to its own course, it grows to a great height, samples of which he brought to us measuring over seven feet. He is anxious for dairymen to experiment with it.
