Will Die in Oregon.

M. H. Stonebrink, residing a short distance west of Salem, in Polk county, paid the capital city a visit recently.

Mr. Stonebrink came here eleven years ago from Kansas, and though he has only kind words for his former state, says he has no reason to regret coming to Oregon.

"This country," he said, "is all right. When a man arrives here if it happens to be in the winter he thinks it is never going to stop raining, and for a time wishes himself back East. But if he stays here one summer and becomes familiar with Oregon's delightful climate, eats some of her choicest fruit and breathes the fresh mountain air, he is then willing to settle down and make his home in Oregon for life. I am well satisfied with Oregon, for here there is no fear of cyclones or thunderstorms, and, so far as I am concerned, I do not mind the rain any more than I do sunshine."

Mr. Stonebrink is a farmer, and owns a farm not far from Salem, though at present he resides on the Harris farm, having leased his own.—Statesman.

Mr. Hampdon is a resident of Bucks county, Penn., and is a wealthy civil engineer and railroad promoter. He has been engaged in railroad construction in South America and has been traveling much of the past five years in Europe and other foreign countries. Mr. and Mrs. Hampdon will make their home in Omaha, Nebraska. Mrs. Hampdon is a well known lady of Polk county.

Falls City Leader

The excellent playing of the band at the installation Friday evening caused much favorable comment. An increase in harmony and in excellence of execution is telling surely for the better. Several changes in instruments have recently taken place, Frank Harris exchanging for the 2nd alto with Ralph Hall who takes the 2nd B flat cornet; Russell Davenport taking a B flat cornet lead instrument from A. J. Syron who takes the tuba from Ira Lowe, Mr. Lowe taking in its place the baritone horn given up by Mr. Davenport. With these shiftings and rearrangements Leader Pugh hopes to bring out a band second to none in the county.
